SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 57

Senator Moncrief offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, Texas has become world famous for its many dinosaur discoveries and for many of its unique dinosaur specimens such as the Pleurocoelus; and

WHEREAS, When the sea submerged the Antlers and the Paluxy formations, it put an end to dinosaurs in this region of the earth known as Texas for nearly five million years, approximately 105 to 100 million years ago; and

WHEREAS, There was an interruption in North America's geographic history caused by the expansion of the sea 100 million years ago, creating the Western Interior Sea Way which joined the Gulf of Mexico with the Arctic Ocean, thereby essentially splitting North America into two halves and remaining that way until very near the end of the Age of Dinosaurs, about 66 million years ago; and

WHEREAS, Several formations were laid down in Central Texas during that interval of marine time, fossilizing the remains of the 65 to 70 foot creature known as Pleurocoelus; and

WHEREAS, Today the footprints of Pleurocoelus created so long ago are visible once more, as featured in the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History's exhibition, Lone Star Dinosaurs; and

WHEREAS, Sauropods, specifically the species Pleurocoelus, inhabited the earth approximately 200 to 65 million years ago, then died out, leaving the footprints and bones in rock as young as 105 million years old, preserving this creature's prevalence in and across the State of Texas, causing the trackway left in Glen Rose, and making this site world famous; and

WHEREAS, All Pleurocoelus disappeared from North America for 35 to 40 million years, then reappeared, returning to what is referred to as the second dinosaur world in the heart of Texas; and

WHEREAS, Brachiosaur tracks are clearly the footprints of the species Pleurocoelus; they are responsible for not only the tracks in the Glen Rose region but those scattered across Texas; and

WHEREAS, Because the Pleurocoelus tracks and bone are found mainly in Texas and a small portion of Southeastern New Mexico, this species and its remains are the last major grouping of the Pleurocoelus, are indigenous to Texas, and are world famous; and

WHEREAS, The important locality referred to as the Jones site excavation of the Pleurocoelus is the biggest dinosaur project undertaken in the State of Texas led by the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History; and

WHEREAS, These discoveries combined with the leadership of the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History in the field of dinosaur research make the Pleurocoelus an ideal candidate to be the Lone Star State Dinosaur; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the 75th Legislature of the State of Texas hereby name the Brachiosaur Sauropod, Pleurocoelus, the official Lone Star State Dinosaur.

The resolution was read.

On motion of Senator Moncrief and by unanimous consent, the resolution was considered immediately and was adopted by a viva voce vote.

(President in Chair)

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 40

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of Texas proudly pays tribute to the members of the Texas Federation of Republican Women for their exceptional efforts on behalf of the candidates of the Republican Party; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Texas Federation of Republican Women have provided a political education forum for women and have volunteered countless hours to the campaigns of Republican Party candidates; and

WHEREAS, The dedication, hard work, and perseverance of these remarkable women helped ensure the election of their candidates to city, county, state, and national offices; and

WHEREAS, Their outstanding accomplishments have increased the political awareness and effectiveness of thousands of women by persuading them that their participation in the political process is important and makes a difference; and

WHEREAS, Organized 19 years after the formation of the National Federation of Republican Women in 1938, the Texas Federation of Republican Women is widely recognized as one of the largest women's political organizations in Texas; and

WHEREAS, Under the able guidance of its leaders, the Texas Federation of Republican Women will continue to assure a leadership role for women in the Republican Party; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That the 75th Legislature of the State of Texas hereby recognize the members of the Texas Federation of Republican women and commend them for their outstanding accomplishments; and, be it further
