Adjournment

Senator Lovelady moved that the Senate adjourn until 10:00 o’clock a. m. Monday, March 31, 1941.

The motion prevailed; and the Senate, accordingly, at 12:50 o’clock, p. m., adjourned until 10:00 o’clock a. m. Monday, March 31, 1941.
In Memory of

Hon. W. P. Sebastian

Senator Smith offered the following resolution:

(Senate Resolution 76)

Whereas, On Thursday, March 27th, the Honorable W. P. Sebastian, one of the outstanding citizens of Texas and a former distinguished member of this body died in the City of Fort Worth, Texas; and

Whereas, W. P. Sebastian served in the House of Representatives in the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Legislatures during the administrations of Governor Hogg, and in the Senate in the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Legislatures in the administrations of Governor Sayers and Lanham; and

Whereas, During this long period of legislative activity he rendered conspicuous service as a law maker, having to do with much of the important legislation of his time; and

Whereas, For many years he was active in the councils of his party in both State and National affairs; and

Whereas, He was a humanitarian of the old school and a public servant whose reward was the good he did rather than any preference or material considerations. The natural understanding Senator Sebastian had of his fellow men, his instant sympathy, with those in distress, and the integrity of his private and public life established him as a leader among those who knew him. His judgment was sound, no colleague ever had occasion to ever question his word. He represented his trust with utmost honor; it was not his nature to take advantage of an adversary; not to use his abilities to oppress or destroy. On the contrary he guided his affairs by the rules of conscience and equity, and he could stand before mankind without fear. Senator Sebastian's work is not done so long as we recall his devotion to his family and home, his loyalty to his friends, the wisdom of his advice and the moral honesty of his name and character, his influence will be felt, and we are, and will be better for the privilege of having known him. Indeed, he has lifted the veil and is walking unafraid in the unknown; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the relatives and friends and those others who suffer in this, their great and irreparable grief and express for them a consolation in that religious faith that Senator Sebastian followed and exemplified throughout his life; and, be it further

Resolved, That when the Senate adjourns today that it do so in respect to and in memory of the Honorable W. P. Sebastian, and that the Secretary of the Senate send to the family of the deceased a copy of this resolution under the seal of the Senate of Texas.

The resolution was read and was adopted unanimously.
