HB 345 ON THIRD READING
(by Flynn)

HB 345, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to the collateralization of certain public funds; providing administrative penalties.

HB 345 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE AYCOCK: Representative Flynn, I believe there's an amendment that's been added to this that carves out the counties from this bill. Is that correct?

REPRESENTATIVE FLYNN: That's correct. It was done on second reading.

AYCOCK: Could you please tell me the types of entities that would still be pooling these assets together and these collateralization pools?

FLYNN: I don't understand your question.

AYCOCK: Could you please tell me the types of entities that would still have their assets pooled?

FLYNN: We still have our school districts, water districts, and cities—any public funds other than the counties because they asked to be opted out.

AYCOCK: And the counties requested to be carved out of this bill, basically?

FLYNN: That's correct.

AYCOCK: The collateralization of these entities is presently done, I believe, by mostly community based banks. Is that a correct understanding?

FLYNN: What they do is they have contracts. The public entities have a contract with the individual banks, so they have an individual bank, and sometimes the collateral can be held by a federal reserve bank, or can be held by other banks. Does that answer your question?

AYCOCK: Yes, thank you. On page 1, line 19 of your bill, it refers to single participating institutions deposits. That's basically the mode that we're in under present law, is that correct?

FLYNN: That's correct.

AYCOCK: But then on lines 20 and 21, it refers to one or more collateral pools with centralized collateralization, and by two or more identifiable participating institutions.

FLYNN: It says, "may", it says "may." That would be an option.

AYCOCK: Okay, but it would set up situations where more than one entity, i.e., hospital districts, down to a city, could put their assets in that pool.

FLYNN: Only if that's what they choose. This bill does not require that at all.

AYCOCK: Okay, and that pool could have pledges from more than one bank. Is that a correct understanding?

FLYNN: It says that they may, but that's not the procedure that's set up, and the pool is going to be held for each bank, and each bank and each public entity has their own contract with their financial institution.

AYCOCK: Okay, let me set up a hypothetical. If three banks, A, B, and C, put collateral into that pool, and if that collateral was all pooled in one place, and bank C has a problem. Does that reflect negatively on the securities that are pledged—

FLYNN: No, not at all. It's the same thing. If you walk into your local bank, do you expect to find a box with your name on it and all of your money there? This is the same thing. Well, some do, but what we're doing is trying to move to the electronic age. We're trying to take advantage of issues that are available for us, and you will have a contract—the public entities—would have a contract with their banks—whatever their contract would be—and then that bank would have a pool of their collateral to be shared with those other public entities, but it's just their bank. The comptroller would keep track of those, the comptroller would be giving them a periodical report.

AYCOCK: So, how does that create a cross collateralization in that situation then? If banks A and B are not responsible if bank C has a problem, and its negative findings reflect on that pool, does that—

FLYNN: I don't understand your question because each bank is going to have their own contracts with their public entity and those securities are going to be held at the comptroller's, or at the federal reserve.

AYCOCK: These banks' collateral would be held separately and that bank would be held accountable only for that?

FLYNN: That's correct. Bank A would not share their collateral with bank B unless they choose to do an agreement like that.

AYCOCK: So a failure on bank C would not reflect negatively on bank A or B.

FLYNN: Not at all, not at all.

HB 3298 ON THIRD READING
(by Callegari and Flynn)

HB 3298, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to exempting municipalities and special districts from certain unfunded state mandates.

HB 3298 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE HERRERO: Representative Callegari, yesterday there was an amendment that was added by Representative Puente, is that correct?

REPRESENTATIVE CALLEGARI: Yes.

HERRERO: And that amendment stripped Section 2 of HB 3298, is that correct?

CALLEGARI: That's correct.

HERRERO: So the only provisions that exist, then, are under Section 1 of HB 3298, is that correct?

CALLEGARI: Yes.

HERRERO: Do you intend to ensure that when the bill goes to the senate, that Section 2 is not added to the bill?

CALLEGARI: I can't control what happens in the senate.

HERRERO: Right, I understand about whether we control things or not in the senate, but my question to you, then, is specifically, is your effort, then, going to be to ensure that the bill as we—

CALLEGARI: I'm not going to say that, I don't know.

HERRERO: So is it that you—

CALLEGARI: I don't know what I'm going to do.

HERRERO: Okay. On that rationale, then, as the bill currently stands right now, HB 3298 deals with only one section. That is that municipalities and special districts no longer would have to accommodate persons with disabilities in accessing voting places. Is that correct?

CALLEGARI: Yes, it really addresses particularly a problem that smaller communities have, where the cost of providing the voting machines is extremely expensive.

HERRERO: Right, but whether we're talking about large municipalities or small communities, as your intention is, the point of this bill is so that small municipalities, then, would not have to make accommodations to persons with disabilities to access polling places. Is that correct?

CALLEGARI: It's not intended to limit access, it's intended to help the cities who have extremely high expenses. There is no intention to try to limit the ability of anyone to vote, and I would anticipate that most communities would do whatever they can to make sure that those people with disabilities do vote, and I would certainly expect, and would want them, to do that.

HERRERO: Right. So the intent of the bill is not to somehow limit or restrict persons with disabilities to have the opportunity to vote or to have access to the voting places?

CALLEGARI: That's correct. It's not to restrict anyone. I didn't intend it to restrict anyone.

HB 3828 ON THIRD READING
(by Morrison)

HB 3828, A bill to be entitled An Act relating to performance incentive funding for institutions of higher education.

HB 3828 was read third time earlier today and was postponed until this time.

Amendment No. 1

Representatives Herrero, Morrison, and Coleman offered the following amendment to HB 3828:

Amend HB 3828 (second reading engrossment) as follows:

(1) On page 2, strike the sentence that begins on line 15.

(2) On page 11, line 1, between "appropriate" and the period, insert "relating to the participation goals in Closing the Gaps, the state's master plan for higher education".

(3) On page 11, between lines 1 and 2, by inserting the following:

(d-1) A student's performance on a standardized test may not be required for graduation from an institution of higher education, used as a measure of an institution's accountability, or used as an indicator or criterion under this section.

AMENDMENT NO. 1 - STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

REPRESENTATIVE HERRERO: Representative Coleman, I want to thank you, and obviously Chairwoman Morrison, for working out an amendment that would hopefully accomplish the purpose and goal of this bill. So I want to thank you, first of all. I just want to go over and try to establish intent of your amendment, and obviously, the intent of the bill. The first part of your amendment, essentially, wants to ensure that we have what are already identified critical fields, to make sure that we keep those as critical fields before we—and not create new critical fields—and those existing critical fields are engineering, computer science, mathematics, physical science, allied health, nursing, teaching certification in the field of science and mathematics. Is that correct?

REPRESENTATIVE COLEMAN: That's correct.

HERRERO: Okay, and another part of the amendment deals with the, further clarifies what the board may consider with respect to indicators to measure the quality of degree or certificates. Is that correct?

COLEMAN: That's correct.

HERRERO: And with respect to that, it further clarifies that the board's discretion would be, other factors to be considered would be those that are appropriate as they relate to the participation goals and closing the gaps in the state's master plan for higher education. That is to ensure that there is continued diversity, and obviously performance. Is that correct?

COLEMAN: That's correct.

HERRERO: Then also, with respect to making sure, the last portion of your amendment is to ensure that no new standardized tests are created. Is that correct?

COLEMAN: That's correct.

HERRERO: But it also further clarifies that any existing standardized tests would not be used for the requirement for graduation. Is that correct?

COLEMAN: That's correct.

HERRERO: And then also that any existing standardized tests would not also be used for measuring of an institution's accountability. Is that correct?

COLEMAN: That's correct.

HERRERO: And any new or existing standardized tests would not also be used as an indicator or criterium under this section for accountability or any other measures listed within your amendment. Is that correct?

COLEMAN: That's correct.
