The invocation was offered by Reverend Michael Glaspie, Sr., minister of education, Mount Olive Baptist Church, Arlington, as follows:

Heavenly Father, we come before you this morning recognizing our limitations and your boundlessness. Accordingly, we approach you in humility and thanksgiving. We are humbled because of the great task that stands before this elected body. They have been chosen to represent the collective needs of the citizens of Texas. We are thankful this group has the desire and commitment to take on such a task. In addition, we are thankful that they are equipped with the knowledge and experience to perform this public trust.

Father, we pray that you would give them divine wisdom to sort through the maze of options and develop a consensus to benefit all Texans from the eldest to the youngest. Let them not be pressured by or submit to the will of special interests but submit to the needs of our special state. Give them the resources and information necessary to see a clear picture of the issues. Then allow our legislators to carve out a foundation for prosperity that provides support for everyone today while setting in place the elements to provide a prosperous tomorrow for future generations.

Finally, we close by thanking you for the rich history and tradition you have allowed our state. We are a state that has been endowed with an incomparable legacy. We pray our leaders of today will stand on the shoulders of our great leaders of yesterday. This will elevate their view and help them see beyond the immediate. And, with this view, let them grasp a united vision for our future that builds on our great past.

In conclusion, Father, thank you once again for this august body that has been elected by the people of Texas to speak for them. Let every voice be heard and let every decision be reflective of their public trust. In your son's name we submit this petition. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Patrick who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.
