In Memory of

John W. Runyon

Senator Parkhouse offered the following resolution:

(Senate Concurrent Resolution 5)

Whereas, in the passing of John W. Runyon on Friday, January 20, 1967, the City of Dallas and all of Texas lost an outstanding citizen and one of the foremost newspaper publishers in the United States; and

Whereas, he was 79 at the time of his death and until a very few weeks ago had been an active, nine-hour-a-day force on the Dallas Times Herald and KRLD broadcasting facilities which he headed; and

Whereas, John W. Runyon rose from boy clerk to Chairman of the Board of The Times Herald Printing Company and Publisher of The Times Herald during 55 years of service, and in the true tradition of American opportunity he was a real-life Horatio Alger hero; and

Whereas, His first job on The Times Herald was that of display advertising collector, and a year later he became one of the newspaper's two advertising solicitors; and

Whereas, By the end of World War I, he was advertising manager, a post he held for 25 years until he was named vice-president of the firm on the death of his long-time friend, founder-publisher Edwin J. Kiest in 1941; and

Whereas, With the passing of Tom C. Gooch in 1952, he assumed the presidency and was voted chairman of the board of directors and publisher in 1950; and

Whereas, Beginning in 1943, he doubled as advertising manager of The Times Herald and president of KRLD, and two years later was elevated to the position of Chairman of the Board of KRLD, which was the Times Herald station and a CBS affiliate; and

Whereas, He often recalled with humor the early years of the radio station, when all broadcasts were live, studio-originated, and instead of records "... you had to rely on local talent for entertainment"; and

Whereas, Dallas was his adopted city, as he was born in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on March 28, 1887, but came to Dallas in 1906, then began the dedication of the 61 years of his life to Dallas, The Times Herald, KRLD, Texas—and his friends; and

Whereas, During his entire career, from clerk to the chief executive of The Times Herald and KRLD, he always presented to his employees and associates a true spirit of camaraderie, so that nearly everybody felt free to call him "Johnny", and did so; and

Whereas, To John Runyon, work was life, and he took no time for hobbies but kept a constant interest in the progress of The Times Herald, KRLD, and the many civic organizations in which he participated; and

Whereas, Religion formed an integral part of his life; he was a member of the Erway Street Methodist Church and its successor, the Schreiber Memorial Methodist Church, and his civic activities were multiple: in addition to his Masonic work—he was a 33rd degree Mason and Past Master of the Washington Masonic Lodge—he was a director of the State Fair of Texas, the Dallas Grand Opera Association, the Downtown Improvement and Property Owners Association, the Trinity River Navigation Association, the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation, the Southwest Medical Foundation and the Texas Research Foundation at Renner; he was also a member of the state committee of the Texas Crusade for Freedom, and, in 1957, Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark appointed him to a special "Law and Layman" committee of the American Bar Association; and

Whereas, As vice-president of Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas, he had intense interest in afflicted youngsters, and at his death flags were flown at half-staff at the hospital, the Scottish Rite Temple and The Dallas Times Herald; and

Whereas, He was one of the few men in American communications who served both as president of a newspaper and a broadcasting station; he was largely responsible for the 1958 multimillion-dollar expansion program for The Times Herald which gave Dallas one of the largest and most modern newspaper plants in the nation; and

Whereas, He was also instrumental in bringing about the expansion program now under way at The Times Herald, which is designed to give that newspaper new pressroom and mail-room facilities; and

Whereas, Many in Dallas mourn and miss this tireless and dedicated citizen and public leader, and, on being notified of his death, James F. Chambers, Jr., president of The Times Herald, said: "He was a quiet philanthropist who gave without fanfare. He liked to help individuals—and in unexpected ways. He would stop by the desk of an employee and press bills into his or her hand to make a much-needed vacation possible"; and about his civic responsibilities: "Mr. Runyon was a persuasive man and he worked quietly behind the scenes for the good of Dallas. It was he who got the late R. L. Thornton to run for mayor by convincing him that the city needed his leadership in that post"; and

Whereas, Clyde W. Rembert, president of KRLD, said: "He believed in, and valued, loyalty very highly. He had great confidence in his fellow workers. He was my good friend and I will miss him"; and

Whereas, The Texas Legislature wishes to pay tribute to this outstanding philanthropist, business and civic leader, who will be so greatly missed by the members of his family, his many friends, business and civic associates, and fellow Masons; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the 60th Legislature, the House of Representatives concurring, That by this Resolution the Texas Legislature pays respect to the memory of John W. Runyon and extends sympathy to his family; and, be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be prepared for the members of his family: his wife, the former Grace Dowd; his son, John W. Runyon, Jr.; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Joan Runyon Still, all of Dallas; and that when the Houses of the Legislature adjourn this day that they do so in memory of John W. Runyon.
