Absent, Excused — Larry; McCollough; Willis.

The invocation was offered by Reverend Matt Idom, pastor, DeKalb First United Methodist Church, DeKalb, Texas, as follows:

Our gracious and heavenly father, I pray on behalf of these men and women who are charged with the task of serving others through their roles in the political arena and the democratic process. Each have made sacrifices of time and energy, livelihood and family to be here. I pray that they will meet patience and support from their districts as they seek answers and solutions to complex problems.

Lift them from the stereotype of the politician and let them be seen for their individual worth. Grant them wisdom and tenacity, an almost single-minded purpose, as they work for the good of Texas and Texans. Grant them the compassion for all of your children. Help them to see the places of suffering and loneliness. Help them to hear the cries of anger and frustration not as personal assaults, but rather as cries for understanding, pleas for compassion, and prayers of hope. Lord, each of them has dreams and ambitions; each has loves and convictions. Speak to their hearts. In their moments of both dreaming and doubting, reassure them of your love for them and through the power of your holy spirit, heal that which is broken in their lives; challenge that which is forgotten; rejoice in their victories; forgive in their failures; and love them through their doubts.

Lord, in the measure of hands that created a place as beautiful and powerful as our beloved Texas, I pray that each person and family represented here will know the love of God, the grace of Jesus Christ and the fellowship of the holy spirit, Amen.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE GRANTED

The following member was granted leave of absence for today because of a death in the family:
