We pray especially for these who have been elected and entrusted with the responsibility of doing what is best for all of the citizens of this great state. Give to each of them wisdom to decide what is best and the courage to stand for what your spirit encourages them to believe is right and to do it. May they see clearly how what they vote for today can seriously impact generations of children who will come after them. Then, at the end of the day, may they feel they have acted with integrity and have been worthy of the trust invested in them. For your glory we offer our prayers. Amen.

HB 551 - POINT OF ORDER

Representative Talton raised a point of order against further consideration of HB 551 under Rule 8, Section 21(a) of the House Rules on the grounds that the general appropriations bill has not yet been certified by the comptroller.

The speaker sustained the point of order, and submitted the following statement:

Representative Talton raises a point of order against further consideration of HB 551 (by Representative Turner) on the grounds that the bill violates Rule 8, Section 21(a), House Rules. The chair finds that HB 551 is captured by Rule 8, Section 21(a) and thereby sustains the point of order.

This is not a new rule or restriction of legislative consideration of bills affecting the appropriations bill. While the chair could find no prior ruling regarding Rule 8, Section 21(a), it is clear that the rule has existed in some form since 1963 (then as a joint house and senate rule). In explaining the purpose of the rule, Joint Rule 9-a from the 58th Legislature (1963) stated:

This rule is intended to assure prior consideration and passage of the biennial appropriation bills required for the support of the several departments of the state government and shall be strictly adhered to, and no appropriation bill for any other purpose shall be considered until the biennial appropriations bills. . . have been passed by both houses.

An explanatory note from the 1983 House Rules indicates that this rule was strictly construed by speakers to "bar consideration of bills which appropriated, re-appropriated, or transferred funds until after the general appropriation bill has been passed. . . ." This history indicates that rule was designed to prevent premature consideration of bills that would "directly or indirectly" divert state money to a particular purpose that would otherwise be available to fund state government generally.

The chair notes that the intent of the rule is not to presumptively delay the consideration of every bill simply because it has a fiscal note. In fact, much of that legislation will eventually be funded in the appropriations bill should the legislature choose to do so. Rather, the rule is intended to impact only the narrow class of bills that could preempt the appropriations bill by moving funds outside of the treasury (as is the case with HB 551) or by making a specific or dedicated appropriation in a bill other than in a supplemental or general appropriations bill. This, in effect, is why the rule prohibits consideration of those bills "during the first 118 days of the session."

HB 551 takes money out of general revenue that has been used, at least in part, to fund state government generally and diverts it to a trust fund outside of the state treasury. As the author of the bill has indicated, the purpose of the bill is to prevent money generated by the system benefit fund from being "swept" into general revenue or used for any other government purpose. (The chair notes that such an act has the additional effect of taking funds away from certification of the general appropriations bill). The purpose that HB 551 seeks to achieve is exactly what the rule is intended to prevent.

Like its 1963 and 1983 predecessors, Rule 8, Section 21(a) is a harsh rule. Regretfully, the chair can find no exception under Rule 8, Section 21(a) that would give relief to HB 551. The result of the rule is that a bill that violates Rule 8, Section 21(a) and that is not otherwise exempt from the rule would be in order no earlier than May 7, 2007. Because of the harshness of the rule and in order to ensure that each bill receives due consideration by the house, the chair believes that each bill that is the subject of a point of order under Rule 8, Section 21(a) must be substantively analyzed by the terms of its own language. Accordingly, the point of order is well-taken and sustained.

HB 551 was returned to the Committee on Regulated Industries.
