Holy God, we pray this day for all your children: for those who serve on our behalf in the midst of peril in Iraq and Afghanistan and other places in the world, make us mindful of our debt to them; for those who are struggling to secure a future for their families, may we encourage and walk with them; for those who are victims of violence, may they may find peace and healing.

You have created all your children. May we seek to see each person as you, our creator sees—as a person of dignity and worth. May we utilize the abundant and diverse resources of people, ideas, land, passion, and courage that exist in Texas to create greater opportunities and a better future for all Texans.

We, the people of Texas, are grateful for those who willingly serve as legislators and act on our behalf. We are grateful for the staff who support their work. For all who serve to make Texas a better place for all people, we give you thanks.

As the morning begins, and the work of the Texas Legislature is transacted, differences may arise. May civility and integrity guide the proceedings and transactions so that at the end of our work together, we will be able to say that what transpired here reflected your vision for your people. Amen.
