House Concurrent Resolution 26

The President laid before the Senate the following resolution, received from the House today:

H. C. R. No. 26, Designating the 19th day of February as Texas Statehood Day.

Whereas, The 19th day of February, 1846, will be the 95th anniversary of the voluntary surrender of its national sovereignty by the Republic of Texas to that of the United States of America, an Act previously authorized by the official approval of the two respective governments and by the votes of the people of Texas, unique and without precedent in world history; and

Whereas, On that date in the year 1846, in the presence of Representatives and Senators seated on the gallery east of the Capitol building in Austin, with hundreds of other citizens in attendance, Anson Jones—the last President of the Republic—read his valedictory, declaring "The first act in the great drama is now performed. The Republic of Texas is no more"; to which message the incoming Governor J. Pinckney Henderson then replied: "We have this day fully entered the Union of the North American States—let us give our friends who so boldly and nobly advocated our cause and the friends of American Liberty, no reason to regret their efforts in our behalf"; and
Whereas, When the final sentence fell from the lips of the first Governor, in a solemn hush of stifled emotions of sadness and joy the beloved Lone Star flag of Texas was furled and lowered from the southern gable of the Capitol and while the boom of artillery sounded the annexation of Texas as the twenty-eighth state to enter the American Union, the glorious banner of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Andrew Jackson was officially raised for the first time under Texas skies and the Stars and Stripes became the National flag of Texas; and

Whereas, The incidents and events here culminating on that sacred occasion changed the course of American History ultimately leading to the westward extension of our national boundaries from Texas to the Pacific Ocean; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Forty-seventh Legislature of the State of Texas, the House and Senate concurring, That the 19th day of February should be and the same is hereby officially designated as Texas Statehood Day; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Governor be respectfully requested to issue a proclamation each year to the people of Texas, calling to their attention their twice-glorious heritage which has been bequeathed to them, bathed in the tears and bought with the blood of liberty-loving, God-fearing, courageous pioneers; urging them to be ever mindful that in peace as well as in war the price of liberty is eternal vigilence; and to rededicate themselves unselfishly to their State and Nation keeping alive those patriotic sentiments and noble ideals that are inspired and fostered by an understanding and appreciation of the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship in the greatest nation of all time—a democracy where all men are free and equal.

The resolution was read and was referred to the Committee on State Affairs.

Be It Further Resolved, That the action of the Highway Commission in its statement of policy with reference to the use of State funds to match federal aid on the strategic military network be approved, the Legislature of Texas recognizing the dire emergency facing the Nation; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Congress of the United States be respectfully requested to give careful and deliberate consideration to the need for emergency appropriations to speed the construction of roads on the strategic military network, said funds to be appropriated from the excess in the amount of taxes collected by the Federal Government from road users over and above the amount of federal highway aid now being returned to the states; and

Be It Further Resolved, That the Congress be respectfully requested to make such appropriations as may be necessary from emergency national defense funds for the construction of roads designed for the exclusive use of the military forces; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and to the members of the Texas Congressional delegation.

Senator Lovelady offered the following amendment to the resolution:
