FOREWORD

The Summary of Enactments of the 70th Legislature provides synopses of all bills enacted during the 1987 regular session and 1st and 2nd called sessions. Summaries of joint resolutions passed by the legislature, proposing amendments to the Texas Constitution, are also included.

This publication is intended to be a convenient reference for the main features of enacted measures within particular subject areas. A summary of an act should not be considered a comprehensive or legal analysis or used as a source of authority for legal interpretation. A person should examine the enrolled copy of any piece of legislation to obtain a fuller understanding of its application and implications.

Copies of enrolled bills and resolutions from the 70th Legislature may be obtained from house and senate document distribution offices until November 1988 when bill prefiling will begin for the 71st Legislature. House measures are available from the House Document Distribution Office, located in room 500 in the John H. Reagan State Office Building (P.O. Box 12128, Austin, Texas 78711; phone (512) 463-1155). Senate measures are available from the Senate Document Distribution Office, located in the Trinity Building at the corner of East 14th Street and Trinity Street (P.O. Box 12086, Austin, Texas 78711; phone (512) 463-0252). The charge for copies is 15 cents per page.

INTRODUCTION

The Regular Session of the 70th Legislature of the State of Texas convened on January 13, 1987, and adjourned sine die on June 1, 1987. During this 140-day period, legislators passed and sent to the governor a total of 1,185 bills out of 4,179 that were filed. Both figures set new records, surpassing previous highs established in 1983 and 1985. The table below shows the general upward trend in bill activity for the last five regular sessions.

The legislature in its regular session also considered 171 joint resolutions proposing amendments to the Texas Constitution. Of these, 23 passed and were submitted for consideration by Texas voters in the 1987 and 1988 November elections.

Two called sessions held in June and July supplemented these numbers, adding 84 bills and four joint resolutions to the list of measures passed in 1987. Governor Clements vetoed 51 bills, and Texas voters defeated eight of the constitutional proposals, in turn nullifying a 52nd bill that was contingent on the approval of an associated constitutional amendment.

Casualties among the issues on the 1987 ballot included proposals relating to:

1. state bond issuances for local public facilities (Senate Joint Resolution 55 and portions of House Bill 4);

2. state bond issuances for development of Texas products and businesses (House Joint Resolution 4 and portions of House Bill 4 and House Bill 49, the last from the 2nd Called Session);

3. state and local lending of credit for urban turnpike projects (House Joint Resolution 65);

4. property tax exemption (the "freeport exemption") of tangible personal property temporarily located in the state (one of two amendments proposed by Senate Joint Resolution 12);

5. a local-option increase in the property tax rate ceiling for rural fire prevention districts (House Joint Resolution 60 and House Bill 53, the latter from the 2nd Called Session);

6. the uncompensated performance of work by one county for another county (House Joint Resolution 83);

7. membership by the speaker of the house of representatives in an agency or on a committee within the executive branch (Senate Joint Resolution 17); and

8. the elimination of certain salary-related restrictions on legislators contemplating other electoral office (Senate Joint Resolution 9).

Deferred until 1988 were constitutional amendments relating to the creation of an economic stabilization ("rainy day") fund (House Joint Resolution 2), the creation of a Texas growth fund (House Joint Resolution 5, 2nd Called Session), and the dedication of federal highway reimbursements to right-of-way acquisition and road construction (Senate Joint Resolution 8, 2nd Called Session). The table below summarizes the disposition of legislation passed during the regular and two called sessions.

* Senate Joint Resolution 12 proposed two amendments but is counted only once for purposes of the second column. One of the two was defeated; that action is reflected in the fourth column.

Tort reform, which had been the subject of a two-year study by a joint legislative interim committee, remained an unsettled issue at the end of the regular session. A compromise was within close reach, however, and the legislature reconvened on June 2 and 3 to dispose of the matter in a brief 1st Called Session. Senate Bill 2 and Senate Bill 5 from that session, dealing with insurance and civil procedures, respectively, were the major bills in the tort reform package. They were supplemented, however, by four other special session bills (Senate Bill 6 through Senate Bill 9) and by Senate Bill 202 from the regular session.

Unresolved until the summer was a more difficult issue, the state budget, the balancing of which was complicated by an economic downturn and a consequent decline in projected state revenue. The legislature met in 2nd Called Session from June 22 to July 21, ultimately producing a $38.1 billion general appropriations act (Senate Bill 1) after line-item cuts by the governor. An important related measure from that session was House Bill 7, the "budget execution" bill, establishing procedures for appropriations adjustments during the legislative interim.

To pay for the state’s biennial budget, the 2nd Called Session approved House Bill 62, providing for a permanent motor fuels tax increase, and House Bill 61, raising the state sales tax to six percent and increasing certain other fees and taxes. Simultaneously, however, Senate Bill 58 from that session limited the combined sales tax, state plus local, to eight percent. Enactments from the regular session, meanwhile, aimed at tax reform generally. Legislators revised "truth-in-taxation" laws applicable to local property taxation (House Bill 1866) and created a four-year Select Committee on Tax Equity (House Bill 2) to examine Texans' overall tax burden and means to distribute that burden more fairly.

The legislature also sought measures to bolster the state's economy. The result was a package of eight proposed constitutional amendments known as the "Build Texas" program. Half of these amendments, items (1) through (4) in the list of 1987 ballot casualties above, failed. Four others were adopted, though, including the removal of restrictions on public loans and grants for economic development purposes (House Joint Resolution 5), the authorization of $500 million in bonds relating to the superconducting super collider for which Texas is a candidate, (House Joint Resolution 88), the authorization of an additional $400 million in water bonds (Senate Joint Resolution 54), and the authorization of $500 million in bonds for prison, youth corrections, and mental health and mental retardation (MHRM) facilities (Senate Joint Resolution 56).

The last of these bond authorizations was considered crucial because of federal court orders binding on the state's corrections and MHRM facilities. Early in the regular session, legislators enacted Senate Bill 215, an emergency measure coupling $20.5 million in appropriations with provisions to relieve prison overcrowding through changes in parole and release policies. A similar intent spawned House Bill 680, which established an annual review of "good conduct time" awards and inmate classification standards applicable to sentence reductions. Other significant legislation in this area included Senate Bill 251, the prison "privatization" bill, which authorized the Texas Department of Corrections (TDC) to contract with private vendors for the establishment and operation of minimum security facilities, and House Bill 682, governing transfers of violent offenders at age 18 to the TDC from the Texas Youth Commission. Both agencies underwent sunset review in 1987 (Senate Bill 245 and Senate Bill 33, respectively), as did several other criminal justice agencies (Senate Bill 341, House Bill 83, and Senate Bill 17) and the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation (Senate Bill 257). The latter received also an 8.9 percent spending increase via the general appropriations act, largely for improvements to assist in compliance with the federal court orders affecting it.

Aside from its passage of the Build Texas package mentioned earlier, the 70th Legislature established a five-member bond review board of major state officials to approve individual bond issuances (Senate Bill 1027). Also, it created two new business-related governmental entities, consolidating several agencies into the Texas Department of Commerce (House Bill 4) and establishing the Texas Strategic Economic Development Commission (House Bill 5). Finally, to promote Texas' competitive technological standing, legislators founded the Texas Center for Superconductivity at the University of Houston in an attempt to extend the scientific advances made there in the past year by Dr. Paul Chu and his colleagues.

Other major legislation of interest to the business sector included three deregulatory bills. Senate Bill 95 partially deregulated intrastate trucking rates, Senate Bill 444 granted greater competitive flexibility to local exchange telephone companies, and Senate Bill 229 aimed toward potential deregulation of AT&T in long-distance service markets where that company is no longer dominant.

Education reform, which has been a major topic at least since the 68th Legislature because of its linkage to the issue of economic development, continued to be a focus in 1987. Receiving the most publicity was the November referendum on the State Board of Education (Senate Bill 86, 2nd Called Session), by which voters chose to discontinue the appointed board and to return to an elected one. In other legislation relating to public schools, teachers were affected by Senate Bill 335 eliminating subject-area testing and by House Bill 2623 modifying retirement benefits and contributions. Prospective teachers were affected by Senate Bill 994, which requires a college or university academic major other than education to gain certification, beginning September 1991. As for higher education, House Bill 2181 adopted many of the recommendations advanced by the interim Select Committee on Higher Education, and House Bill 2182 provided for a basic skills test to be administered to incoming freshmen to determine those needing assistance to perform college-level work. Senate Bill 784 changed the name of North Texas State University to the University of North Texas.

The death of a fraternity pledge at The University of Texas at Austin led to passage of Senate Bill 24, the "anti-hazing" bill. Reverberations from the suspension of the Southern Methodist University football program, meanwhile, produced Senate Bill 643 enabling an institution of higher education to sue boosters or other persons who violate rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). Collegiate sports were also affected, directly or indirectly, by legislation regulating athletic agents (Senate Bill 20, 2nd Called Session) and prohibiting nonmedical use of anabolic steroids (Senate Bill 1035).

Drug and alcohol abuse was the topic of three other noteworthy bills. The "open container" law (Senate Bill 521) targeted drinking drivers, and the "dram shop" law (House Bill 1652) placed new legal liabilities on bars and restaurants that serve alcohol. House Bill 685 established criminal penalties for controlled-substance analogues, commonly referred to as "designer drugs."

Criminal justice legislation included a proposed constitutional amendment and enabling legislation (Senate Joint Resolution 34 and Senate Bill 762) to allow the State of Texas as prosecutor to appeal certain types of judicial decisions favorable to criminal defendants. Also, House Bill 23 enacted amendments to the state's speedy trial act, and House Bill 684 provided for a single trial covering multiple criminal offenses committed together.

House Bill 161, the spousal rape law, eliminated exemptions in the aggravated sexual assault statute previously applicable to a victim's spouse. Marital relations were affected also by Senate Bill 893, the Uniform Premarital Agreement Act, and parental prerogatives were affected by House Bill 410 prohibiting a doctor from performing a third trimester abortion except under certain circumstances including maternal health dangers associated with the continuation of a pregnancy.

Other legislation of interest to physicians and hospitals included House Bill 2560, relating to medical peer review, and House Bill 344, amending the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act. The main health enactments of the 70th Legislature, however, dealt with AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome). House Bill 1829 added AIDS provisions to the Communicable Disease Prevention Act, while Senate Bill 1405 tightened screening procedures to reduce the risk of AIDS transmission through blood or organ donations.

Another health peril increasingly reported in the press involved attacks by vicious dogs, particularly pit bulls. In this regard, House Bill 571 established requirements for owners of dogs with a history of vicious conduct and specified the conditions under which an offending animal could be ordered destroyed.

An additional safety measure, House Bill 662, responded to an outbreak of construction accidents by requiring trench safety plans for contractors with the state or its political subdivisions. House Bill 669, a related labor law, increased the public availability of statistics on occupational deaths and injuries. Farmworkers were the subject of Senate Bill 601 increasing their minimum wage levels and House Bill 1896 extending “right-to-know” protections to cover agricultural handling of pesticides or other toxic chemicals.

In the environmental area, new legislation included Senate Bill 39 establishing a Hazardous Waste Research Center at Lamar University and Senate Bill 62 from the 2nd Called Session moving the state closer to the opening of a low-level radioactive waste disposal site. Outdoor sportsmen, meanwhile, were no doubt interested in Senate Bill 504 establishing a hunter education program and Senate Bill 13 authorizing an exemption from fishing license requirements for the state’s youngest and eldest citizens. The major energy measure was Senate Bill 33 from the 2nd Called Session providing for the disbursement of over $200 million in oil overcharge funds.

Relations between the executive and legislative branches were the subject of Senate Joint Resolution 53, which proposed a constitutional amendment authorizing statutory limitations on appointments by a “lame duck” governor. Other measures of significance to state and local government included Senate Bill 168 revising the open meetings law and Senate Bill 962 setting restrictions on city annexation powers. Also, as part of its continuing statutory revision program, the legislature enacted Senate Bill 888, Senate Bill 894, and Senate Bill 896 adopting new titles of the Tax Code, Government Code, and Local Government Code, respectively.

Introductory sections to this publication’s several chapters summarize in more detail the major enactments in each subject area.
AGRICULTURE

Of major importance among the bills in this chapter is House Bill 49, passed during the 2nd Called Session of the 70th Legislature. To help promote and enhance the state’s agricultural economy and to financially assist those employed in such businesses, the bill creates an agricultural diversification program and provides for the establishment of the Agricultural Finance Authority.

House Bill 1896, which was passed during the Regular Session, is another measure of importance. It enacts the Agricultural Hazard Communication Act, which requires that agricultural workers be notified of hazardous chemicals to which they may be exposed during their employment.

Agricultural Diversification Program

HOUSE BILL 49 (2nd C.S.)

HOUSE AUTHOR: Harrison
SENATE SPONSOR: Sims

EFFECTIVE: see below

House Bill 49 directs the commissioner of agriculture to create an agricultural diversification program for the purpose of: (1) supporting the commercial use of agricultural research and innovation; (2) increasing the capabilities of community and regional organizations to train and assist new or expanding agricultural-based businesses; (3) starting nonprofit development agencies that provide concentrated business services to new small agricultural enterprises; and (4) encouraging private commercial loans for the enhanced production, processing, and marketing of crops already produced in the state and any alternative crop that could feasibly be produced in Texas.

The act establishes the Agricultural Diversification Board to assist in the creation and implementation of the new program.

Specific grant programs to carry out the broad goals of the agricultural diversification program are created. House Bill 49 also includes provisions for a linked deposit program to encourage commercial lending for the enhanced production, processing, and marketing of certain crops.

The provisions of House Bill 49 creating an agricultural diversification program are contingent on the adoption of the constitutional amendment proposed by House Joint Resolution 5 from the Regular Session, found in the chapter on state government, to be considered on November 3, 1987.

Another part of House Bill 49, Article 2, creates the Agricultural Finance Authority, to further provide financial assistance to eligible agricultural businesses.

The new authority is administered by the commissioner of agriculture and governed by a board of directors; the authority’s purpose, functions, and powers are defined by the act.

Among the powers given to the authority is the power to issue revenue and general obligation bonds, the sales proceeds of which shall be deposited in the Texas agriculture fund.

The provisions of House Bill 49 authorizing the issuance by the Agricultural Finance Authority of general obligation bonds are contingent upon the adoption of the constitutional amendment proposed by House Joint Resolution 4 from the Regular Session, found in the chapter on state government, to be considered by the voters on November 3, 1987. The remainder of the provisions in Article 2 take effect on October 20, 1987.

Agricultural Workers

SENATE BILL 601

SENATE AUTHOR: Santiesteban
HOUSE SPONSOR: A. Moreno

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 601 revises the Texas Minimum Wage Act of 1970. The definition of “range production of livestock” is broadened to include production of livestock in feedlots. Persons who perform services for a political subdivision as an elected official or as a member of a legislative body are exempted from minimum wage requirements.

The commissioner of labor and standards is required to furnish information on demand regarding an employer’s liability for payment of contributions to the unemployment compensation fund; the act clarifies the role of interagency agreements in setting the fee charged for issuing this information.
The minimum wage for agricultural employees is set at $3.35 per hour. Agricultural workers who harvest a commodity for which a piece rate has been established by the commissioner are entitled to a minimum wage of $3.35 per hour; certain additional standards are set for the payment of piece rate workers.

Certain criminal penalty provisions are also repealed by Senate Bill 601.

HOUSE BILL 1896
EFFECTIVE: see below

HOUSE AUTHOR: McDonald
SENATE SPONSOR: Whitmire

House Bill 1896 provides access to information concerning hazardous chemicals to certain agricultural laborers who may be exposed to the chemicals during their employment and ensures that workers exercising their right-to-know under this law shall not be subject to employer retaliation or discrimination.

The bill requires affected employers to prepare and maintain certain documents containing information about hazardous chemicals used in the workplace and information concerning their safe handling. This information shall be made available to workers, their designated representatives, treating medical personnel, and certain emergency service personnel in communities in which hazardous chemicals are stored in close proximity to residential areas.

The Department of Agriculture is directed to develop training programs for agricultural laborers with regard to hazards and is authorized to adopt necessary rules and administrative procedures to carry out the provisions of House Bill 1896. Civil and criminal penalties are established for employers in violation of the act.

With the exception of a provision regarding material safety data sheets furnished by manufacturers and distributors, which became effective on September 1, 1987, the Agricultural Hazard Communication Act takes effect on January 1, 1988.

See also House Bill 2197 in the labor chapter.

Grain Warehouse Operations

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 104
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Waterfield
SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

House Joint Resolution 104 proposes a constitutional amendment allowing the legislature to authorize the use of public funds as surety for a self-insurance fund on behalf of farmers and depositors of grain in public warehouse facilities.

HOUSE BILL 1721
EFFECTIVE: 4-30-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Waterfield
SENATE SPONSOR: Sarpalus

Before passage of this bill, Texas law had no provisions for the termination of storage of abandoned or unclaimed grain in a warehouse. House Bill 1721 allows grain warehouse operators to sell the abandoned grain and transfer the proceeds to the state treasurer. The bill also provides for alternatives to required bonds and lowers rates used in computing bond amounts.

Miscellaneous Legislation

HOUSE BILL 1031
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Hinojosa
SENATE SPONSOR: Uribe

The maturity standard of oranges set by the Department of Agriculture requires that the ratio of soluble solids to the anhydrous citric acid of the juice be at least 9 to 1. House Bill 1031 corrects a portion of the Agriculture Code that erroneously sets this ratio at 12.5 to 1.

HOUSE BILL 1732
EFFECTIVE: 5-18-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Stiles
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

House Bill 1732 adds rice to the list of agricultural commodities for which a commodity producers board may be established. The creation of such a board allows rice growers to promote their product, conduct research, and establish disease, insect, and predator control programs.

HOUSE BILL 1912
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Berlanga
SENATE SPONSOR: Truan

House Bill 1912 relates to persons who appropriate state water from the Gulf of Mexico to engage in mariculture activities, which are defined as the propagation and rearing of certain aquatic species. The bill exempts persons conducting this activity from having to obtain a permit from the Texas Water Commission for such use of state waters, if specified notification requirements to the commission are met.

HOUSE BILL 1919
HOUSE AUTHOR: Saunders
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

House Bill 1919 creates the Fire Ant Advisory Board to oversee a program to finance ant research of the highest scientific merit that offers the greatest promise for solutions to fire ant infestations. The board is authorized to accept gifts and grants and is directed to establish an award program.

HOUSE BILL 2045
HOUSE AUTHOR: McKinney
SENATE SPONSOR: Blake

House Bill 2045 exempts certain commercial herbicide applicators from proof of financial responsibility requirements for drill damage and injuries to individuals as a result of operations of the application. However, the applicator must then be licensed for ground applicator equipment only and for use of only certain department-approved herbicides.

HOUSE BILL 2404
HOUSE AUTHOR: R. Lewis
SENATE SPONSOR: Blake

To prohibit stray livestock from roaming unattended on the right-of-way of a certain portion of a recreation road in Newton County, House Bill 2404 includes this specific road area in the definition of "highway."

HOUSE BILL 2595
HOUSE AUTHOR: H. Cuellar
SENATE SPONSOR: Zaffirini

House Bill 2595 abolishes the office of inspector of hides and animals in certain counties where the function of this office is no longer needed.

SENATE BILL 20
SENATE AUTHOR: Sarpaluis
HOUSE SPONSOR: Robinson

Senate Bill 20 revises statutes concerning impounding and redeeming stray livestock. It directs sheriffs to notify owners of strays, if possible, before impounding livestock that is not dangerous. It modifies fee requirements and provides for appeals, and it provides that livestock owners are responsible for their animals' maintenance and any damages due to the owners of private property from which strays are impounded.

SENATE BILL 410
SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

Senate Bill 410 allows the Texas Water Development Board to make loans to certain irrigation districts from funding available through the pilot loan program for agricultural water conservation loans. By defining surface water irrigation districts as "lenders," the bill permits these districts to borrow money to improve their own water distribution systems or to make loans available to others for such purposes.

The bill further authorizes the use of loans for the purchase of equipment required for certain specified irrigation and water conservation operations, and extends the pilot loan program through the 1988-89 biennium.

SENATE BILL 840
SENATE AUTHOR: Sims
HOUSE SPONSOR: Harrison

A discrepancy exists between the Agriculture Code, which sets the term of elected public weighers at two years, and the Texas Constitution, which provides for a four-year term. Senate Bill 840 amends the code to conform with the constitution's provision.

SENATE BILL 1189
SENATE AUTHOR: Uribe
HOUSE SPONSOR: A. Moreno

Senate Bill 1189 authorizes cotton producer organizations to petition the commissioner to establish pest management zones for the control and prevention of boll weevils. The bill includes provisions relating to the responsibilities of the Department of Agriculture, and authorizes the department to require the destruction of host plants. The bill also includes penalties for violating department rules.
SENATE BILL 1216

LICENSES may not be issued to commercial herbicide and pesticide applicators unless proof of financial responsibility for crop damage and injury to individuals is furnished in the form of insurance policies or bonds; such insurance coverage, however, is difficult to obtain, and bonds are generally not available.

Unless otherwise prohibited by state law, Senate Bill 1216 provides for optional proof of financial security following a determination by the State Board of Insurance that crop damage and liability insurance is not readily available. Rulemaking authority for carrying out the provisions of this bill is granted to the Department of Agriculture and to the Texas Department of Health.

SENATE BILL 1248

LICENSES for milk handlers providing raw milk for resale have been raised. Senate Bill 1248 concerns payment to dairy farmers for raw milk purchased by milk producers. The bill specifies the method of payment, and with certain exceptions, requires milk handlers to maintain a trust fund of all payments received from the sale of the milk until the purchase of raw milk has been paid in full to dairy farmers.

The bill further provides for damages for failure to comply with its provisions.

SENATE BILL 1333

The Veterans Land Board may issue taxable bonds through the Farm and Ranch Finance Program. Senate Bill 1333 provides that the Veterans Land Board may issue taxable bonds through the Farm and Ranch Finance Program. It extends the guarantees of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Program to any loan made under the Farm and Ranch Finance Program and designates a family farm and ranch security loan. The bill also specifies procedures for guarantees of Veterans Land Board loans.

SENATE BILL 1388

Senate Bill 1388 provides that an agricultural cooperative marketing association organized after August 1, 1987, or already in existence on that date, has perpetual existence unless a provision for limited duration is specified in its charter or articles of incorporation.
ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

Included among the measures passed during the Regular Session of the 70th Legislature to regulate the sale of alcoholic beverages was House Bill 1652, which has become known as the “dram shop” law. This legislation has wide public impact for it specifically places the responsibility of determining whether bar or restaurant patrons have had too much to drink on persons who serve or sell alcoholic beverages by making them potentially liable for the actions of intoxicated drivers. The other major piece of legislation relating to alcoholic beverages was the “open container” law, Senate Bill 521.

HOUSE BILL 1652
EFFECTIVE: 6-11-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Millsap
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

House Bill 1652 amends several provisions of the Alcoholic Beverage Code. In a major change to state law, a new chapter is added providing that in certain cases bars and restaurants may be held liable for personal injuries and property damage caused by a customer who is intoxicated.

The bill creates a statutory cause of action against the provider, seller, or server of alcoholic beverages and provides for permit and license revocation on proof that: (a) at the time an alcoholic beverage was supplied it was evident to the provider that the customer was obviously intoxicated to the extent that he presented a clear danger to himself and others; and (b) the intoxication of the customer was a proximate cause of the damages suffered.

With regard to alcoholic beverage retailers and their agents and employees, this act amends the definition of intoxication considered to be unlawful on-premise conduct. House Bill 1652 also provides for permit suspension if the permittee is convicted of operating his business in violation of a federal, state, or local law prohibiting discrimination.

The bill also amends a statutory provision regarding the renewal of mixed drink permits held by corporations and makes certain statutory provisions that previously related only to the sale of beer applicable to the sale of ale and malt liquor.

SENATE BILL 521
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Sarpalius
HOUSE SPONSOR: Wilson

Senate Bill 521, the “open container” law, amends the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways to provide that it is a Class C misdemeanor offense for a person to consume an alcoholic beverage while operating a motor vehicle in a public place and be observed doing so by a police officer.

HOUSE BILL 258
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Barrientos

Under former law, each minor in violation of the Alcoholic Beverage Code was required to appear in court accompanied by a parent or guardian. House Bill 258 excludes persons between the ages of 18 and 21 from that requirement by amending the provision to apply only to persons under the age of 18, instead of to all minors.

The act further provides that persons who are 18, 19, or 20 years old may not be barred from holding agent’s permits or agent’s beer licenses on the basis of their age.

HOUSE BILL 1123
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Wilson
SENATE SPONSOR: Harris

House Bill 1123 establishes a limousine service alcoholic beverage permit. Unless located in dry areas where such permits are inoperable, permit holders may sell or serve beverages in limousines, purchase alcohol for such purposes, and store beverages. The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission is required to adopt rules governing the conduct of these activities.

The act establishes fees for original and renewal beverage licenses and imposes on permit holders inventory taxes and fees for individual servings of alcoholic beverages served in limousines.

HOUSE BILL 1653
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Kuempel
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

House Bill 1653 amends several provisions of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code. With regard to record-keeping procedures, it allows branch distributors who have shown good compliance in filing timely and correct reports to the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission to maintain their records at the same location as their general distributors.
The bill permits certain distributors to share vehicles for the transportation of beer and liquor and exempts them from motor carrier laws requiring certificates or permits from the Texas Railroad Commission to transport liquor for hire.

House Bill 1653 further prohibits the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission from issuing a branch distributor's license to a person who is not qualified to obtain an original general distributor's license.

HOUSE BILL 1963
HOUSE AUTHOR: Wilson
SENATE SPONSOR: Parmer

House Bill 1963 changes the state-of-mind requirement for commission of the offense of selling an alcoholic beverage to a minor. Current law provides that a person commits an offense if he knowingly sells an alcoholic beverage to a minor. House Bill 1963 amends this statute to provide that an offense is committed if a person who sells an alcoholic beverage to a minor commits the act with criminal negligence. This provision takes effect on January 1, 1988.

The act also provides an exemption for an employer from liability for the actions of employees who sell, serve, deliver, or consume alcohol in violation of the law if the employer requires the employees to attend seller training programs. The programs must be approved by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, which is responsible for adopting rules and policies governing them. The provision is effective September 1, 1987.

House Bill 1963 also defines the premises of the holder of a wine and beer retailer's permit who leases space in the food court of a shopping mall. This law is effective August 31, 1987.

HOUSE BILL 1977
HOUSE AUTHOR: A. Moreno
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

In general, state law prohibits patrons of private clubs from removing any alcoholic beverages from the premises. However, House Bill 1977 provides that a person who orders wine with his meal may remove from the club an open bottle containing the remaining portion of the wine.

The act also expands the definition of "fraternal organizations" that are exempt from certain provisions relating to private club permits to include building associations composed of members appointed by court commissioners courts to administer certain county-owned exhibition centers.

HOUSE BILL 1978
HOUSE AUTHOR: A. Moreno
SENATE SPONSOR: Uribe

House Bill 1978 amends several provisions of the Alcoholic Beverage Code. It authorizes the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission to establish reasonable fees for tasks and services performed by the commission, including fees incidental to the issuance of licenses and permits. If no fees have been set for newly created certificates, permits, and licenses, the commission is authorized to set fees. A fee set by the commission may not exceed $25.

House Bill 1978 raises the administrative fee for the importation of liquor and beer into the state for personal use and restricts the amount of beer a person may import into Texas for personal use during a 30-day period.

Under state law, nonresident sellers who wish to ship distilled spirits to Texas must submit product, container, and label samples to the commission for approval and must obtain a certificate of approval before transacting business. House Bill 1978 establishes a $25 application fee for such certificates.

The act also provides for the issuance of a certificate of approval for samples submitted to the commission by manufacturers and brewers who wish to import, manufacture, or sell beer, ale, or malt liquor in Texas and sets a $25 application fee for each certificate.

The final provision of the bill provides that if after June 1, 1987, the attorney general notifies the secretary of state that the federal laws requiring states to set the drinking age at 21 is no longer in effect, the provisions of the 1985 law lowering the drinking age to 19 are effective on the first day of the month following the month in which notice is filed by the attorney general.

HOUSE BILL 2262
HOUSE AUTHOR: Toomey
SENATE SPONSOR: Henderson

State law provides that an appeal from an order of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission or administrator refusing, canceling, or suspending a permit or license may be taken to the district court of the county in which the applicant resides. Local officials and others on record as protesting the issuance of a permit or license are entitled to notice of the appeal, but may not enter an appearance in the appeal.

House Bill 2262 amends this provision in cases in which an appeal concerns the refusal to issue or renew a permit or a license of a business that is sexually oriented. In such cases, any citizen may appear on appeal in protest of the issuance unless a party to the proceeding shows that the person has no justiciable or administratively cognizable interest in the proceeding.

SENATE BILL 523
EFFECTIVE: 6-5-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Edwards
HOUSE SPONSOR: Taylor

Certain types of advertising are excluded from the definition of outdoor advertising of alcoholic beverages and alcoholic beverage businesses governed by certain statutory provisions. Senate Bill 523 expands the types of advertising excluded to include advertising displayed on boats and aircraft participating in shows and races.
APPROPRIATIONS

The legislature was unable to pass the General Appropriations Act for the 1988-89 fiscal biennium during the Regular Session. The act (Senate Bill 1) was passed during the 2nd Called Session and appropriated $38.3 billion for the biennium from all revenue sources.

To balance the state budget, two revenue bills (House Bill 61 and House Bill 62), raising an additional estimated $5.7 billion from taxes and fees, were also passed during the 2nd Called Session. See the chapter on state taxes and tax administration for summaries of this legislation.

General Appropriations Act

SENATE BILL 1 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Rudd

The $38.3 billion General Appropriations Act for the 1988-89 biennium includes appropriations of $27.1 billion from general-revenue-related funds. This amount from general revenue sources represents an increase of $1 billion, or four percent, over the 1987 biennial operating level of funding. (That level is the amount of appropriations available to state agencies in fiscal 1987 expressed on a biennial basis.)

The line item figures in the act do not reflect an across-the-board reduction of .65 percent. This reduction is implemented by a general provision in Article V of the act that directs the comptroller to adjust all appropriations from the general revenue fund, state highway fund, and foundation school fund, except appropriations to Article IV, the judiciary.

Another general provision of Article V authorizes a salary increase for state employees and officials of not more than two percent for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1989. For the increase to be effective, the comptroller must determine that sufficient revenue is available from unappropriated balances in the general revenue fund and special funds. The provision does not apply to faculty employed by institutions of higher education.

The governor vetoed various line item appropriations in the budget act, totalling $167.4 million. For a list of the item vetoes, see the governor’s proclamation in the appendix.

The following tables present a breakdown of the appropriations in Senate Bill 1 and a comparison of those amounts to the 1987 biennial operating level. The amounts do not indicate reductions from item vetoes. For a detailed analysis of the biennial state budget, see the Legislative Budget Board publication entitled Fiscal Size Up.

Other Legislation Relating to Appropriations

HOUSE BILL 1874
HOUSE AUTHOR: Millsap
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Blake

House Bill 1874 provides financing for the renovation of the State Capitol through the sale of bonds issued by the Texas Public Building Authority. The authority may issue bonds in an amount up to one and a half times the estimated cost for the project that is financed. The bill states that the estimated cost of the total repair and renovation is $45 million. The authority must deposit proceeds from the sale of these bonds in the state treasury to the account of the State Preservation Board, which is authorized to undertake the repairs and renovations with this money.

HOUSE BILL 2597
HOUSE AUTHOR: Colbert
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Henderson

House Bill 2597 establishes the Texas Center for Superconductivity at the University of Houston-University Park in Houston, Texas. The center is created as a component of the university to research and develop all aspects of superconductivity. To finance the center, the bill appropriates $1.5 million from amounts received by the state as the result of oil-overcharge litigation, and the bill permits the center to accept gifts, grants, and federal funds. However, this appropriation is expressly contingent on the approval of the United States Department of Energy, which oversees the expenditure of oil-overcharge funds.

SENATE BILL 149
SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee
EFFECTIVE: 4-1-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Laney

Senate Bill 149 changes the reporting and payment procedures for social security contributions for officers and employees of the state and local governments. The contributions had been processed through a single agency, the employees retirement system. To conform to new federal requirements, each agency and local government will pay the contributions directly to the federal Internal Revenue Service. The bill applies to contributions on wages paid after December 31, 1986.

Senate Bill 149 also transfers fiscal year 1987 appropriations to the social security trust fund to the comptroller to pay contributions for certain state employees.

SENATE BILL 215
SENATE AUTHOR: McFarland
EFFECTIVE: 2-20-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Hightower

Senate Bill 215 amends statutory provisions related to the release of inmates from the Texas Department of Corrections under emergency overcrowding conditions.

The Texas Adult Probation Commission is authorized to develop and fund department-managed programs for intensive supervision and to transfer certain funds appropriated to it for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1987, from one program to another for the purpose of diverting defendants from commitment to the Texas Department of Corrections or providing information to judges and prosecutors on available diversion programs.

The act creates an emergency appropriation fund in the state treasury and transfers $32.5 million to the fund from amounts appropriated to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1987. The act appropriates money from the emergency appropriation fund to the attorney general for payment of workers' compensation claims, to the Texas Department of Corrections for expenditure for compliance with federal court orders, and to the Board of Pardons and Paroles for use in halfway houses and intensive supervision programs. These funds may be appropriated only if the governor determines that expenditures are necessary to comply with federal court orders. The funds appropriated are in addition to funds previously appropriated to these entities.

SENATE BILL 444

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 8 (2nd C.S.)
SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: G. Lewis
FOR ELECTION: 11-8-88

Senate Joint Resolution 8 (2nd Called Session), if approved by the voters, would constitutionally dedicate federal highway reimbursements for highway purposes.
BUSINESS AND OCCUPATIONAL REGULATION

Senate Bill 229, aimed at the deregulation of AT&T, is noteworthy among business legislation enacted in 1987. Senate Bill 595, a measure to partially deregulate intrastate trucking, was also the focus of much attention. House Bill 752, relating to state enterprise zones, is an attempt to provide a state economic development tool to target severely distressed local economies. House Bill 1953 tightens restrictions on motor vehicle dealers, and House Bill 36 regulates businesses involved in asbestos abatement.

Several additional enactments involve health professions and occupations. House Bill 2560 amends the Medical Practice Act, Senate Bill 1421 provides new regulations for dental labs, and Senate Bill 1160 makes changes in the regulation of nurses.

Banking was also the subject of several enactments. The Texas Savings and Loan Act is amended (House Bill 1248), regulations that apply to credit unions are changed (House Bill 1208), and private banks are placed entirely under The Texas Banking Code (Senate Bill 817).

The major piece of legislation enacted during the 2nd Called Session relating to business and occupational regulation was Senate Bill 20, which regulates sports agents who engage in contract negotiations with college athletes. The legislature also made some technical corrections to House Bill 2560 (70th Legislature, Regular Session), which amended the Medical Practice Act, and repealed a provision contained in House Bill 1230 (70th Legislature, Regular Session), which amended the Texas Pawn Shop Act.

Bills relating to controlled substances are summarized in the criminal justice and procedure chapter.

Telecommunications

SENATE BILL 229

EFFECTIVE: see below

Senate Bill 229 amends the Public Utility Regulatory Act. The amendments take effect in two stages. Effective September 1, 1987, they require the Public Utility Commission of Texas to hold hearings to determine whether any interexchange telecommunications carrier is dominant in various service markets as defined in the bill. This determination must be made by December 31, 1988. Currently, AT&T is the only dominant carrier in the state. Any carrier found to be dominant in these proceedings may petition the commission to determine whether it is no longer the dominant carrier in certain service markets after January 15, 1990. The carrier will have the burden of proof in such cases.

The commission is also required to develop a methodology to separate costs among fully regulated services, regulated competitive services, and unregulated services. Intent is stated within the bill that fully regulated services shall not subsidize the costs of unregulated services or regulated competitive services provided by a carrier.

Effective December 31, 1988, interexchange telecommunications carriers that are not dominant carriers become subject to greater regulation by the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The commission is given new authority to require the maintenance of statewide average rates of telecommunications services, to require that every local exchange area have access to interexchange telecommunications service, and to require the quality of the service provided to be adequate to protect the public interest. The commission may enter orders to protect the public interest if it finds that an interexchange telecommunications carrier has controlled prices in an adverse manner, has failed to maintain statewide average rates, has abandoned service to an area, or has engaged in preferential or discriminatory practices.

In a hearing on a complaint filed against an interexchange telecommunications carrier by another carrier, the burden of proof will be on the complainant. If the proceedings are brought by customers or initiated by the Public Utility Commission, the burden of proof will be on the respondent carrier. The commission may, however, shift the burden of proof to the complainant in such cases if found to be in the public interest.

All interexchange telecommunications carriers will be required to pay an assessment equal to one-sixth of one percent of gross receipts to help defray administrative costs of the commission. Any carrier found to be dominant in a service market or filing certain petitions will be required to reimburse the Office of Public Utility Counsel for the costs of participation on behalf of residential ratepayers in proceedings before the commission. The reimbursement may not exceed $175,000 per year. Carriers that do not provide local exchange service may collect the fee from customers if separately stated on the customers’ billing statement.
Effective September 1, 1987, pending full implementation of the legislation, Senate Bill 229 validates transitional rules of the commission designed to provide AT&T some rate flexibility.

SENATE BILL 444
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
AUTHOR: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: Cain

Senate Bill 444 amends the Public Utility Regulatory Act to allow local exchange telephone companies greater flexibility in the area of competitive telecommunications services. The Public Utility Commission of Texas is required to establish procedures to determine the level of competition in specific markets and provide appropriate regulatory treatment that will allow local exchange companies to respond quickly to competitive challenges in the marketplace. The commission is given authority to collect fees from the companies to cover the administrative costs of implementation.

The bill also establishes a telecommunications service assistance program to be provided to eligible customers by local exchange companies. The program provides that, for eligible customers, flat rate basic service, local exchange access service, and local area calling usage will be billed at a reduced rate. The Texas Department of Human Services is charged with providing lists of eligible customers to each local exchange company. The companies may recover their costs for providing this program from the universal service fund, established by the bill and funded with statewide uniform charges payable by all telecommunications utilities having access to the customer base.

HOUSE BILL 572
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
AUTHOR: Perry
SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

House Bill 572 amends the Telephone Cooperative Act. Among its many provisions, the bill redefines “communication service” to include other means of information transmission in addition to voice communication. The prohibition against cooperatives serving communities with a population in excess of 1,500 is deleted.

The rules of indemnification for nonprofit corporations, which provide for coverage of a director or officer of the corporation when claims are filed against him, are extended to corporations formed under the Telephone Cooperative Act. The bill also includes provisions for mergers, conversions, and consolidations of telephone cooperatives. Any of these actions will require a two-thirds vote of the members of each cooperative.

The bill also allows compensation for members of the board of directors when attending certain meetings and raises fees for required filings with the secretary of state.

HOUSE BILL 879
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Krier

House Bill 879 exempts officers, employees, or agents of certain common carriers from the provisions of the Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies Act. The exemption applies to employees engaged in protecting the company or a user of the company’s long-distance service from fraudulent or unlawful use.

Motor Carriers

SENATE BILL 595
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
AUTHOR: Parmer
HOUSE SPONSOR: Vowell

Senate Bill 595 partially deregulates in-state trucking rates. The Railroad Commission of Texas is directed to investigate existing shipping rates and to establish simplified base rates by January 1, 1988. On shipments of 10,000 pounds or more, a carrier may deviate 15 percent above or below the established base rate. Rates for shipments in excess of 500 pounds but less than 10,000 pounds may vary five percent from the base rate. A carrier electing to deviate from the established rates must file notice with the commission. The Railroad Commission of Texas will continue to set one price for loads under 500 pounds through 1989. After 1989, the commission may vary these rates as well. The bill bans “predatory pricing,” the practice of charging rates that are lower than actual operating costs or unreasonably above those costs.

The bill requires all commercial vehicles transporting property to be registered annually with the commission. A $1 fee must accompany the registration. The commission will issue a numbered certificate for each vehicle that must be carried in the vehicle at all times.

The Department of Public Safety is required to establish procedures under which traffic law violations shall be recorded in the name of the owner of a registered vehicle as well as the driver. The citations will be reported to the Railroad Commission of Texas on a monthly basis.
The commission is given authority to assess administrative penalties up to $10,000 for violation of any provision of the statutes respecting commission rules and regulations in addition to existing penalties. Such administrative penalties assessed and the $1 annual registration fee will be credited to the Motor Carrier Act enforcement fund to be used by the commission and the Department of Public Safety for enforcement.

SENATE BILL 862
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Anderson
HOUSE SPONSOR: C. Johnson

The Railroad Commission of Texas has had the authority to regulate commercial carriers that transport six or more persons. Municipalities usually regulate commercial carriers of less than six persons, such as taxi services. The railroad industry often contracts with commercial carriers that do not fall under Railroad Commission of Texas jurisdiction to transport employees. Senate Bill 862 requires commercial carriers transporting railroad crews to apply to the commission for a permit. The carrier must also abide by all commission regulations regarding insurance, safety, and the qualifications and physical condition of the driver.

HOUSE BILL 2273
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Vowell
SENATE SPONSOR: Parmer

The Railroad Commission of Texas is responsible for motor carrier regulation. Food distributors transporting only their own goods are exempt from regulation. However, some state agencies contract with commercial food distributors to deliver USDA donated commodities. This method of delivery may bring these carriers under railroad commission jurisdiction. House Bill 2273 exempts a person or company transporting USDA commodities under contract with a state agency from railroad commission regulation.

Motor Vehicle Regulation

HOUSE BILL 152
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Watson
SENATE SPONSOR: Barrientos

House Bill 152 amends the Business & Commerce Code to prohibit motor vehicle dealers from selling vehicles with an emblem, trade name, logo, or other message attached to brake lights mounted in the rear windows. A violation is a Class C misdemeanor.

HOUSE BILL 1325
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Taylor

HOUSE BILL 1953
EFFECTIVE: 6-18-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Shaw
SENATE SPONSOR: Sims

This amendatory act restricts a person from engaging in business as a dealer of motor vehicles, motorcycles, house trailers, trailers, or semitrailers unless he has a current valid general distinguishing number assigned to him by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for the location from which he engages in business. A dealer is required to have a separate and distinct number for each business location unless he obtains a general number for dealing in a particular type of vehicle from more than one location, each location is an established and permanent place of business, and the dealer is not otherwise prohibited from doing business at more than one location. The dealer is required to file a sworn application that he intends to engage in business as a dealer of that type of vehicle for at least one year at the specified location and that he or his employee will be on location for the purpose of buying, selling, leasing, or exchanging vehicles and will be available to the public or the highway department at the location during reasonable and lawful business hours. The bill exempts certain sales from these requirements, including sales of vehicles acquired for personal or business use, sales by governmental agencies, forced sales by secured creditors, sales by court order, wrecked cars sold by insurance companies, sales of vehicles at least 35 years old, and sales by auctioneers.

The bill allows the holder of a retail installment contract for a heavy commercial vehicle to charge up to five percent of the installment on each delinquent payment or the highest lawful post-maturity interest rate. Senate Bill 539 also specifies a formula for determining the refund credit for contracts involving the sale of heavy commercial vehicles in the event of prepayment and allows the lender to keep an additional $50 acquisition fee.

The bill provides procedures for filling a vacancy in the board of directors or for removal of a director.  EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

 House Bill 1512 expands the category of officials who may acknowledge or prove a written instrument outside the United States or its territories. The bill allows an instrument acknowledged outside the United States or its territories that contains a stamp, certificate, or seal of a notary public or other official in a foreign language to be recorded if a correct English translation is attached, the accuracy of which has been sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths, and any apostille relating to the acknowledgement complies with the Hague Convention provisions.

 It also increases certain fees that may be charged by notaries public and expands the reasons the secretary of state may consider in determining whether to reject an application or suspend or revoke the commission of a notary public.

 In addition, House Bill 1512 changes certain recordkeeping requirements of a notary public. Notaries public qualified before September 1, 1985, will be required to print or stamp their name and the expiration date of their commission under their signature if the seal they use does not contain this information.

 Regulation of Health-Related Businesses and Occupations

 SENATE BILL 36 (2nd C.S.)

 EFFECTIVE: see below

 The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), which sponsors a program to insure mortgages of nursing homes, long-term care homes, and hospitals, requires that a certificate of need be issued by a designated state agency before it will underwrite the mortgage. Texas and the federal government in the last two years have eliminated the certificate-of-need requirement for other health facilities, and in 1985 the Texas Health Facilities Commission, the state agency formerly designated for this purpose, was abolished. This act grants the Texas Department of Health authority to execute any form required by HUD to enable a health care facility to obtain financing under the HUD mortgage insurance program, provided that the Texas Health Facilities Commission previously has granted a certificate of need to the facility and provided that execution of the form is the only obstacle to HUD approval. The act takes temporary effect on August 3, 1987, and subsequently expires on September 1, 1987.

The board is also directed to establish a toll-free number that can provide the same information.

Several new grounds for cancellation, revocation, or suspension of a medical license are added to the act, and the board is required to suspend the license of a physician who is serving a prison term regardless of the offense. The board may not grant probation to a physician who poses a continuing threat to the public welfare. Senate Bill 1421 makes those provisions more enforceable and establishes stricter requirements for registration. The bill requires applicants for dental laboratory registration to provide proof that at least one certified dental technician works on the premises and that at least one employee working on the premises has completed a minimum of 10 hours of continuing education during the registration period. The bill specifies that dentists are to be provided with a list of registered laboratories. House Bill 2560, passed during the Regular Session of the 70th Legislature, made several changes in the Medical Practice Act. The bill attempted to improve the reporting requirements of insurance companies that provide medical professional liability coverage to physicians. However, the wording in the bill would have substantially delayed such reports. Senate Bill 87, 2nd Called Session, requires certain specified information to be reported to the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners and establishes time frames for its submission.

See also Senate Bill 200 in the chapter on human services/mental health and mental retardation.
CIVIL REMEDIES AND PROCEDURES

Certainly the most significant civil remedies and procedures legislation passed during the 70th Legislature’s Regular Session and 1st Called Session was the group of bills known as the “tort reform” package. The product of more than a year of research and study, the bills represent an attempt to alleviate serious problems within the liability insurance system, such as dramatically rising liability premiums and shortages of certain types of coverage.

The tort reform legislation, as passed, largely reflects the recommendations of the Joint Committee on Liability Insurance and Tort Law and Procedure, an interim study committee appointed by Lieutenant Governor William P. Hobby and House Speaker Gibson D. “Gib” Lewis early in 1986. The committee was charged with “studying the availability and cost of commercial, professional, and governmental liability insurance and the impact of the tort recovery process on the insurance industry.” After gathering testimony and evidence at six hearings, which included 48 hours of testimony from 86 witnesses, the joint committee defined the liability insurance crisis as a crisis of unacceptably volatile industry profitability driven by two structural forces: the cyclical nature of liability underwriting, exacerbated by a practice known as “cash flow underwriting,” and the unpredictability of the civil justice system. The package of tort reform bills, which includes Senate Bill 202 from the Regular Session and Senate Bills 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 from the 1st Called Session, is intended to address these problems.

Other legislation of interest in the area of civil remedies and procedures includes Senate Bill 281, which effectively restricts the abusive use of palimony suits; Senate Bill 1436, which permits a court to refer cases to qualified neutral parties for alternative dispute resolution; and House Bill 2320, which is intended to prevent civil actions for damages where the plaintiff was committing a felony or attempting suicide at the time the cause of action arose.

Tort Reform

SENATE BILL 202
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

Senate Bill 202 reduces the liability exposure of certain charitable organizations. The terms “charitable organization,” “volunteer,” “employee,” and “good faith” are defined for purposes of the act. Except as specifically provided, a volunteer who is serving as an officer, director, or trustee of a charitable organization is immune from civil liability for any act or omission resulting in death, damage, or injury if the volunteer was acting in the course of his duties with the organization. Except as specifically provided, the liability of a nonhospital charitable organization in a civil suit is limited to a maximum amount of $500,000 for each person, $1,000,000 for each single occurrence of bodily injury or death, and $100,000 for each single occurrence of injury to or destruction of property. Certain types of organizations are specifically exempted from the protection offered by this act.

SENATE BILL 2 (1st C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 9-2-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Gavin

Senate Bill 2 requires certain liability insurance carriers to make annual reports to the State Board of Insurance regarding direct writing of liability insurance in the state. Similar requirements are established for the reporting of all claims closed by a liability insurance carrier.

The act creates a division of consumer protection within the State Board of Insurance.

Wherever possible, the board is required to use data from within the state regarding liability rates and policies in developing rates applicable to Texas policy holders.

The insurance board is required to conduct annual hearings to review and promulgate the premium rates charged by carriers of automobile insurance. Also, the insurance board may approve commercial, malpractice, and multi peril liability rates only for a maximum of two years.

With certain exceptions, a carrier is prohibited from canceling a liability insurance policy after it has been in effect for 60 days.

Senate Bill 2 provides for revised and expanded risk control management.

The act requires the licensing of risk managers, with certain specified exceptions.
The State Board of Insurance is authorized to establish a market assistance program to assist those who have difficulty securing liability insurance coverage. If the board determines that the market assistance program is not sufficient to make liability insurance available to nonprofit organizations, then the Texas Nonprofit Organization Liability Insurance Underwriting Association is created.

The board is authorized to promulgate rules and monitor the activities of surplus lines agents. The form of notice required on surplus lines policies is revised and other requirements are placed on surplus lines insurance.

The act authorizes the creation of risk management pools for school districts and junior college districts by resolution of their boards of trustees. Additionally, the act authorizes creation of separate excess liability pools for counties, school districts, and junior college districts.

On agreement of the presiding officers of at least 25 cities or groups of cities who have formed an insurance pool under the provisions of The Interlocal Cooperation Act, the Texas public entity excess insurance pool is created.

Life insurance companies authorized to do business in Texas are authorized to reinsure property and casualty insurance.

Senate Bill 2 provides an exception to prior law that prohibited carriers from insuring against punitive damages for a health care provider or physician. The State Board of Insurance is authorized to approve coverage of a hospital on a policy of medical professional liability insurance.

The maximum amount of medical liability insurance coverage that may be provided by the Texas Medical Liability Joint Underwriting Association is increased.

Senate Bill 2 is discussed in greater detail in the insurance chapter of this volume.

SENATE BILL 5 (1st C.S.)  SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
EFFECTIVE: 9-2-87  HOUSE SPONSOR: Toomey

Senate Bill 5 revises the Civil Practice and Remedies Code with regard to procedures and remedies in civil actions for personal injury, property damage, or death, including the determination and limitations of liability and damages.

Among its more prominent features, the bill provides a basis for determining whether a pleading is frivolous. Courts are permitted to impose sanctions against attorneys or parties who file frivolous pleadings or motions.

In regard to negligence cases, the act preserves the existing law that bars recovery of damages if a claimant is more than 50 percent responsible for his own injuries. For cases involving damages against the manufacturer, distributor, or retailer of a product, the act bars recovery by a claimant who is at least 60 percent responsible for his own injuries.

The general rules of joint and several liability are modified to protect parties who are judged to be minimally responsible for an injury. Under prior law, a minimally responsible party could, in certain cases, be forced to pay all of the damages awarded against the other defendants in a suit; under this act, in cases where the claimant is at least partially at fault, a defendant can be held jointly and severally liable only if his percentage of responsibility is greater than 20 percent and exceeds the claimant's percentage of liability. However, in cases involving injuries resulting from pollution of the environment or exposure to hazardous substances, a minimally responsible party may be required to pay all damages.

Exemplary, or punitive, damages may be awarded under this act if a claimant shows that a defendant's conduct was fraudulent, malicious, or grossly negligent. The amount of exemplary damages is limited to four times the amount of the actual damages or $200,000, whichever is greater. However, this limitation does not apply to intentional torts or damages resulting from malice as defined within the act. Exemplary damages may be awarded against drug manufacturers only if a claimant shows that the manufacturer failed to comply with federal regulations, or if the manufacturer failed to report information regarding significant risks of adverse side effects.

The act also expands the list of municipal functions covered under the Texas Tort Claims Act's limitations on liability to include such functions as city services, civic centers, community centers, recreational facilities, road repairs, and sanitation and storm sewers. The limitations on municipal liability are raised to $250,000 for each person, $500,000 for each occurrence of bodily injury, and $100,000 for each occurrence of property damage.

Under certain conditions, public servants are released from personal liability for harm resulting from the performance of their duties for the state.
SENATE BILL 6 (1st C.S.)

SENATE AUTHOR: Montford

EFFECTIVE: 9-2-87

HOUSE SPONSOR: Toomey

Senate Bill 6 limits the time during which prejudgment interest may accrue to the period beginning on the 180th day after the date the defendant receives written notice of a claim or on the date the suit is filed, whichever occurs first, and ending on the day before the date judgment is rendered. Exceptions are provided for cases where the judgment for a claimant is more or less than the amount of a settlement offered by the defendant. Additionally, the act grants the court discretion to order that prejudgment interest may or may not accrue during periods of delay in a trial.

Provisions are made regarding the computation of prejudgment interest where a settlement offer is made for other than a cash payment. The rate of prejudgment interest is set at the rate of postjudgment interest.

Provisions pertaining to employees, records, general powers and duties of the pool, investments, contributions, premium rates, punitive damages, nonrenewal of coverage, and shortages of money are included.

CORRECTIONS

Corrections legislation in the 70th Legislature was primarily intended to bring the state into compliance with federal court orders pertaining to overcrowding and other prison conditions. The problem was addressed through directives to the Texas Department of Corrections, revision of parole standards, and acquisition of additional facilities. House Bill 680 requires an annual review of inmate classification procedures and revises the manner in which inmates accrue good time; Senate Bill 215 authorizes release and parole of inmates under emergency overcrowding conditions; Senate Bill 251 authorizes the Texas Board of Corrections to contract with counties or private vendors for the provision of prison facilities and correctional services; and House Bill 947 authorizes contracts with the federal government to secure additional facilities.

The Texas Department of Corrections, Texas Youth Commission, Board of Pardons and Paroles, Texas Adult Probation Commission, and Texas Juvenile Probation Commission were subjects of sunset review. Renewal legislation relating to those agencies is summarized in the government—sunset legislation chapter.

Texas Department of Corrections

HOUSE BILL 680                HOUSE AUTHOR:     Morales
 EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87            SENATE SPONSOR:    Farabee

House Bill 680 requires the Texas Board of Corrections to review at least annually the rules and policies of the Texas Department of Corrections relating to the classification of inmates for the purpose of awarding good conduct time. The board is authorized to direct the department to use different classification standards depending on the extent of prison overcrowding.

The manner in which inmates accrue good conduct time is revised to require diligent participation in educational, industrial, agricultural, or other work programs as a prerequisite to earning good conduct time. The act reduces the maximum good conduct time that an inmate may earn, but it also shortens the actual calendar time an inmate must serve before becoming eligible for parole. Separate provisions are made for the parole of inmates serving consecutive felony sentences so that at least a portion of the sentence for each offense is served.

The act prohibits the release of certain violent offenders to mandatory supervision.

All provisions of the act apply only to persons sentenced for offenses committed before the effective date of the act.

HOUSE BILL 1133                HOUSE AUTHOR:     T. Smith
 EFFECTIVE: 6-17-87            SENATE SPONSOR:    Brown

SENATE BILL 215
EFFECTIVE: see below

Senate Bill 215 amends statutory provisions related to the release of inmates from the Texas Department of Corrections under emergency overcrowding conditions.

The director of the department, the governor, and the attorney general are required to take certain notice and certification measures during periods when the inmate population of the department exceeds 95 percent.

Provision is made for releasing and paroling certain inmates in order to return to maximum allowable population levels.

The department is required to submit periodic facilities expansion and improvement reports to the governor and Legislative Budget Board; the content of such reports is specified.

Rights of inmates and obligations of the department are clarified in the event that the prison population reaches 95 percent of capacity.

Specific conditions of parole for persons released during periods of overcrowding are provided with respect to restitution, community service, and intensive parole program requirements. Potential conditions of parole are expanded to include participation in an intensive probation program, drug testing, and counseling for drug abusers.

In addition to making revisions in parole law, Senate Bill 215 also establishes expanded probation options for judges. Judges are directed to suspend imposition of a sentence and place a defendant on intensive probation if certain conditions are met, and defendants may be placed on or removed from intensive probation only by court order. Provision is made for modification of conditions within the intensive probation program by a probation officer. On finding probation violations, a court is authorized to extend the period of probation in certain circumstances rather than revoking probation.

The Texas Adult Probation Commission is authorized to develop and fund department-managed programs for intensive supervision. The commission may also transfer certain funds from one program to another for the purpose of diverting defendants from commitment to the Texas Department of Corrections or providing information to judges and prosecutors on available diversion programs.

The act creates an emergency appropriation fund and transfers $32.5 million to the fund from amounts appropriated to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Certain sums are then appropriated from the emergency appropriation fund to the attorney general for payment of workers' compensation claims, to the Texas Department of Corrections for expenditure for compliance with federal court orders, and to the Board of Pardons and Paroles for use in halfway houses and intensive supervision programs. The funds may be appropriated only if the governor determines that expenditures are necessary to comply with federal court orders. The funds appropriated are in addition to funds previously appropriated to these entities.

The above provisions of Senate Bill 215 take effect February 20, 1987. Effective September 1, 1987, a provision of the Code of Criminal Procedure authorizing the Board of Pardons and Paroles to release certain prisoners to mandatory supervision is repealed.

COURTS

This chapter summarizes legislation affecting court administration and organization, much of it applicable only to particular localities. In the 70th Legislative Session, much of the activity in this area involved housekeeping provisions relating to the creation of new courts or the expansion of established court jurisdiction. One trend that gained credence in the session was the creation of magistrate courts and the appointment of specialized masters in large metropolitan areas to help reduce the staggering caseload of many courts. This section also includes revisions in the Judicial Retirement System to bring it within compliance of the Federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act that became effective in January 1987.

It revises qualifications required of retired and former judges who wish to remain available for temporary assignments and clarifies the powers granted to them. The act also establishes the State Board of Regional Judges to administer funds appropriated to the district court support account and to the child support and court management account of the judicial fund. HOUSE AUTHOR: Taylor
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

House Bill 187 eliminates those provisions of the Judicial Retirement System of Texas that have caused retirement benefits to be reduced or calculated at a lower rate for judges who continue to serve past certain ages. The changes were designed to bring the system into compliance with amendments to the federal Age Discrimination in Employment Act that became effective January 1, 1987. Under prior law in Plan One of the system, a judge who retired within one year after completing judicial service was entitled to 60 percent of salary if the retirement occurred before the judge reached the age of 71 (or on becoming eligible to receive a benefit, if later) and 50 percent of salary if the retirement occurred otherwise. Under Plan Two, a judge was entitled to three percent of final average salary for each month of service that occurred before the month after the month in which the judge reached the age of 70 and two percent for each month of service thereafter. Under the new law, benefits based on retirements or deaths that occur on or after the effective date of House Bill 187 will be calculated at the applicable higher rate.

Controlled Substances

HOUSE AUTHOR: Blackwood
SENATE SPONSOR: Zaffirini

House Bill 173 raises the offense of intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly selling or delivering a substance containing a volatile chemical to a person under age 18 from a Class C to a Class B misdemeanor. The act also defines inhalant paraphernalia, imposes penalties for the use or possession of inhalant paraphernalia, provides penalties for the delivery of glue or abusable paint to a person younger than 18 years old, and provides for the latter offense to be reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor if, at the time of the delivery, the person or his employer had a valid glue and paint sales permit for the location of the sale or if he had a valid sales tax permit for the location of the sale and had not been previously convicted of this offense.

House Bill 173 directs business establishments that sell abusable glue or paint to post signs containing warnings of the penalties involved in selling, delivering, or abusing these products. Failure to display such a sign constitutes a misdemeanor offense.

Further provisions of the act regulate the sale of abusable glue and paint, direct the Texas Department of Health to develop procedures for the issuance and renewal of glue and paint sales permits no later than October 1, 1987, and provide for funds received from the sale of these permits to be deposited in the general revenue fund to cover the costs involved in administering this act and to finance education projects concerning the hazards of abusable glue and aerosol paint and the prevention of inhalant abuse.

Finally, House Bill 173 calls for the establishment of the Special Inhalant Abuse Committee to be formed by October 1, 1987. The committee will monitor and evaluate the effects of this act and report findings and recommendations to the 71st Legislature no later than February 15, 1989.

This act takes effect January 1, 1988, except that sellers required to have glue and paint sales permits are not required to have them until January 1, 1988, or the 90th day after the department adopts procedures regarding the issuance of the permits, whichever is later. Similarly, the provisions of the act that provide for the reduction of the offense of delivery of an abusable glue or paint from a felony to a misdemeanor do not take effect until the date on which a seller is required to have a permit.

HOUSE BILL 685

HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Parker

The Texas Controlled Substances Act is amended to define and regulate the sale and transfer of certain chemical precursors to controlled substances and controlled substance analogues. A "controlled substance analogue" is defined to mean a substance that has a similar chemical structure or produces an effect similar to or greater than the effects of those controlled substances named in Schedule 1 or 2 or Penalty Group 1 or 2 of the Texas Controlled Substances Act. The act creates offenses and imposes penalties for the manufacture, delivery, or possession of controlled substance analogues.

House Bill 685 also requires manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, or other persons who sell, transfer, or furnish certain named chemical precursors to keep, for at least two years, a record of detailed information regarding each transaction and file a written report with the director of the Department of Public Safety following each transaction. The department may by rule name additional precursors to the list for the purposes of recordkeeping if warranted by an evidenced proliferation of the substance in the illicit manufacture of a controlled substance. A report that has been filed with the department must be updated should the person who filed the report become aware of a change in the information. Records kept under this act must be made available for inspection by a peace officer and a failure to comply with these recordkeeping requirements is a Class A misdemeanor or, if it is a second conviction for the same offense, it is a felony of the third degree. The requirements do not apply to a narcotic product that includes a precursor substance if the product can be bought over the counter.

HOUSE BILL 683
HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Farabee

Under prior law, the admission of a defendant’s juvenile record was inadmissible in a criminal proceeding. House Bill 683 provides that evidence of a defendant’s adjudication of delinquency based on a violation of a penal law of a felony grade may be introduced unless the adjudication was based on conduct committed more than five years before the commission of the offense for which he is on trial and, during the five-year period before trial, the person did not engage in conduct for which he had been found a delinquent child or a child in need of supervision and did not commit an offense for which he had been convicted.
The act allows a prosecuting attorney to examine the juvenile record of a child to obtain admissible evidence for the punishment phase of a criminal proceeding. The juvenile court, on written request, must provide a copy of the record to the prosecuting attorney.

In addition, House Bill 683 directs juvenile court judges, at the beginning of an adjudication hearing, to explain to the child and the child’s parents the law relating to the admissibility of a juvenile court adjudication in a criminal proceeding.

Pretrial Procedure

HOUSE BILL 23
HOUSE AUTHOR: Roberts
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

House Bill 23 amends the Code of Criminal Procedure to provide that a defendant is entitled to a speedy trial which, for a criminal action when the defendant is accused of a felony, means within 180 days from the commencement of the action. Prior law had required a trial to be held within 120 days from the commencement of the action. If the court discharges a defendant because of a failure to provide a speedy trial or because the defendant was in custody and no indictment was presented, the discharge is a bar to further prosecution for the offense discharged or for any other offense arising out of the same transaction, other than an offense of a higher grade that the prosecuting attorney did not have the primary duty to prosecute. When computing the time the state has to prepare for trial, periods of delay that arose because the defendant was a fugitive, forfeited his bail, or resisted being returned to the state, any period where the defendant was released from custody without bail, and any reasonable period of delay caused by exceptional circumstances not under the direct control of the state's attorney, such as time needed to complete a scientific analysis, must be excluded from the computation.

After the conclusion of the 70th Regular Session, the Court of Criminal Appeals held the Texas Speedy Trial Act unconstitutional, and indicated that any changes made by House Bill 23 would not cure the constitutional problems inherent in the act.

The measure additionally gives district attorneys and criminal district attorneys the power to require a justice of the peace to conduct an inquest, requires an inquest to be performed if the deceased is suspected of dying from the sudden infant death syndrome, and provides that a county may, at its own expense, create an office of death investigator to assist persons conducting inquests.

The act also repeals Article 49.23 of the Code of Criminal Procedure that required a justice to preserve and deliver to the district clerk all evidence and possessions that the justice believed showed the real cause of death of a person or the person who caused the death. An appointed counsel is entitled to have 10 days to prepare for a proceeding. The right to counsel may be waived by a defendant on a form provided by the court. The waiver may be withdrawn at any time; however, such a withdrawal would not entitle a defendant to the repeat of a proceeding previously held or waived solely on the grounds of the subsequent appointment or retention of counsel.

Other provisions of Senate Bill 1108 specify factors the court must consider in determining the indigency of a defendant, require an indigent to complete a form to request a court-appointed attorney, and provide for court-appointed attorneys to be compensated for their services according to fee schedules adopted by the county and district criminal judges within each county. The court may require a defendant to pay, in whole or in part, the cost of legal services if it determines he is financially capable of doing so. Finally, the county that paid for an attorney to represent a juvenile in a criminal action may bring a civil action to recover costs against a parent or other person financially responsible for a child if the person is capable of paying for legal services for the child but refuses to do so.

SENATE SPONSOR: Henderson

Current law requires the Board of Pardons and Paroles to notify the sheriff, prosecuting attorney, and district judge in the county where a person was convicted that the parole or clemency of the prisoner is being considered by the board or the governor, at least 10 days before ordering parole or granting clemency. This act requires that the county to which the prisoner is released also receive this notification. In addition, no later than 10 days after transferring a prisoner to a halfway house, the board must notify the sheriff of the county where the prisoner was convicted and the sheriff and felony prosecutor in the county where the halfway house is located of the transfer.

This amendatory act provides that the court may require a person who has been convicted of the offense of indecency with a child, sexual assault, aggravated sexual assault, or injury to a child or an elderly individual, and is being placed on probation, to pay all or a portion of any costs incurred by the victim for psychological counseling on a finding that the probationer is able to make such payments. The act also provides that a municipal or county law enforcement agency that seized property may request that it be returned and converted for agency use, provided that when the agency has completed the intended use of the property, the property is returned to the purchasing agent or sheriff to be placed for sale.

The act also grants the county authority to recover the amount expended in a civil action.

The Board of Pardons and Paroles is required, in criminal cases where there has been a change of venue, to notify certain officers in the county of original prosecution before ordering the parole of a prisoner or at least 10 days after recommending the granting of executive clemency by the governor. This notification is only required if, within 30 days after the date the prisoner was sentenced, those officials requested in writing that they be notified of any future release of the prisoner. The act also requires that the original county of prosecution be included in the information contained in the written judgment of the court.

Senate Bill 43 provides that when a new trial is ordered by a court of appeals or the Court of Criminal Appeals on the basis of an error made in the punishment stage of a trial, the original finding of guilt will stand and only a new hearing on the punishment stage of the trial will be held. Current law requires that the testimony of a child who has been the victim of an offense may be taken in a room other than the courtroom and that such testimony may be televised in the courtroom by closed circuit equipment to the court, the attorneys involved, the finder of fact, any person whose presence would contribute to the well-being of the child, and persons necessary to operate the equipment. The law permits the defendant to observe and hear the testimony of the child but ensures that the child cannot hear or see the defendant. House Bill 2146 amends this law to allow for recesses before or during cross-examination of the child for the defendant’s attorney to confer with his client and expands the number of people who may observe the child’s testimony to include the court reporter.

The child testimony statute, Article 38.071 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, provided for the admissibility of videotaped statements by child victims, the closed circuit presentation of testimony, and the videotaped recording of a child’s testimony for use in trial. The videotape portion of the statute, Section 2, was held unconstitutional by the Court of Criminal Appeals on July 1, 1987.

Senate Bill 66 restructures the statute to allow admissibility of the initial videotape only if the defendant is given the opportunity to videotape a cross-examination of the child, under certain conditions.

In addition, the act requires a person indicted for the offenses of sexual assault or aggravated sexual assault to undergo a test, at the direction of the court, to determine if the person has a sexually transmitted disease, acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) infection, antibodies to HIV, or infection with any other probable causative agent of AIDS. The court shall notify the victim of the alleged offense of the test result.
EDUCATION—HIGHER

Much of the higher education legislation enacted by the 70th Legislature during the Regular Session reflected the recommendations of the Select Committee on Higher Education. The committee had been charged with making a comprehensive study of higher education in the state during the previous interim. In addition to numerous meetings, the committee also commissioned a management audit to study governance, funding, and administrative policies of institutions and systems. The keystone of their report was the basic tenet that an investment in higher education is an investment in Texas’ future economic diversification and prosperity. House Concurrent Resolution 106 contains a comprehensive statement of goals, priorities, and policies in the Texas Charter for Public Higher Education. House Bill 2181 makes the statutory changes necessary to implement the policy statements contained in the charter. Three other bills also implement recommendations of the Select Committee on Higher Education. House Bill 2183 relates to core curriculum; Senate Bill 994 makes major changes regarding teacher education; and House Bill 2182 mandates comprehensive testing of students for skills in reading, writing, and math necessary to perform college-level work.

Recommendations, Select Committee on Higher Education

HOUSE BILL 2181

EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: G. Lewis
SENATE SPONSOR: Parker

House Bill 2181 makes the statutory changes necessary to implement the recommendations of the Select Committee on Higher Education that are contained in the Texas Charter for Public Higher Education (HCR 106).

The name of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System is changed to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, and its responsibilities are enlarged. The board is required to develop a five-year master plan and report annually to the legislature on the current state of higher education. Other new requirements include:

1. developing a policy on transferability of lower division course credit;
2. establishing a management information system;
3. publishing information on admission policies, transfer policies, financial assistance, and other matters of interest to high school students choosing an institution in which to enroll;
4. developing guidelines to report student performance;
5. developing a statewide telecommunications network for teaching and data transmission; and
6. reviewing all doctoral programs offered by higher education institutions.

The board is also given authority to set, by rule, maximum enrollment limits at higher education institutions and to administer funds authorized by the legislature, such as the competitive research awards.

A section is added to the Education Code detailing the responsibilities of governing boards, system administrations, and higher education institutions. Permission is granted to governing boards to charge up to twice the prescribed minimum tuition rates for graduate students. An important exception to the foreign student tuition rate has been granted to Mexican nationals who are enrolled in institutions located in border counties and who can prove financial need. They will be allowed to pay resident tuition rates.

A role and mission statement for public junior colleges is added to the code, as well as a new role and mission statement for Texas State Technical Institute. The previous role and mission statement for TSTI is repealed.

Several important changes in funding procedures are incorporated in the bill. The coordinating board is required to submit a comprehensive summary and analysis of institutional appropriation requests to the governor and each legislature, mandating that the schools submit their requests to the board at the same time the requests are submitted to the Legislative Budget Board. Base funding will be appropriated as a single amount and may be used on an unrestricted basis among the various elements of the base funding formula. Institutions also may keep the unexpended balance of the previous fiscal year appropriations. New incentive and special initiative funding is established for the board to allocate for certain specified purposes. An important statement about faculty compensation policies is added to the code. Governing boards will strive, to the greatest extent possible, to establish compensation for faculty that is at least equal to the nationwide average among similar institutions.
Significant changes in the way the state funds research programs are contained in the bill. The research enhancement program, the advanced research program, and the advanced technology program are established and their purposes, funding, and administration are specified. The awards will be granted competitively on a peer review basis. Materials and equipment purchased with these funds will not be subject to State Purchasing and General Services Commission authority. A research assessment program is also set up to provide for biennial review of all research programs. Each institution will be allowed to keep overhead cost recovery funds generated by research grants, and no more than 50 percent of such funds will be counted to reduce general revenue funds appropriated to the institution.

Several recommendations from the Coopers and Lybrand management audit commissioned by the Select Committee on Higher Education are also included in the bill. The coordinating board is required to adopt management policies regarding human resources and physical plants that are designed to improve productivity and streamline operations. The state auditor and the board are required jointly to prescribe a uniform system of financial accounting and reporting to be used by all institutions for maximum consistency and easier comparison.

The Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board is required to develop minimum performance standards, procedures, and guidelines for administering the test. The testing instrument must be diagnostic in nature, and the same test must be used at all higher education institutions. Performance on the test may not be used as an admission criterion. Students who perform below the prescribed minimum standards must participate in remediation programs provided by the institutions and may not enroll in upper division courses until their test results meet or exceed the minimum standards in all areas. The test will be administered to students beginning in the fall semester of 1989. Institutions are required to report to the coordinating board on an annual basis regarding test results and remediation effectiveness. The reports must identify the high school from which each tested student graduated and include a statement as to whether the student's performance was above or below the standard.

Additional hours may be required for certification in bilingual education, English as a second language, early childhood education, and special education.

The bill requires the Central Education Agency to collect data on the performance of teacher education program graduates on state-mandated exit tests and data on teacher performance on the statewide appraisal system. The Central Education Agency will report this information to the respective higher education institutions and to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board. The data will be included in deliberations on accreditation status for teacher education programs.

A comprehensive teacher induction program will be developed by the State Board of Education and the coordinating board. The program will include a year of teaching supervised cooperatively by a team of experienced teachers, school administrators, and university faculty. The State Board of Education and the coordinating board will also be required to develop and implement a program designed to identify and recruit talented students into the teaching profession.

The students will also be allowed to attend college courses and receive college credit for them. The academy is entitled to foundation school program allotments, and the regents are authorized to use available funds and accept grants for the academy's operation. An advisory board is established to make recommendations on certain specified subjects and to conduct annual program evaluations. If funding is available, the academy may begin operations on January 2, 1988.

EDUCATION—PUBLIC

The most notable occurrence relating to public education during the 70th Legislature's Regular Session was not a bill, but a landmark court decision that may radically change the way the state funds public schools. On April 29, 1987, State District Judge Harley Clark handed down his decision in Edgewood Independent School District v. Kirby, a decision that the current system of state aid allocation was unconstitutional and should be set aside. The judge gave the state until September 1, 1990, to develop a different approach to public school funding.

The lawsuit, filed in 1984, pitted 67 property-poor school districts against 48 wealthier districts. The poor districts argued that the current system of state fund allocation, even with equalization enrichment added in 1984, denied children from property-poor districts an equal educational opportunity because of the wide disparity in spending per pupil across the state. The average expenditure per student in the 100 wealthiest school districts in 1985-1986 was $7,233; in the 100 poorest districts, the average expenditure amounted to $2,978. The average tax rate in the poorest districts was 74¢ per $100 valuation; the wealthiest districts had an average tax rate of 47¢ per $100 valuation. As a result of the differences in property tax bases across the state, it takes a much greater effort in poor districts to raise needed tax dollars than the effort required in wealthy districts.

The ruling came too late in the session for the legislature to respond. A decision has been made to appeal the ruling. However, the issue will be one that must be considered in future sessions.

The other noteworthy occurrence in the public education area was the failure of most attempts to alter the omnibus school reforms enacted in 1984. One measure of interest to public school teachers, however, is Senate Bill 335, which repeals the provision mandating subject area testing of already licensed teachers. This provision had not been implemented because of the estimated cost of developing such tests. During the 2nd Called Session, Senate Bill 86 was passed, which calls for a referendum to determine if the State Board of Education should stay an appointed board or revert to an elected body in 1989, as mandated by current law.

ELECTIONS

In the wake of the enactment of the Election Code two years ago, legislative activity in this area was relatively light. Measures were enacted relating to voter registration, candidates for office, election administration, and other matters, but the highlights of elections legislation in the 70th Legislature were House Bill 1818, a total revision of statutes regulating political funds and campaigns, and House Bill 1412, which provides greater safeguards against ballot tabulation fraud in computer voting systems.

Campaign Finance

HOUSE AUTHOR: Hilbert
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

The substantive revision of the Election Code enacted by the 69th Legislature transferred the old law regulating political funds and campaigns to Title 15 of the code without any substantive changes. House Bill 1818, a total revision of Title 15, eliminates conflicts and inconsistencies, clarifies vague and ambiguous provisions, deletes or replaces invalid or obsolete provisions, standardizes variant procedures, replaces unworkable procedures, and makes the statute more coherent and organized. The bill makes a number of important changes from current law, including:

1. Specific-purpose committees are prohibited from converting political contributions to the personal use of a candidate, officeholder, former candidate, or former officeholder. A candidate or officeholder who makes expenditures from his personal funds for campaign or officeholder purposes may be reimbursed for those expenditures from political contributions and may pay federal income taxes due on interest and other income earned on political contributions from those contributions.

2. A general-purpose committee is prohibited from making political contributions or expenditures until it has had its campaign treasurer appointment on file for 60 days and has accepted political contributions from at least 10 persons. A general-purpose committee also may not make a contribution to another general-purpose committee unless the other committee is listed in the campaign treasurer appointment of the contributor committee.

3. Reporting schedules regarding political funds are standardized for candidates, specific-purpose committees, and general-purpose committees.

4. An officeholder who is required to file with an authority other than the secretary of state and who has not accepted political contributions that exceed $500 or made political expenditures that exceed $500 by the end of a reporting period is not required to file a report covering that period.

5. A prevailing defendant in a suit for damages involving unlawful campaign contributions or expenditures or unlawful reporting of political contributions or expenditures may recover attorney's fees.

6. Exceptions to the restrictions on making or accepting political contributions immediately before or during a regular legislative session are made for two circumstances: (a) to defray expenses incurred in connection with an election contest; and (b) for use by a person who was defeated at the general election held immediately before the session was convened by a specific-purpose committee supporting only that person.

7. Loans made for campaign or officeholder purposes that in the aggregate exceed $50 must be reported. The report must include the dates of loans, the interest rate if below the prime rate on the date of the loan, and the full names of the makers and guarantors of the loans.

8. Persons other than officeholders are prohibited from using a representation of the Great Seal of Texas in political advertising.

HOUSE AUTHOR: Schlueeter
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

Current law requires a specific-purpose committee in an election involving a state or district office to file with the secretary of state a written appointment of a campaign treasurer. House Bill 1608 requires the written appointment to include the name of the candidate the committee supports or opposes and the office sought by the candidate. The committee is also required to immediately file an amended appointment if that information changes.

The bill also reduces the number of reports of political funds required to be filed by specific-purpose committees organized in support of only unopposed candidates. Instead of the three or four reports required of opposed candidates and other specific-purpose committees, these committees will be required to file only semiannual reports under the same schedule provided for unopposed candidates.

HOUSE BILL 2002
EFFECTIVE: 6-11-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: P. Hill
SENATE SPONSOR: Henderson

House Bill 2002 brings the deadline for candidates required to file financial statements into line with the new primary date enacted by the 69th Legislature in its 1st Called Session. For candidates filing under the regular deadline for the general primary election, the filing period is expanded from 30 to 40 days and the 15-day extension is eliminated. The bill also gives the secretary of state 15, rather than 10, days to mail copies of the financial statement form to candidates.

Ballot Processing

SENATE BILL 1071
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Krier
HOUSE SPONSOR: Madla

Under current law, a ballot voted absentee by mail must be returned to the absentee voting clerk by mail in the official carrier envelope or it will not be counted. Senate Bill 1071 allows the carrier envelope to be delivered in another envelope and specifies that it must be delivered by mail or by common or contract carrier.

HOUSE BILL 1412
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Hackney
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

Technological advances have led to the development of computer voting systems that are vulnerable to ballot tabulation fraud. House Bill 1412 provides a variety of safeguards against such fraud. The major provisions of the bill include expansion of the secretary of state’s authority to inspect and approve voting systems, equipment, and software; requirements for security measures for ballot boxes and computer terminals; requirements for testing equipment in systems with decentralized ballot tabulation; and provisions for recounting and checking results. In addition, the bill allows for an initial recount of electronic voting system results without a specific ground. Normally, an initial recount of election results may be obtained only if one of several statutorily defined circumstances exists.

HOUSE BILL 1775
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: H. Cuellar
SENATE SPONSOR: Zaffirini

House Bill 1775 adds language to the law relating to unlawful removal of voted ballots from a ballot box so that the act is an offense only if a person commits it knowingly or intentionally. The bill also upgrades the offense of removing voted ballots from a ballot box from a Class A misdemeanor to a third degree felony and upgrades the offense of attempting to remove voted ballots from a Class B misdemeanor to a Class A misdemeanor.

HOUSE BILL 1854
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Horn
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

House Bill 1854 amends the procedure for entering on the election returns the election results registered on a mechanical voting machine that produces a printout of the votes cast. In a case where a printout is illegible, the bill gives the presiding election judge the authority to open the sealed registering counters on the night of the election and, with the aid of an election clerk, enter the results on the returns. Under current law, the local canvassing authority would have to be brought in at a later date to open the counters and enter the results on the returns.

The bill also clarifies the requirement that damaged or partially invalid ballots that are duplicated for automatic counting must bear the serial number of the original ballot.

HOUSE BILL 1855
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Horn
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

House Bill 1855 applies the eligibility requirements prescribed for precinct election judges to central counting station managers, those for precinct presiding judges to presiding judges of central counting stations, and those for precinct election clerks to counting station clerks. The bill also disqualifies officers of a political subdivision from service at a central counting station, but allows the general custodian of election records to serve as manager or presiding judge of a central counting station notwithstanding the custodian’s status as a candidate.

85

HOUSE BILL 19 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 10-20-87

House Bill 19 makes a number of changes in the Election Code relating to recounts of elections. Among the major provisions of the bill are new provisions governing the withdrawal of a recount petition; deadlines for reviewing a recount petition for compliance with legal requirements and for scheduling the recount; additional eligibility requirements for a member of the recount committee; provisions for a second recount of disputed ballots; provisions for representation of a political party or a specific-purpose committee at a recount; and provisions excluding recording devices and bystanders from the area in which a recount is being conducted.

Voter Registration

SENATE BILL 1441
EFFECTIVE: see below

Senate Bill 1441 amends a number of provisions in the Election Code relating to voter registration applications. It provides: (1) that omission of an applicant’s zip code does not invalidate a voter registration application; (2) that an applicant may appoint an agent to submit a document correcting registration information on his behalf; (3) that the offense of attempting to induce another person to make a false statement on a registration application is changed from a third degree felony to a Class B misdemeanor; (4) that it is a Class B misdemeanor offense for a person to knowingly make a false statement on a registration application; and (5) that a registration certificate for a voter whose residence has no address must contain a concise description of the location of the voter’s residence. This description must also appear on the voter registrar’s original and supplemental lists of registered voters.

Under current law, if a voter’s registration renewal certificate is returned undelivered, and a notation to that effect appears on the precinct list of registered voters when he appears at the polling place, the voter may vote in that precinct by executing an affidavit of residence. Senate Bill 1441 requires a voter registrar to provide affidavits of residence to election authorities in a number equal to at least 10 percent of the voters in each precinct whose names appear on the list of returned certificates.

A voter registrar is required by the bill to cancel a voter’s registration immediately on receipt of notice that the voter has applied for a limited ballot in another county or that the voter has registered to vote outside the state. An absentee voting clerk must notify the voter registrar in a voter’s former county of residence that the voter has applied for a limited ballot within 30 days of having received the application.

A voter registrar is also required by the bill to deliver the lists of registered voters to election authorities before the beginning of absentee voting by mail in an election. Current law sets the beginning of absentee voting in person as the deadline for delivery of the list.

Finally, the bill changes various dates to adjust the voting year to the new March primary date. These changes affect voter registration certificate expiration dates and deadlines for filing reports with the secretary of state on voter registration by precinct, returned registration certificates, and new, canceled, and changed registrations. The dates relating to changing precinct boundaries are also changed. Except for the precinct boundary date changes, all date adjustments take effect September 1, 1989. All other parts of the bill take effect September 1, 1987.

HOUSE BILL 613
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 613 adds the city or county and state, or foreign country, in which an applicant was born to the list of items that must be included on a voter registration application.

Political Candidates

SENATE BILL 935
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Current law requires a candidate for municipal elected office to file an application for a place on the ballot no later than the 45th day prior to the election. Senate Bill 935 provides that, if no candidate files for a place on the ballot for an office by the deadline, the filing deadline for that office is extended to 5 p.m. of the 40th day before the election. The act affects only cities with four-year council terms (Lubbock only).

SENATE BILL 495

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Green
HOUSE SPONSOR: Hackney

Senate Bill 495 conforms the Election Code to acts of the 69th Legislature relating to filing fees and petitions required to accompany an application for a place on the general primary election ballot. The bill also changes requirements for certain judicial candidates in counties with a population of more than 2,400,000 (Harris only). Current law requires judicial candidates in Harris County, except justices of the peace, who do not submit a filing fee plus a petition with 250 signatures to submit a petition with 500 signatures. Justices of the peace may submit either a fee only or a petition with 500 signatures. Under Senate Bill 495, all these candidates must submit either a filing fee and a petition with 250 signatures or no fee and a petition with 750 signatures.

HOUSE BILL 1853

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Horn
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

House Bill 1853 clarifies election law relating to the regular filing deadline for an application for a place on the ballot by an independent candidate in the general election by adding a provision that an application filed by mail is considered to be filed at the time of its receipt by the appropriate authority.

HOUSE BILL 1956

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Grusendorf
SENATE SPONSOR: Parmer

House Bill 1956 changes the language regarding the applicability of the subchapter containing general provisions for candidates’ petitions so that the reference is to each petition filed in connection with a candidate’s application for a place on the ballot rather than to a petition filed under the code in connection with such an application.

HOUSE BILL 2276

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Finnell
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

A candidate’s application for a place on the general primary election ballot must be accompanied by the appropriate filing fee or a petition that satisfies certain requirements. House Bill 2276 increases the minimum number of signatures that must appear on the petition.

Election Administration

HOUSE BILL 50

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Hackney
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

House Bill 50 requires the presiding judge at a polling place to post written notice, beginning at 9:30 a.m. and at each two-hour interval until 5:30 p.m., of the total number of registered voters who have voted in that precinct. The notice must be posted at an outside entrance to the polling place on an official form prescribed by the secretary of state. Prior to the opening of the polls, at all entrances that a voter may use, the judge must also post a written notice of the date, hour, and place for convening the precinct convention.

HOUSE BILL 1052

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: C. Evans
SENATE SPONSOR: Sarpalus

The Election Code provides that, in addition to other election notices, a notice must be posted on the bulletin board used to post notices of the meetings of the governing body of the political subdivision that the election authority serves. House Bill 1052 requires this notice to include the location of each polling place.

Currently, if precincts are consolidated for a primary election, election notices must state which precincts have been combined to form each consolidated precinct and the location of the polling place in each consolidated precinct. For each precinct that has been combined, at the polling place used in the preceding general election, notice of the precinct’s consolidation and the location of the polling place in the consolidated precinct must be posted. The notice must remain posted continuously from the 10th day before the election through election day. In House Bill 1052, these requirements are moved to other sections of the Election Code and made applicable to special elections also.
HOUSE BILL 1090
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1090 makes it a Class C misdemeanor offense to violate restrictions on assessing a charge for the use of a public building for a polling place.

HOUSE BILL 2369
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 2369 amends the list of requirements for a certificate of appointment for a poll watcher to include the signature of the appointee. Further, the bill requires that when the watcher reports for service, the presiding judge shall require the watcher to countersign the certificate to ensure that the watcher is the same person who originally signed the certificate.

Political Parties

HOUSE BILL 2144
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Under current law, in a county that is situated in more than one senatorial district, a senatorial district convention must be held in each part of the county that is situated in a different senatorial district. House Bill 2144 allows such counties to hold a county convention if the political party rules permit them to do so.

HOUSE BILL 2370
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Under current law, a precinct convention chairman is required to deliver a list of convention participants and a list of delegates and alternates selected by the convention to the county clerk. House Bill 2370 requires originals and copies of these records to be delivered to the party’s county chairman instead. The county chairman is to retain the copies of the lists until the end of the voting year in which they are received.

HOUSE BILL 2417
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 2417 requires the voter registrar to deliver precinct lists of registered voters used for a primary election to the party county chairman as soon as practicable after a request and before the beginning of absentee voting in person for the election in which the lists are to be used. The bill also provides that the acceptance of each voter for voting in the primary election shall be indicated on the precinct list of registered voters furnished for use in the party’s conventions at the same time that acceptance is indicated on the list furnished for use in the election. Finally, the presiding judge in a primary election is required to retain and provide at the appropriate time the list of registered voters to be used in the party’s conventions.

Miscellaneous

HOUSE BILL 2364
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHORITY: Hackney
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

House Bill 2364 eliminates the requirement that the office title be printed on a ballot if there are no candidates on the ballot for that particular office and write-in votes are not permitted by law. Also, in an election in which write-in votes may be counted only for names appearing on a list of write-in candidates, if no candidate's name is to appear on either the ballot or the list of write-in candidates for the particular office, the office title is not required to be printed on the ballot.

The bill also amends the wording of ballot instructions relating to a contest in which more than one candidate is to be elected. Instead of “vote for” and the number of candidates to be elected, the instructions are to read “vote for none, one, two, . . . or _______,” so that a voter clearly understands that he has the option of voting for less than the total number of offices to be filled.

The bill also provides that, if no candidate's name appears on the list of write-in candidates for a particular office in an election in which write-in votes may be counted only for names appearing on the list, a write-in space is not required for that office on an electronic system ballot on which a voter indicates a vote by making a mark on the ballot.

HOUSE BILL 2371
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHORITY: Hackney
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

Current law requires that ballot box no. 3 must contain, among other items, a copy of the poll list. Because the computer-generated poll list for Harris County will not fit into the ballot box, House Bill 2371 allows the copy of the list to be placed in another container if the secretary of state determines that placement in the other container is more suitable for a particular election.

HOUSE BILL 28 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 10-20-87

HOUSE AUTHORITY: C. Evans
SENATE SPONSOR: McFarland

House Bill 28 makes several changes in current law relating to election dates. The bill changes one of the uniform election dates from the third to the first Saturday in May and provides that a resulting runoff election is to be held on one of the last two Saturdays in May. The bill also qualifies the exclusion of bond elections from the uniform election date requirement so that the entity holding the election is required to issue a conclusive and incontestable finding that holding the election on a different date is in the public interest. An election for the levy of a tax for the maintenance of a public school or college, unless ordered before the effective date of this act, is no longer exempt from the uniform election date provisions.

The bill also allows a city bordering the Gulf of Mexico and having a population of more than 230,000 (Corpus Christi only) to continue to hold its general election for officers on any Saturday in April in odd-numbered years. Other sections of the bill relate to political subdivisions' options for changing election dates.
ENERGY

Energy legislation in the 70th Legislature included the Oil Overcharge Restitutionary Act (Senate Bill 33 from the 2nd Called Session) and a measure to further encourage cogeneration (Senate Bill 141). Certain measures relating to mineral leasing are summarized in the chapter on public lands.

Oil Overcharge

SENATE BILL 33 (2nd C.S.)  SENATE AUTHOR:  Jones
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87  HOUSE SPONSOR:  Ceverha

Recent litigation has resulted in the award to Texas consumers of more than $200 million through judgments, settlements, and agreements relating to overcharges for crude oil and refined petroleum products during the period from 1973 to 1981 of mandatory federal price controls on those items. The State of Texas, as trustee of the funds, must devise a program consistent with federal guidelines for the restitution of that money to those aggrieved energy consumers.

The Oil Overcharge Restitutionary Act, Senate Bill 33 from the 2nd Called Session, authorizes for the 1988-1989 fiscal biennium 23 disbursement programs. The programs include an allocation to Texas' Native American citizens; several types of low-income energy assistance, including subsidies for utility service and the weatherization of residences; grants to public and nonprofit schools and health care facilities to identify and install promising energy conservation measures; grants to municipalities for energy audits and transportation-related energy savings; funding of mass transit and other transportation energy programs, including the study of high-speed rail transit; support for energy conservation in the agricultural sector; energy conservation assistance to community foundations serving the nonprofit sector; energy audits, extension services, and other energy conservation projects broadly serving the public and private sectors, including Texas businesses; a similarly targeted revolving loan program to finance energy-saving capital improvements; funding of energy research and development, including research relating to alternative energy and enhanced oil and gas recovery; support for research in high energy physics; funding of the state's Office of Public Utility Counsel for consumer-related energy conservation activities; plugging of abandoned oil and gas wells; and assistance to the shrimping industry in converting to new fishing technology.

The Oil Overcharge Restitutionary Act establishes an oil overcharge account in the general revenue fund and transfers to it all money derived from oil overcharge litigation, including future amounts. The comptroller of public accounts is directed, within that account, to separately track the various cases and settlements from which funds are derived and to track how the funds from each source are used and expended. Actual funding is activated by Article V, Section 81, of Senate Bill 1 (general appropriations act), which appropriates to the 23 programs a total of $234,250,000, including $98,600,000 for the revolving loan program. Authorization for spending these funds, under Senate Bill 33, expires September 1, 1989.

The Oil Overcharge Restitutionary Act vests administration of the 23 programs with the governor's office, which can make individual grants or finance individual projects within those programs contingent on approval by a two-member review committee consisting of the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house of representatives. The governor's office is assisted by a three-member technical advisory panel. The governor's office is given authority to develop criteria for project eligibility and evaluation, and for some programs has discretion to require that recipients match the grants from the oil overcharge account or otherwise share in project costs.

Each of the 23 programs created by the Oil Overcharge Restitutionary Act is under the supervision of a state agency. In some cases the act specifies the agency and in other cases the governor's office makes the determination. The governor's office also has the authority to establish additional grant programs beyond the 23 that are cited.

The legislation transfers to the governor's office the energy efficiency division of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. That transfer supersedes provisions of Senate Bill 115 from the Regular Session transferring the division to the State Purchasing and General Services Commission, and renders the earlier transfer ineffective.

The energy efficiency division continues its administration of various federal energy conservation programs and becomes the supervising agency for certain of the state restitutionary programs. The governor's office, through the division, is directed to adopt energy conservation design standards applicable to new buildings constructed by state agencies and by state-supported colleges and universities. The office and division are empowered to adopt energy conservation rules for existing buildings and to encourage or implement renovations and retrofits to improve the energy efficiency of those buildings. Other duties of the division include the maintenance of data on energy use among state-owned buildings; the training of designated state-government personnel in energy management; the provision of technical energy assistance, including advice on utility purchases and the financing of capital improvements; the monitoring of utility bills in conjunction with state agencies and the state auditor's office; and the preparation for possible adoption by city governments of model energy conservation building codes.

House Bill 2597, discussed in the chapter on appropriations, awards another $1.5 million in oil overcharge funds to the Texas Center for Superconductivity.

Oil and Gas Production

HOUSE BILL 2143

EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: McKinney

SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

Under the "relinquishment act," (Subchapter F, Chapter 52, Natural Resources Code) pertaining to land on which the state owns mineral but not surface rights, the surface owner of the property is designated as agent of the state for purposes of negotiating oil and gas leases. For service as the state's agent, the surface owner shares in resultant lease proceeds.

In 1985, the 69th Legislature enacted a measure to reduce certain abuses whereby some surface owners were leasing to themselves or to businesses or other close associates. The 1985 legislation prohibited this practice and also put restrictions on practices whereby surface owners reacquired leases by assignment from the first lessee and subleased to a second lessee without the state receiving a share of the proceeds from the second lease.

A major part of the 1985 law was the imposition on surface owners of a fiduciary duty to act in good faith on behalf of the state in leasing for oil and gas purposes. For certain breaches of that duty the surface owner can possibly forfeit his status as the state's leasing agent. In such cases the state reassumes leasing powers and, under the provisions of House Bill 2143, the forfeiting surface owner loses entitlement to any share of revenue from future leases by the state.

House Bill 2143 imposes fiduciary responsibilities, similar to those for oil and gas, on surface owners leasing for development of lignite, coal, sulfur, potash, uranium, and thorium ("soft" minerals). The prohibition against self-dealing again applies, with breaches of duty leading to (1) a penalty of 10 percent on sums due the state as a result of the breach; (2) possible forfeiture of rights as the state's leasing agent; and (3) the concomitant loss of a share of future revenue in the event of such forfeiture. The legislation amends prospecting provisions relating to uranium, thorium, and salt. Also, it revises mineral leasing laws covering situations where the surface owner cannot be located.

HOUSE BILL 2056

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wallace

SENATE SPONSOR: Green

This act makes numerous detailed changes relating to the leasing of public land, primarily leasing for oil and gas. On Gulf and tidewater land, the changes in the law authorize a temporary, three-year royalty reduction for gas leased by royalty bid at a rate exceeding 25 percent, except for gas that has been pooled or unitized. The reduction authorization, which varies according to the value of the gas, applies to gas valued below $3 per thousand cubic feet and produced from the lease between September 1, 1987, and September 1, 1990. The School Land Board has discretion whether to grant the authorized reduction.

The act gives the commissioner of the General Land Office or other applicable state officials the discretion to set monthly deadlines for royalty payments. However, those dates may not be set earlier than the previous monthly deadlines established by law. For state-owned land rented for purposes such as grazing, the legislation provides for a 10 percent penalty on rent overdue by 15 days. Lessees for soft minerals, meanwhile, become liable for payment of damages resulting from incidental surface activities.

A surface owner acting as the state's agent for oil and gas leasing on relinquishment land, should he breach his fiduciary duty, must pay a penalty of 10 percent on the sum due the state as a result of the breach. This is the same penalty as is imposed by House Bill 2143 on a surface owner acting as the state’s agent on relinquishment land for other types of mineral leasing.

House Bill 2056 amends time requirements relating to the payment of shut-in royalties and the duration of leases and lease extensions if drainage production occurs on land adjacent to the shut-in lease. Generally, the act standardizes provisions applicable to such drainage, enabling the lessee to pay the state compensatory royalties in lieu of drilling offset wells.

State audits of lessee records are made confidential and limits are placed on the state’s ability to perform repeat audits of the same records. Also, filing procedures relating to assignments and releases are modified, and a person to whom a lease is transferred must assume associated liability for unpaid royalties to the state.

Various sections of House Bill 2056 amend statutes relating to free royalty interests. Other sections deal with the disposition of escrow accounts on protest payments, the waiver or forfeiture of preferential leasing rights by adjacent mineral owners, delay rentals applicable to leases that are the subject of litigation, procedures governing lease suspension, and other topics.

A portion of the act also relates to the Antiquities Committee. That part is summarized in the chapter on state government.

HOUSE BILL 1030
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Craddick
SENATE SPONSOR: Sims

House Bill 1030 prescribes the procedure for timely mailing of royalty payments under leases of permanent university land. Previously, a royalty payment was considered timely only if it was received by the due date. The bill provides that a postmark by the due date is sufficient.

HOUSE BILL 2363
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Hackney
SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

House Bill 2363 applies to any suit filed on or after August 31, 1987, by an oil or gas royalty recipient to recover his share of any proceeds from the sale of oil or gas, and provides for the judicial award to successful plaintiffs of reasonable attorney’s fees and minimum damages of $200.

HOUSE BILL 2591
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Craddick
SENATE SPONSOR: Uribe

House Bill 2591 authorizes a third-party first purchaser of oil or gas, meaning a first purchaser other than the operator of the well, to discharge his or her security obligations by paying the operator if arrangements have been made for that operator to collect sums on behalf of those with ownership interests in the oil or gas. In such case, the owners’ secured interest applies thereafter to the operator, relieving the third-party purchaser of double liability in certain bankruptcy situations.

SENATE BILL 825
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE AUTHOR: McFarland
HOUSE SPONSOR: C. Evans

The Natural Resources Code makes unlawful the production, storage, or transportation of oil or gas so as to cause waste. A party owning an interest in oil or gas may sue another for injurious waste. Senate Bill 825 amends the code to allow a defendant in such a suit to use as a defense the “reasonably prudent operator” standard (the standard of conduct that a reasonably prudent operator would have followed, given the same circumstances).

Energy Utilities

SENATE BILL 141
EFFECTIVE: 6-11-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: Laney

Cogeneration, the combined-process generation of electric power and industrial heat, was the subject of interim study by the Joint Special Committee on Cogeneration, established by the 69th Legislature. Senate Bill 141 implements one of the committee’s recommendations.

Under the new law, a cogenerator or other small power producer, and the utility to which the cogenerator or producer plans to supply firm electric power, may submit the completed or tentative agreement to the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for certification. If the PUC determines that statutory conditions are met, or if the PUC fails to reach a determination within the statutory deadline, certification is granted for the life of the agreement or for 15 years, whichever is the shorter duration. Certification entitles the utility to have its payments under the agreement considered as reasonable and necessary operating expenses in PUC ratemaking proceedings, and provides additional contractual guarantees to the utility, supplier, and third-party financiers.

SENATE BILL 142
EFFECTIVE: 6-11-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: Laney

The Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) issues or denies certificates of convenience and necessity for various types of energy facilities. Senate Bill 142, pertaining to new electric transmission facilities, requires the PUC to act on a certificate application within one year of its filing. Otherwise, a writ of mandamus may be sought in a Travis County district court to compel the PUC to approve or deny the application. The legislation affects only applications filed after June 11, 1987.

SENATE BILL 344
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Harris
HOUSE SPONSOR: Perry

A gas utility, as a regulated entity, has a duty to maintain a gas supply and distribution system for customers or former customers to which it previously has extended service. Senate Bill 344 relieves a gas utility of the duty to maintain sufficient gas supplies and physical capacity to serve a large-volume contract customer who reduces or ceases service from the utility and purchases gas or an alternate energy source elsewhere, except to the extent that the customer continues to purchase service from the utility or to the extent that the utility is contractually obligated to maintain specified levels of service. The measure does not diminish the authority of the Railroad Commission of Texas to apportion gas under curtailment plans and to require utilities to comply with related orders.

SENATE BILL 1036
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Tejeda
HOUSE SPONSOR: Morales

Certain corporations furnishing natural gas, electricity, and power may exercise the power of eminent domain. Senate Bill 1036 authorizes such a corporation to exercise its eminent domain authority should it become a general partner in a partnership or other combination.

Liquefied Petroleum Gas

HOUSE BILL 1260
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: R. Lewis
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

This act regulates the filling and servicing of butane or other liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) tanks that typically are sold or leased to a user and filled and serviced contractually by the installer or some other dealer. House Bill 1260 prohibits the selling, filling, servicing, delivery, or use of an LPG tank except by the owner, or by a person having written authorization from the owner, or except in cases of emergency, when the filling of a tank by someone else is allowed if the owner is unavailable and the person occupying the premises signs a written request for service. It is a misdemeanor if a written request from the occupier of any premises is obtained under false pretenses, if any of the prohibitions described in the act are violated, or if someone besides the owner tampers in any way with a container or its fixtures.

SENATE BILL 1177
EFFECTIVE: 6-11-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Armbrister
HOUSE SPONSOR: Gibson

This act authorizes the Railroad Commission of Texas, in considering a license or license renewal application for liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) handlers, to take into account any past safety noncompliance by the applicant, and directs the commission to deny a license or license renewal if the applicant has a history of noncompliance. The commission, by rule, may establish courses of instruction for prospective LPG handlers, for licensees who have not maintained necessary qualifications, or for those who have had their licenses revoked. Other provisions provide probation periods; increase the minimum fine for first-time misdemeanor violations of LPG laws from $25 to $100; clarify requirements relating to licensees’ proof of insurance; allow the commission to establish certain fees; and delete provisions, applicable to master plumbers and journeymen, that previously exempted them from obtaining a license for purposes of LPG installation or repair.
ENVIRONMENT/WATER

The 70th Legislature passed several water finance measures in 1987, including Senate Joint Resolution 54 proposing a constitutional amendment to authorize an additional $400 million in water development bonds. Senate Bill 807 and House Bill 734, respectively, create a revolving loan program to finance local wastewater treatment facilities and establish a Texas Water Resources Finance Authority to purchase local water bond issuances. Water utility legislation was limited to House Bill 1459, which enacted noteworthy changes to water ratemaking procedures. Senate Bill 683, meanwhile, continued bay and estuary studies applicable ultimately to water development and water rights permits. Among water quality legislation, Senate Bill 779 creates a new program for the regulation of underground storage tanks. House Bill 1875, similarly, establishes a program for the regulation of on-site sewage disposal systems. Solid waste legislation was highlighted by Senate Bill 39 creating a Hazardous Waste Research Center at Lamar University in Beaumont and by House Bill 2051 applying to municipal solid waste and sludge the same type of management hierarchy applied by the previous legislature to hazardous waste. Two measures, House Bill 72 from the 2nd Called Session and House Bill 822, move Texas closer to the selection and opening of a site for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste. Also, House Bill 1353 and House Bill 908 give the Department of Public Safety greater responsibility with respect to the transport of hazardous materials. Finally, the 70th Legislature passed three new laws relating to air quality.

Water Project Finance

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 54
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

Senate Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize issuance by the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) of an additional $400 million in water development bonds. Of the total, $200 million would be allocated to water supply projects, $150 million to water quality enhancement projects (potentially supporting the federal matching fund requirements of Senate Bill 807), and $50 million to flood control. The amendment would authorize the review and approval, by a statutorily designated entity containing officials of the three branches of state government, of (1) bond issuance, (2) use of bond proceeds, and (3) related TWDB rules.

HOUSE BILL 72 (2nd C.S.)
HOUSE AUTHORE: T. Smith
EFFECTIVE: see below
SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

This act is the enabling legislation for Senate Joint Resolution 54 from the Regular Session and takes effect if and when the constitutional amendment proposed by that joint resolution is approved by Texas voters. The act makes conforming amendments to the Water Code to authorize $400 million of additional water development bonds, allocated as described in the preceding summary. After January 1, 1988, the (1) issuance of bonds or (2) use of bond proceeds to finance water projects is prohibited unless the issuance or project has been approved by the state’s bond review board (created by Senate Bill 1027 from the Regular Session, the summary for which is found in the chapter on state government).

SENATE BILL 807
EFFECTIVE: 6-17-87
SENATE AUTHOR: McFarland
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

Recent legislation of the United States Congress has phased out a federal grant program supporting the construction and upgrade of local wastewater treatment facilities. That program is being replaced with a revolving loan program for the same purpose that requires 20 percent matching funds from the states. Senate Bill 807 creates a water pollution control fund at the state level composed of 80 percent federal funds, legislative appropriations, transfers from the Texas Water Development Board’s existing water quality enhancement account, and other sources. The TWDB, as administrator of the fund, may make loans at below-market rates or interest-free. The maximum life of the loans is 20 years beyond the completion of the treatment facilities that they finance. The fund can also be used to provide loan guarantees, buy or refinance debt obligations of local governments, or otherwise assist with the financing of treatment facilities.

Senate Bill 807 also authorizes a revenue bond program, with proceeds from bond sales directed to a new water resource fund and used, among other things, to provide the state’s 20 percent matching funds for water pollution control. Contingent on adoption by local recipients of water conservation programs, the second fund can be used for various other types of financial assistance.
HOUSE BILL 734

EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

House Bill 734, known as the "defeasance" bill, creates the Texas Water Resources Finance Authority, with powers to issue revenue debt in the open market and to use the proceeds to purchase from the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) water project bonds of local political subdivisions held within the TWDB’s portfolio. The intent is to avoid the potential situation where payback revenue from local water projects is insufficient to cover demands on the TWDB’s own bond issuances. In that situation, under current law, the TWDB can either tap the state’s general revenue or can sell part of its portfolio on the open market (or back to the political subdivisions) to cover the deficiency. Under House Bill 734, the TWDB can also defease, or pay off, some of its outstanding debt by selling portions of its portfolio instead to the Texas Water Resources Finance Authority. The authority, as an entity of the state, would preserve state control of the political subdivisions’ bonds though without pledging the state’s credit. The authority’s purchase of bonds from the TWDB would be financed by the authority’s issuance of its own privately insured revenue debt, making the authority the ultimate recipient of payback proceeds from the local water projects.

The first section of House Bill 734 delineates the powers of the Texas Water Resources Finance Authority, which is governed by a board of directors of six members identical to the board membership of the TWDB. The legislation allows the authority, on approval by the bond review board created by Senate Bill 1027 (state government chapter), to issue bonds with a 50-year maximum maturation rate and an interest rate up to the maximum net effective rate allowed by law. House Bill 734 also empowers the authority to use its bond proceeds to purchase political subdivisions’ bonds from the TWDB and to contract for the latter to collect income on those bonds. Should a political subdivision default on bonds held by the authority, the state attorney general is directed to intervene legally. The authority can sue or be sued, but its officials have no personal liability. An annual financial audit of the authority must be conducted either by the state auditor or by an outside accountant.

Subsequent sections of House Bill 734 authorize the sale of bonds by the TWDB to the authority. The TWDB need not first give the applicable political subdivision preferential opportunity to purchase the bonds, nor need the TWDB advertise the sale or take competitive bids. The TWDB may also contract to sell bonds to the authority in advance of actually purchasing them. Mirroring the first section, provisions relating to the TWDB allow it to enter into a contract to ensure debt service by political subdivisions on bonds that it sells to the authority.

SENATE BILL 259

EFFECTIVE: 3-24-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

Senate Bill 259 amends the Water Code by permitting the Texas Water Development Board to invest certain money credited to the development fund and money in the interest and sinking fund in obligations of the state or of any political subdivision in the United States. Under this act, the board may determine the lending rate. The act repeals several earlier provisions of the Water Code.

SENATE BILL 324

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: Yost

This act, reversing the roles provided for in previous law, assigns to the Texas Water Development Board responsibility for reviewing the feasibility of proposed federal water projects and assigns to the Texas Water Commission responsibility for designating local sponsorship of federal water projects.

SENATE BILL 410

EFFECTIVE: 5-26-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

In 1985 the legislature approved a law and Texas voters approved a constitutional amendment enabling creation of an agricultural soil and water conservation program. One part of that program offers grants to water districts to purchase equipment to evaluate the efficiency of irrigation systems. Another part offers loans to underground water conservation districts and to soil and water conservation districts, who in turn make low-interest loans to farmers and ranchers to adopt more efficient irrigation systems. Senate Bill 410 extends the pilot loan component through fiscal 1989 to allow the use of unspent funds and authorizes loans to irrigation districts for loans to farmers and ranchers or for conversion of districts’ irrigation water delivery systems. It extends the grants component to dryland and rangeland water conservation projects and expands the uses of grants to include demonstration activities as well as measurement and evaluation.

SENATE BILL 585

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Santiesteban

HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

This act reorganizes, clarifies, and standardizes portions of the Water Code dealing with financial assistance to local governments by the Texas Water Development Board. The act more explicitly defines the nature of water supply projects, water quality enhancement works and projects, and flood control measures eligible for assistance. It revises statutory language dealing with the issuance and refunding of bonds by the board to support the state’s financial assistance and generally gives the board discretion to set interest rates on bonds up to the maximum net effective rate allowable by law. The act also adds standardized language, present elsewhere in the Water Code, requiring certain loan recipients to implement water conservation programs. Substantively, the act authorizes recipient political subdivisions, acting without need for a local election, to pledge revenue to repay loans for flood control purposes. Previously, only taxes could be pledged for that purpose. Another new provision authorizes grants for water supply and wastewater services to economically distressed areas. Areas implicitly targeted by this provision include certain colonias of South Texas.

HOUSE BILL 1509

EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Shelley

SENATE SPONSOR: Henderson

This act deletes a requirement that a political subdivision seeking a loan for a water project from the Texas Water Development Board obtain advance certification from the Texas Water Commission confirming that the political subdivision has the necessary water rights. The act instead allows the executive administrator of the Texas Water Development Board to issue a finding confirming those rights.

Water Utilities

HOUSE BILL 1459

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith

SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

This act pertains to rate changes and service delivery by water and sewer utilities. It makes three major changes with respect to ratemaking procedures. First, the act deletes the option for cities to surrender to the Texas Water Commission original jurisdiction over rates charged within city limits. Second, the act gives the commission appellate jurisdiction over rates charged by water districts and over rates charged by city-owned utilities to customers outside city limits, and establishes as strictly appellate the commission’s jurisdiction over nonprofit water and sewer corporations. Third, for private utilities operating within city limits and under city jurisdiction, or for those operating outside city limits and under commission jurisdiction, the act deletes a requirement that proposed rate requests automatically undergo a hearing for purposes of approval. Instead, having given the city or commission notice, the utility under the new law may implement the rate change without a hearing unless the change is challenged by a specified number of affected ratepayers. Should a challenge occur, payments proceed at the increased rate pending ultimate disposition of the matter, but the city or commission may direct all or part of the resultant increased revenue into an escrow account for possible refund to ratepayers if the rate increase is ultimately denied or lowered. Records must be kept of proceedings on the rate case unless all parties involved waive the requirement. Rate increase filings by private utilities under the new scheme are limited to one per year.

The act authorizes the commission to revoke certificates of public convenience and necessity to a water or sewer utility for failure to provide continuous adequate service. It authorizes assessment by the commission of administrative penalties up to $500 per day for violations of applicable laws or regulations. In addition, the act establishes fees for processing rate change requests and certificate applications, the amount of the fee to vary according to the number of connections served by the utility. Finally, the legislation provides for adoption by the commission of rules governing the billing of water and sewer utilities for apartments and mobile home complexes, either submetered or prorated.

Water Rights and Stream Management

SENATE BILL 683

In 1985, in conjunction with a constitutional water package subsequently approved by Texas voters, the 69th Legislature directed the Texas Department of Water Resources (TDWR) together with the Parks and Wildlife Department and special advisory committees to conduct studies of Texas' various bays and estuaries to collect data toward the determination of associated freshwater inflow needs. The same legislature reorganized the TDWR into the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) and Texas Water Commission (TWC). Senate Bill 683 clarifies resultant jurisdictional problems relating to the two water agencies, designating the TWDB and Parks and Wildlife Department to collect data and undertake studies of the bays and estuaries and the TWC and Parks and Wildlife Department to evaluate and review the studies toward the determination of necessary freshwater inflows. The advisory committees for the various bays and estuaries are revamped accordingly to include representation from both water agencies. Senate Bill 683 sets the deadline for study completion as December 31, 1989.

HOUSE BILL 650

This act confers on the Texas Water Commission the responsibility to remove tree parts or other naturally accumulated debris that are obstructing a navigable stream. The act prohibits a river authority from requiring removal or other displacement of a floating structure unless the commission, on investigating, finds that it constitutes an obstruction.

HOUSE BILL 1783

House Bill 1783 allows the Texas Water Commission to place stream flow restrictions and other conditions in water rights permits to protect the priority of senior water rights.

HOUSE BILL 1787

House Bill 1787 amends the Water Code by authorizing the appointment of a watermaster for a river basin when the rights of senior water rights holders are deemed to be threatened.

HOUSE BILL 1788

This act authorizes the Texas Water Commission to issue term permits for water rights, covering a specified term of years, if a senior water right for the water has not been perfected. However, the commission is directed to deny a permit application if the holder of the senior right can show that the term permit would disrupt his own beneficial water use or if issuance would jeopardize financial commitments made to projects to optimally develop an area's water resources. Term permits remain subordinate to any senior appropriative water rights and are not automatically renewable on expiration.

HOUSE BILL 1912

This act relates to the appropriation of state water from the Gulf of Mexico for purposes of saltwater mariculture. The act exempts such appropriation from the requirement of a water rights permit, provided that the Texas Water Commission is given advance official notification. The commission may reduce or temporarily halt the appropriation if it is found to negatively affect the natural productivity of a bay or estuary.

House Quality

SENATE BILL 779

Recent amendments to federal law mandate the implementation of an underground storage tank program, to be administered at the state and local levels, to curb leakage of stored fluids resulting in the contamination of underground water supplies. Senate Bill 779 places regulatory authority regarding underground storage tanks with the Texas Water Commission. Regulated facilities include service station gasoline tanks and various other containers of petroleum and hazardous substances, excluding most pipelines and petroleum production facilities as well as septic tanks and other exempted receptacles. Containers of hazardous waste (distinct from hazardous substances) are excluded from the purview of the new legislation, being subject to other regulatory requirements.

Senate Bill 779 directs the commission to develop a regulatory program, adopt performance standards for new underground storage tanks, and establish leak detection practices to identify accidental releases. Tank owners or operators must register tanks with the commission, pay annual fees of up to $25 per tank, report accidental releases, and take corrective action in accordance with commission rules in the event of such releases. The commission itself may intervene to take corrective action, should the owner or operator be unable, unwilling, or unavailable. The law grants the commission powers to issue emergency orders to deter or respond to leaks. It makes owners and operators of tanks liable for the reimbursement of associated commission costs. Fees, reimbursements, federal funds, and other monies are deposited in a newly created underground storage tank fund in the state treasury and used to support the regulatory program.

SENATE BILL 434
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Krier
HOUSE SPONSOR: Patrick

This act authorizes the imposition of fees by the Texas Water Commission for the processing of water pollution abatement plans, sewage collection plans, hazardous substance or hydrocarbon storage plans, amendments to any such plans, and associated project inspections relating to protection of the Edwards Aquifer. The commission is authorized to adopt by rule a fee schedule ranging from $100 to $2,000. The act establishes criteria, based on the physical scope of the plans, to be used in determining the fees.

SENATE BILL 1191
SENATE AUTHOR: Brown
HOUSE SPONSOR: Riley

This act allows anyone affected by a city action relating to water pollution outside city limits to appeal the action to the Texas Water Commission or district court. An appeal must be filed within 60 days of the city’s action. The issue to be determined by the commission or court is whether the action is invalid, arbitrary, unreasonable, inefficient, or ineffective. The act authorizes the commission to adopt related administrative fees.

HOUSE BILL 938
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Holzheuser
HOUSE SPONSOR: Armbrister

Under this act, if the executive director of the Texas Water Commission acquires information confirming that usable groundwater in a county is being contaminated so as to constitute a public health hazard, the executive director shall give written notice to the county judge and county health officer not later than the 30th day after the date the executive director receives the information confirming the contamination. Written notice shall also be given to any person under the commission’s jurisdiction who is suspected of contributing to the contamination and to any other state agency with jurisdiction over any person who is suspected of contributing to the contamination.

HOUSE BILL 1148
EFFECTIVE: 6-17-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Schlueter
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

This act establishes a moratorium until April 1991 on new permits for discharges of waste or pollutants into or adjacent to Salado Creek, a tributary of the Lampasas River, or any body of water flowing into the creek. The Texas Water Commission is directed, during the interval, to conduct a study of the effects that discharges are having and that additional discharges would have on the creek’s water quality. The act, which expires simultaneously with the moratorium, does not apply to a permit granted before its effective date.

HOUSE BILL 1327
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: C. Johnson
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

Holders of waste discharge permits from the Texas Water Commission pay an annual waste treatment inspection fee. This act revamps the fee structure, which was based previously solely on the volume of discharge. The act gives the commission authority to establish by rule a fee schedule that takes into account such factors as discharge volume, pollutant composition and toxic potential, heat load, and characteristics of the stream segment or body of water into which the discharge is to be made. The maximum annual fee under the new legislation is $11,000.
HOUSE BILL 1347

EFFECTIVE: see below

This act amends the regulatory authority of the Texas Water Well Drillers Board, a licensing panel affiliated administratively with the Texas Water Commission. The act divides regulated drillers into four categories by type of well: (1) water wells designed to produce groundwater, excluding certain wells to produce water for injection purposes; (2) injection wells as defined previously; (3) dewatering wells designed to lower a water table or potentiometric surface; and (4) monitoring wells designed to identify subsurface fluid quantities or to track subsurface fluid movements. Type (3) and (4) wells, which are new categories, exclude those associated with mineral production. Although the act takes effect September 1, 1987, dewatering well drillers and monitoring well drillers have until January 1, 1988, to obtain their respective licenses. The Texas Water Commission may set additional requirements for their examination, in addition to examination requirements set by the Texas Water Well Drillers Board. The act increases from 30 to 60 days the time period for delivering drilling logs to the commission. It modifies applicable civil penalties for noncompliance with drilling statutes and rules, and confers on drillers the duty to report encounters with bad water to the commission and to report knowledge of abandoned or deteriorated wells to the appropriate landowner. The landowner, under the new law, must plug or cap the well within six months.

HOUSE BILL 1586

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act requires a permit from the Texas Water Commission for underground shafts penetrating an aquifer and for associated tunnels, rooms, and chambers. Excluded from the act’s applicability are permanent tunnels, oil and gas wells and borings, geothermal energy drilling, solid waste and hazardous waste facilities, activities regulated by the commission under the state’s water quality laws, and prospecting and mining on state-leased lands for coal, lignite, sulfur, potash, uranium, or thorium. The act’s major application would be subsurface excavations associated with the evaluation of a site or placement of a repository in the Texas Panhandle for the disposal of high-level nuclear waste.

Permit applications for subsurface excavations, under the act, require plans for casing or otherwise lining and sealing shafts and tunnels, controlling ground movements, managing water inflow, managing the surface storage or other handling of spoils and industrial waste, mitigating and monitoring water pollution, and decommissioning the site. Environmental impact statements or similar documents required by federal or state law must be appended to the application. The commission may issue a permit if it finds that: (1) the excavation is in the public interest; (2) existing property rights are not impaired; (3) surface storage of spoils or waste will not harm adjacent farmland; (4) ground and surface water can be adequately protected from pollution; and (5) the applicant has demonstrated financial responsibility. The commission is directed also to consider geological and hydrological conditions, present and potential economic development in the area, and present and prospective local demands for fresh water. The act requires the commission to adopt performance standards for subsurface excavations and, no later than December 30, 1987, to propose rules implementing its subsurface excavation regulatory program. The commission is granted entry and inspection powers for sites receiving permits.

HOUSE BILL 1647

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act defines as "greywater" the wastewater from showers, bathtubs, clothes washing machines, handwashing lavatories, and sinks excluding those used for food preparation or for the disposal of chemical and biological ingredients. The act gives to the Texas Water Commission and Texas Department of Health authority to adopt standards for greywater coming under their wastewater regulatory authority to assure that its use for irrigation, agricultural, domestic, commercial, or industrial purposes does not create a nuisance or contribute to pollution.
Sewage Treatment and Disposal

HOUSE BILL 1875

EFFECTIVE: see below

HOUSE AUTHOR: Millsap
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

Effective September 1, 1987, House Bill 1875 establishes a program within the Texas Department of Health for the regulation of on-site sewage disposal systems. Such systems, generally referring to septic tanks and similar on-site sewage facilities, are defined to include those producing up to 5,000 gallons of waste per day. Unaffected, however, are on-site sewage disposal systems serving a single residence and located on a tract of land at least 10 acres in size, for which the sewage or field line is at least 100 feet away from the edge of the property.

The department, under the new program, has responsibility to adopt appropriate rules and to issue permits for the construction, operation, extension, repair, or alteration of on-site sewage disposal systems. The department also registers installers and inspects systems in operation. Alternatively, the department at the initiative of a local government entity can delegate its regulatory authority to that entity, provided that the entity adopts the department’s rules on the subject and sets forth a program for enforcement. The local government may, if it chooses, adopt standards more stringent than the department’s. The local government, as authorized agent for the department, is itself subject to an annual departmental inspection, with results to be reported to the Texas Board of Health, and can lose its designation following a departmental hearing on the subject if found to be inconsistently enforcing the department’s minimum regulatory requirements.

The Texas Department of Health or its local government agent may issue an order for repairs to an on-site sewage disposal system, seek an injunction to restrain regulatory violations, and otherwise institute legal proceedings for noncompliance. Activity conducted without a required permit or an installation performed by an unregistered party constitutes a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $50 to $100. Repeat offenses are subject to a fine of $125 to $500, one month’s confinement in jail, or both.

Effective September 1, 1989, House Bill 1875 repeals provisions relating to pollution monitoring of private sewage facilities (septic tanks and chemical toilets) by the Texas Water Commission and county governments.

HOUSE BILL 1326

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Shelley
SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

House Bill 1326 assigns to the Texas Water Commission the review and approval of all plans for sewage treatment and disposal systems that handle primarily domestic waste. Previously, the Texas Department of Health exercised review and approval authority for systems of this type built independently by cities or developers without state or federal funds.

HOUSE BILL 1329

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: C. Johnson
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

The Water Code requires a certificate of competency for businesses that operate sewage treatment facilities. Employees of those businesses who operate a facility likewise must hold a certificate of competency. House Bill 1329 provides for annual fees of up to $500 and $25, respectively, for business and employee certificates. The Texas Water Commission is authorized to set the amounts by rule, not to exceed the specified maximums.

HOUSE BILL 32 (2nd C.S.)

EFFECTIVE: 11-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

This act creates the On-site Wastewater Treatment Research Council, consisting of 11 members appointed by the governor, to award competitive grants for applied research and for technology-transfer activities to improve on-site wastewater treatment. Grants come from a new fund to be supported by a $10 fee imposed on on-site wastewater treatment permits issued by the Texas Department of Health or by a city, county, public health authority, or river authority. Eligibility for research grants is limited to accredited Texas colleges and universities. The council, which is subject to sunset review in 1989, may use funds derived from permit proceeds to contract with the Texas Department of Health for administrative and staff support.

Litter

HOUSE AUTHOR: Polumbo
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

House Bill 717 changes the fine for highway littering to not less than $10 nor more than $200. However, if it is shown at the trial of the defendant that he has been previously convicted of such an offense, the offense is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, by confinement in jail for not more than one year, or by both. Each day of a continuing violation is considered a separate offense. The previous fine was $50 to $400 irrespective of whether the littering was an initial or repeat offense.

HOUSE BILL 2174
HOUSE AUTHOR: Patronella
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

This act strengthens misdemeanor penalties associated with unlawful means of storing, depositing, or disposing of certain waste and litter. For residential or business waste, first offenses remain subject to the same misdemeanor criminal penalty as before, a fine of $10 to $200; but repeat offenses are now punishable by a fine of $10 to $1,000, jail confinement for up to 30 days, or both. Prohibitions applicable to such waste (redefined to include garbage, rubbish, refuse, and used tires) are clarified to encompass any type of storage, deposit, or disposal that may contaminate ground or surface water or contribute to the breeding of insects or rodents. The act also authorizes the Texas Department of Health, in conjunction with a city or county, to initiate a civil suit in district court to obtain injunctive relief against actual or potential violators of the prohibition and to seek appropriate civil penalties (the same amount as the misdemeanor penalty). The act amends and standardizes various sections of the Texas Litter Abatement Act to classify first offenses for littering as Class C misdemeanors (maximum $200 fine) and repeat offenses as Class A misdemeanors (maximum $2,000 fine, up to one year confinement, or both).

Solid Waste and Hazardous Waste

SENATE BILL 39
SENATE AUTHOR: Parmer
EFFECTIVE: 4-25-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Stiles

This act establishes the Hazardous Waste Research Center at Lamar University to coordinate research and related programs directed toward the minimization of hazardous waste generation and the optimal management and disposal of hazardous waste once generated. The center involves a consortium consisting initially of Lamar and three other state university affiliates: The University of Texas at Austin; the Texas Engineering Experiment Station of The Texas A&M University System; and the University of Houston-University Park. The center is governed by a policy board composed of one representative from each of the four universities, and the policy board in turn is assisted by an advisory council composed of two members from private industry and two other members appointed by each university. The consortium may be enlarged to include additional entities. Moreover, the center may enter into agreements with other universities in Texas and the United States, private research organizations, and private industry. The center is authorized to receive federal funds and legislative appropriations with the proviso that funding be disbursed equitably among the consortium participants in accordance with policies established by the policy board. The center is authorized to: (1) conduct primary and secondary research; (2) collect, analyze, and disseminate information; (3) develop public policy recommendations; (4) provide waste management training; (5) evaluate technologies for the treatment and disposal of waste; (6) implement demonstration projects and pilot studies relating to particular technologies; and (7) extend other related services.

SENATE BILL 92
SENATE AUTHOR: Green
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Patronella

Industrial solid and hazardous wastes generated by manufacturers sometimes may be useful as raw materials for other chemical businesses, and many states have established clearinghouses to link generators and users. Senate Bill 92 directs the Texas Water Commission to establish an industrial solid and hazardous waste materials exchange to provide information on methods for waste treatment and recovery, particular quantities of waste available in Texas for such treatment and recovery, and parties interested in acquiring certain types of waste. The commission may contract for the operation of the exchange by another entity and may enter into reciprocity agreements to exchange information with other states.
SENATE BILL 1446
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Enactments of the 69th Legislature extensively amended the state’s Solid Waste Disposal Act with respect to the regulation of hazardous waste. Senate Bill 1446 is partly a housekeeping measure designed to consolidate the amendments, renumber sections of the act, and make other technical corrections. It also makes substantive changes, however. Applicants seeking hazardous waste permits no longer need execute a bond in advance to satisfy financial responsibility requirements. Rather, as long as they indicate their plans in that regard, they can defer actually implementing financial guarantees until just before they begin accepting waste at a facility. Senate Bill 1446 also exempts pending permit applications from review by the Texas Air Control Board, except for proposed facilities to incinerate waste. The measure also clarifies that modifications to an existing waste facility are not subject to provisions enacted in 1985 that encouraged permit applicants to undergo a local citizen review mechanism popularly referred to as the “Keystone siting process.”

Senate Bill 1446 deletes statutorily specified fees charged to generators of hazardous waste and instead gives the Texas Water Commission discretion to set the annual fee within a range of $50 to $15,000. Other provisions grant the commission authority to issue orders for corrective action or future compliance by a violator of the act, either in lieu of or in addition to the assessment of administrative civil penalties. If an alleged violator appeals an administrative penalty to the courts but does not prevail, the new law provides for the recovery by the state from the appellant’s fees and other legal expenses. Finally, Senate Bill 1446 adds protections for persons who innocently purchase land contaminated by past owners through improper waste management practices. The purchaser, in acquiring the property, however, must have made reasonable inquiries, consistent with good business practice, as to the past ownership and uses of the property.

HOUSE BILL 134
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

The Comprehensive Municipal Solid Waste Management, Resource Recovery, and Conservation Act, passed originally by the legislature in 1983, provided among other things that each city and county review the provision of solid waste management services in their respective jurisdictions and ensure the provision of such services by a deadline of December 31, 1987. House Bill 134, in anticipation of revisions to U.S. Environmental Protection Agency solid waste regulations due to be implemented over the next two years, postpones that deadline until the end of 1989. It also exempts from the requirement counties with a population of 30,000 or less.

HOUSE BILL 814
EFFECTIVE: 11-1-87

Solid waste regulation in Texas is divided between the Texas Water Commission, which has jurisdiction over hazardous and industrial waste, and the Texas Department of Health, which has jurisdiction over municipal waste. House Bill 814 provides that a permit application relating to a solid waste facility, if determined by the department or commission to be administratively incomplete, be amended within 270 days to include the additional needed information. Otherwise, the application is to be considered withdrawn.

HOUSE BILL 1621
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

The federal government has established a superfund to clean up abandoned hazardous waste disposal sites that pose special health threats. House Bill 1621 authorizes the Texas Water Commission to indemnify engineers or contractors engaged in activities relating to the cleanup of a site against claims or liability associated with actual or threatened releases of hazardous substances. Protection from liability extends only to ordinary negligence, not gross negligence or willful misconduct. Furthermore, the commission can offer indemnification only if the engineer or contractor demonstrates that liability insurance is unavailable and only if the federal government agrees in turn to indemnify the Texas Water Commission. House Bill 1621 applies to contracts entered into by the commission on or after the effective date.

HOUSE BILL 2051
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87

The 69th Legislature in 1985 established as public policy a hierarchy of preferred hazardous waste management methods to reduce the quantity and environmental effects of such waste. House Bill 2051 enacts comparable hierarchies for municipal sludge and other municipal solid waste, respectively. For the former, preference is to be given in descending order to: minimization of sludge production and minimization of toxin and heavy-metal concentrations in the sludge; treatment of the sludge to reduce its quantity, or to remove pathogens, and to recover beneficial by-products; marketing and distribution of sludge products; land application for beneficial use; land treatment; and landfilling. For the latter, preference is to be given in descending order to: minimization of waste generation; reuse or recycling of the waste; treatment to destroy or reprocess the waste; and land disposal. The new law directs the Texas Department of Health to apply these hierarchies in its solid waste management plan for the state, in its solid waste regulations, and in its criteria for approval of regional and local solid waste management plans.

HOUSE BILL 1869
HOUSE AUTHORITY: Valigura
SENATE SPONSOR: Brooks

This act sets specific requirements for public notice issued by the Texas Department of Health with regard to applications for a permit to establish a landfill site. Notice must be published in the major newspaper serving the county, advising citizens of the opportunity for a public hearing on the permit application. Such notice must be published at least once a week during the two weeks preceding the deadline for requesting a hearing. In addition, the department by certified or registered mail must provide timely notice to each residence, business, and owner of property within one mile of the proposed landfill site.

A second portion of the act requires the Texas Department of Health, acting by October 1, 1989, unless the 71st Legislature by that time enacts legislation on the subject, to implement rules for the handling, transport, and disposal of infectious waste consistent with the recommendations of a legislative interim committee studying the subject.

SENATE BILL 1383
SENATE AUTHORITY: Whitmire
HOUSE SPONSOR: Saunders

The Texas Department of Health regulates municipal solid waste sites and classifies those sites into nine types designated by Roman numeral. Type IV landfills are authorized to receive brush, debris from construction and demolition activities, and other rubbish provided that none of these contain decomposable waste, referred to as putrescible waste, that is likely to become putrid, cause odors, and attract disease vectors. Senate Bill 1383 reinforces the latter prohibition by restricting access to Type IV landfills by vehicles or containers which, by being completely enclosed, might hide putrescible waste. Vehicles or containers likewise must be free of hazardous or infectious waste. Persons operating such vehicles or hauling such containers must obtain a special departmental permit, transport the solid waste according to a schedule and route approved by the department, and allow its inspection by a departmental official. Certain municipal vehicles and otherwise regulated solid waste compactors are exempt from these requirements, so long as they certify that the contents of the vehicles or compactors are free of prohibited putrescible, hazardous, or infectious waste. Persons who deliver solid waste to a Type IV landfill, except in accordance with the new law, commit an offense and are subject to Class B misdemeanor penalties. Senate Bill 1383 also establishes an annual inspection program for Type IV landfills and provides for apportionment of inspection costs among the holders of Type IV permits.

HOUSE BILL 2124
HOUSE AUTHORITY: J. Harris
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

This act adds procedural, substantive, and financial requirements pertaining to the approval by the Texas Water Commission of permits for hazardous waste management facilities and hazardous waste injection wells. Hearings on a permit may not proceed until evidence has been placed in the record demonstrating that hearing notice has been given to affected persons. In the case of injection applications, the act clarifies that state agencies and other parties to which the commission has submitted the application for review have 30 days to make recommendations. Hearings on an injection well permit may not commence until the Railroad Commission of Texas forwards its required letter indicating that disposal of waste via the well will not negatively affect oil or gas formations.

Permit approval for a hazardous waste management facility or hazardous waste injection well is conditioned on three additional findings by the Texas Water Commission, beyond those in the current law: that the applicant has provided for proper operation of the facility or well; that the applicant has effectively acquired the property, or use of the property, on which the facility or well is to be located; and that the applicant, if the facility or well is to be located outside an industrial area, has taken measures to minimize resultant burdens on public roadways, local law enforcement, or emergency medical or firefighting services. The act amends financial responsibility requirements to allow use of letters of credit but to partially preclude use of a "claims made" policy.

The new legislation affects applications first submitted after the effective date. One final provision directs the Texas Water Commission, in keeping with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, to index and make available for public inspection all rules, written statements of policy, regulatory interpretations, and all final opinions, orders, and decisions.

Low-Level Radioactive Waste

SENATE BILL 62 (2nd C.S.)  SENATE AUTHOR:  Zaffirini
EFFECTIVE: 10-20-87  HOUSE SPONSOR:  Agnich

Under federal law, low-level radioactive waste that now goes to one of three disposal sites (South Carolina, Nevada, or Washington) must be disposed of individually by the state generating the waste or by that state in combination with neighboring states that join it in a compact. Failure to meet established federal deadlines for opening a disposal site can be penalized either by denying further use of the three existing sites to the noncompliant state or compact or by allowing future disposal there only at significantly increased monetary charges. The Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority, created in 1981 and assigned the task of selecting a Texas disposal site, has focused recently on two sites in Hudspeth County, one located on permanent school fund (PSF) land and the other on permanent university fund (PUF) land. Those lands are managed by the School Land Board and the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, respectively.

This act reinforces previous legislation giving preference to a suitable site on PSF or PUF land over equally suitable sites elsewhere. Should the authority locate and select a proposed site on PSF or PUF land, it is authorized to enter the land to conduct a detailed technical characterization of the site as required by existing law. On completion of requisite studies, if the authority decides to purchase the site for disposal purposes, the School Land Board or university regents must have the land and its minerals appraised and must convey title to both to the authority at a price equal to the appraised value. In addition, if a PSF site is chosen, the authority must lease from the School Land Board a buffer zone and implement within that zone a rangeland and wildlife management plan to help restore it ecologically.

The act deletes former provisions allowing the authority to contract with a private entity to operate the disposal site, instead requiring that any contracting of operations be only with a competent political subdivision or state agency. The new legislation allows disposal below ground level only if, in addition to other existing statutory requirements, waste is contained within either a reinforced concrete barrier or a technologically equivalent or superior medium, in a manner so the waste can be monitored and retrieved. Shallow land burial in earthen trenches is prohibited.

Other provisions relate to nuclear power plants that are prospectively planned to commence operations in Texas. Each public utility operating or constructing a nuclear power reactor is required to provide on-site, low-level radioactive waste storage facilities sufficient to accommodate five years' worth of low-level waste generation. The Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority is directed to study the volumes and types of waste that would result from eventual decommissioning of Texas nuclear power reactors and to report on the subject to appropriate committees of the legislature no later than November 11, 1988.

HOUSE BILL 822  HOUSE AUTHOR:  Saunders
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87  SENATE SPONSOR:  Sims

House Bill 822 establishes within the state treasury a low-level waste account derived from federal funds, waste disposal fees charged waste generators, and other sources. The purpose of the account is to reimburse the state for startup costs associated with finding, building, and opening a disposal site; to provide economic impact assistance to political subdivisions affected by the Texas site; to support associated rangeland and wildlife management activities; to pay for decommissioning when the disposal facility is eventually closed; and to meet other expenses. Maximum payments by a single waste generator are limited to $300,000 to $500,000 annually.

The legislation directs the board of directors of the authority to adopt criteria to identify political subdivisions that can reasonably be expected to incur expenses for supportive services as a result of placement of the disposal site in their locality. Those affected governmental entities, as identified by the board, are entitled to impact assistance funds in an aggregate amount equal to at least 10 percent of the disposal facility’s gross receipts derived from waste generators. The authority is directed to meet with representatives of the affected entities, and with county officials of the county in which the site is located, at least once a year.

House Bill 822 also provides for the creation of a Citizens Advisory Committee composed of one representative each from the affected political subdivisions. Advisory committee members are assigned to devise criteria by which to evaluate adverse impacts on their communities and to make recommendations to the authority’s board of directors regarding allocation of impact assistance funds. Allocation rests ultimately with the board, subject to a requirement that, except in cases of unusual impact, no affected governmental entity may receive a fraction of the total impact assistance funds exceeding its fraction of the affected entities’ combined taxable property value. The board’s allocation is not reviewable by the regional planning commission for the area.

To further support compensating economic benefits to local communities in return for their acceptance of the disposal site, contractors with the authority are required where possible to use local materials and resources. One other component of the legislation authorizes lease by the authority of up to 65,000 acres of permanent school or permanent university land near the site for rangeland and wildlife management purposes.

HOUSE BILL 1699
HOUSE AUTHOR: Shaw
SENATE SPONSOR: Zaffirini

House Bill 1699 requires that “mixed waste” containing a combination of hazardous and low-level radioactive waste be disposed of at the state’s low-level radioactive waste disposal site in accordance with not only the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority Act, but also the state Solid Waste Disposal Act and federal Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976 governing hazardous waste.

Other Toxic Substances

HOUSE AUTHOR: Watson
SENATE SPONSOR: Whitmire

House Bill 2140 amends the Hazard Communication Act, the “right-to-know” measure passed by the 69th Legislature to inform workers of chemicals they are handling. The amendment authorizes the collection of fees from manufacturing and nonmanufacturing employers, not to exceed $50 per submission, for the filing of workplace chemical lists required by the act. Employers with multiple or temporary workplaces may submit consolidated filings if the lists are shorter than a specified length.

SENATE BILL 537
SENATE AUTHOR: Parker
HOUSE SPONSOR: Watson

This act establishes the Toxic Substances Coordinating Committee. Composed of seven members representing specified state agencies, the committee is established to better coordinate communication among the member agencies concerning those agencies’ respective efforts to regulate toxic substances and harmful physical agents. Regarding those substances and agents, the committee is assigned to develop a plan providing for intergovernmental regulatory cooperation, health risk assessment of emergency responses to accidents, prevention and control of adverse health effects, integrated data collection and management, and public education. The tentative plan is to be presented for review by the governor and seven agency heads by May 1988, and agency recommendations on plan implementation forwarded to the governor and legislative presiding officers by the following October. Provisions of the act expire without sunset review on September 1, 1999.

House Bill 1896, summarized in the chapter on agriculture, extends right-to-know legislation to cover farm workers.
Transportation Controls

HOUSE BILL 1353  HOUSE AUTHOR:  Cain
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87  SENATE SPONSOR:  Farabee

Hazardous materials include such materials as hazardous wastes, radioactive materials, explosives, corrosives, flammable liquids and solids, and poisons. The Railroad Commission of Texas regulates hired motor carriers that transport such materials, and the Texas Water Commission tracks hazardous waste components within hazardous waste or hazardous materials shipments. The Department of Public Safety (DPS) administers safety regulations for the proper packaging and labeling of transported hazardous materials, and an emergency management division within the governor's office, assisted by an interagency Emergency Management Council, coordinates responses to disasters generally. Counties are required to establish countywide emergency management programs, and cities may establish such programs at their option.

House Bill 1353 revises this scheme for disaster responses to transportation accidents involving releases of hazardous materials on public roads or railroads. It directs the DPS to adopt rules relating to the required reporting by transporters of accidents involving hazardous materials releases, and it assigns to the DPS the responsibility for on-site coordination of hazardous materials transportation emergencies. The DPS may adopt federal reporting rules, or portions thereof, by reference. If not, its rules must be consistent with federal rules. The DPS is also established as the central state repository for statistical information on incidents involving releases of hazardous materials.

EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88  SENATE SPONSOR:  Lyon

House Bill 908 expands regulations concerning the safe operation of motor carriers, including those that transport hazardous materials. The regulations, to be adopted by the Department of Public Safety (DPS), must be consistent with federal law on motor carrier safety and hazardous materials transport and must include provisions to ensure that: the vehicles are safe; responsibilities imposed on a driver do not impair the driver's ability to operate the vehicle safely; the driver is physically able; and the motor carrier is able to assure any damages. The act sets out insurance requirements, limits the authority of other entities to regulate such carriers, and requires carriers to declare knowledge of safety regulations. DPS officers and certified peace officers in cities with a population of at least 300,000 are authorized to detain motor vehicles subject to these safety regulations. The act provides for offenses and suits relating to the violation of regulations. A violation constitutes a Class C misdemeanor and is subject to a maximum civil penalty of $200 for each day of noncompliance or for each act of noncompliance.

The act also changes (1) provisions relating to companies approved to provide insurance for motor bus companies, and (2) provisions relating to companies approved to issue bonds or insurance policies for motor carriers.

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87  SENATE SPONSOR:  Johnson

House Bill 1838 authorizes county commissioners courts to adopt a regulatory program, applicable to transport through unincorporated county areas, requiring permits for trucks carrying liquid septic tank residues. A county may conduct joint truck inspections with cooperating cities and develop a single manifest form and permit system to be used by those cities and the county. The county is authorized, as well, to contract for services relating to the regulatory program and to assess fees to cover administrative costs.

Air Quality

SENATE BILL 1130  SENATE AUTHOR:  Green
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87  HOUSE SPONSOR:  Watson

This act allows the Texas Air Control Board, or its executive director if delegated authority by the board, to issue emergency orders allowing exceptional releases of air contaminants if related to reconstruction activities necessary to deal with a natural or other catastrophe and avoid more serious peril. An applicant for such an order must demonstrate, among other things, that there are no practical alternatives to such contaminant emissions and that the emissions will not cause or contribute to a condition of air pollution. Orders may be issued with or without an advance hearing, but if issued without a hearing, one must be scheduled as soon as possible.

SENATE BILL 1360
EFFECTIVE: 6-11-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Rudd

One alternative being considered to control hydrocarbon emissions and resultant ozone pollution arising from the transportation sector is the use of “Stage II” vapor recovery systems. Such systems involve modification of the equipment used at service stations to refuel vehicles. The subject is currently under review by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and Senate Bill 1360 prohibits the Texas Air Control Board from requiring the use of such systems until the EPA determines that their deployment is required to enable compliance with the federal Clean Air Act.

HOUSE BILL 528
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: S. Hudson
SENATE SPONSOR: Johnson

House Bill 528 prohibits the Texas Air Control Board from approving a construction permit for a new lead smelting plant within 3,000 feet of anyone’s residence. Exceptions include modifications of previously operating plants, plants originally outside the limit when placed in operation, areas inside the limit where lead smelting operations previously have been conducted, and plants with a production capacity of 200 pounds of lead per hour or less.

HOUSE BILL 1432
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Oakley
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

The Texas Clean Air Act mandates that a concrete plant must be screened for possible long-term pollutants. House Bill 1432 clarifies language that exempts concrete plants next to a site temporarily undergoing highway construction from the requirement.
FAMILY LAW

Juvenile delinquency was the subject of several legislative enactments in 1987. House Bill 682 provides for determinate sentences for children who engage in certain violent delinquent conduct. Under the act the child is transferred from the Texas Youth Commission to the Texas Department of Corrections when the child becomes 18 if the child has not completed his sentence. Other enactments amended the definitions of “delinquent conduct” and “conduct indicating a need for supervision.” Additional laws relating to juveniles may be found in the criminal justice and procedure chapter and in the chapter on transportation and highways.

The power of protective orders in family violence cases was expanded with the passage of House Bill 110 to restrict a party from going to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school of the protected child. Senate Bill 1111 declares that it is an offense to violate such an order.

The 70th Legislature also passed legislation on other aspects of family law including child abuse, marriage, missing children, and laws that affect the parent-child relationship.

Child Abuse

HOUSE BILL 169
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

The Family Code contains provisions to provide immunity from prosecution to individuals who report cases of child abuse. House Bill 169 amends this law to exclude from immunity persons who report their own abusive conduct.

HOUSE BILL 1742
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1742 adds a new section to the Family Code relating to the investigation of anonymous reports of child abuse. A preliminary investigation is required to ascertain whether a more thorough investigation needs to be conducted based on any corroborative evidence that may be found.

HOUSE BILL 2146
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Current law requires that the testimony of a child who has been the victim of an offense may be taken in a room other than the courtroom and that such testimony may be televised in the courtroom by closed circuit equipment to the court, the attorneys involved, the finder of fact, any person whose presence would contribute to the well-being of the child, and persons necessary to operate the equipment. The law permits the defendant to observe and hear the testimony of the child but ensures that the child cannot hear or see the defendant. House Bill 2146 amends this law to allow for recesses before or during cross-examination of the child for the defendant’s attorney to confer with his client and expands the number of people who may observe the child’s testimony to include the court reporter. See also Senate Bill 66 in the criminal justice and procedure chapter.

SENATE BILL 390
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Prior law required a person who suspects a child has been or will be abused or neglected, has died of abuse or neglect, has violated school attendance laws on three or more occasions, or has been missing from home without permission for a lengthy period of time on three or more occasions, to make a nonaccusatory report to any local or state law enforcement agency and either the Texas Department of Human Services or the agency designated by the court to protect the child in question. This act amends the law to require that a report be made to only one of these agencies.

SENATE BILL 1084
EFFECTIVE: 6-1-87

This act sets forth the circumstances under which the statement or testimony of a child under the age of 12, who is alleged to have been abused, is admissible into evidence in a contested administrative hearing involving a state agency in which an issue is the abuse of the child. The act also makes provisions for the person conducting the hearing to allow the child’s testimony to be taken in a room other than the hearing room and televised by closed circuit equipment in the hearing room, providing the recording meets certain criteria.
Delinquency

HOUSE BILL 323
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act provides that a child who has been taken into custody may not be given a polygraph examination without the consent of the child’s attorney or the juvenile court unless the child is transferred to criminal court for prosecution.

HOUSE BILL 502
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 502 amends the Family Code to remove the offense of inhalant abuse from the classification of “conduct indicating a need for supervision.” As this offense was upgraded to a Class B misdemeanor by the 69th Legislature in 1985 and is punishable by confinement in jail, the offense is now classified as “delinquent conduct.”

HOUSE BILL 682
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This bill amends Title 3 of the Family Code to provide a process by which a juvenile court may order determinate sentences for children who engage in delinquent conduct that includes the violation of Penal Code provisions relating to certain specified violent felonies. The prosecuting attorney may refer a petition that alleges conduct within the defined category of delinquent conduct to the grand jury. If the grand jury approves the petition, the jury for proceedings in the juvenile court relating to the petition must consist of 12 persons. If the court or jury finds that the child engaged in the conduct alleged in a petition approved by a grand jury, the court or jury may sentence the child to commitment in the Texas Youth Commission with a transfer to the Texas Department of Corrections at the age of 18. The term of the sentence may not exceed 30 years. A release hearing must be held when the child becomes 18 and may be held before that time on the request of the Texas Youth Commission. If the court does not order the release of the child under the supervision of the commission at age 18, the court shall order transfer of the child to the Texas Department of Corrections for completion of the sentence.

To accommodate this new procedure, the bill makes additional amendments related to the designation and jurisdiction of juvenile courts, juries in juvenile court, juvenile court records, the fingerprinting and photographing of children, and release from the Texas Department of Corrections.

The bill also provides for the admission into evidence of certain juvenile court adjudication records in the penalty phase of a criminal trial.

HOUSE BILL 1079
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

The Family Code is amended to alter the definition of “delinquent conduct” to include conduct that violates state laws prohibiting driving while intoxicated or under the influence of intoxicating liquor (third or subsequent offense) or driving while under the influence of any narcotic drug or of any other drug to the degree that renders the child incapable of safely driving a vehicle (third or subsequent offense).

SENATE BILL 218
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act requires the juvenile court to determine whether there is probable cause to believe a child committed the offense alleged prior to transferring the case to district court for criminal proceedings. At the time the case is transferred, an examining trial may be held if good cause exists; if it does not, the case shall be referred to the grand jury.

SENATE BILL 225
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

Senate Bill 225 amends provisions of the Family Code that define conduct indicating a need for supervision, excluding persons who are married, divorced, or widowed from the definition of “child” as it is used in the section referring to truancy from school and the voluntary absence of a child from his home.
SENATE BILL 1069
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

Senate Bill 1069 exempts records required to be maintained under the laws regulating the operation of motor vehicles from the requirement that files and records relating to a child be kept separately from adult records.

See also Senate Bill 17 and Senate Bill 33 in the chapter on sunset legislation.

Family Violence

HOUSE BILL 110
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

This amendatory act expands the power of protective orders in family violence cases to include a prohibition that would restrict a party from going to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school of the protected child. It further requires that a copy of the protective order be sent to the child-care facility or school.

HOUSE BILL 161
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 161 amends the Penal Code to make the offense of aggravated sexual assault apply in certain circumstances to a person who forces his or her spouse to engage in non-consensual sexual intercourse. Certain technical problems present in House Bill 161 were corrected in Senate Bill 35 of the 2nd Called Session.

SENATE BILL 35 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 35 corrects certain technical problems in House Bill 161 from the Regular Session of the 70th Legislature. That bill made the offense of aggravated sexual assault apply, in certain circumstances, to a person who forces his or her spouse to engage in non-consensual sexual intercourse.

SENATE BILL 1111
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act declares that a person commits a criminal offense if he goes to or near the residence, child-care facility, or school of a child protected by a court order. Reconciliatory actions or agreements made by the persons affected by the order do not negate its validity or enforceability unless made by the applicant for the order or the person under protection.

SENATE BILL 1255
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

This act provides that an emergency shelter facility may provide shelter and care to a minor mother, married or unmarried, not emancipated by court order, and not accompanied by a parent, who is the sole financial support of her natural children. The care is limited to 15 days unless the facility receives consent to continue services from her parents or guardian or she has qualified for Aid to Families With Dependent Children and her name is on a waiting list for housing assistance. The act also exempts emergency shelter facilities providing care to minor mothers from having to be licensed by the Texas Department of Human Services unless the facility would otherwise require licensing as a child-care facility.

SENATE BILL 1348
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Senate Bill 1348 amends the Family Code to limit the fees and costs that may be charged in a proceeding for a protective order. The application fee for the protective order is $16 and the fee for service of citation is limited to $20 if delivery is made in person or the cost of postage if delivery is made by registered or certified mail. The person against whom the order is directed must reimburse the applicant for all fees and costs incurred in obtaining the order or face penalties for being held in contempt of court.
Marriage

HOUSE BILL 203
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 203 prohibits a right of action by one spouse against a third party for alienation of affection.

HOUSE BILL 317
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Previously, parental consent for the marriage of certain minors was required at the time application was made for a marriage license. House Bill 317 broadens these provisions to allow for parental consent to be given in the 30-day period before the date the application is made for the marriage license.

HOUSE BILL 1213
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88

This act requires the county clerk to indicate the time at which a marriage license is issued on the license itself. It further amends the law to provide that a marriage is voidable and subject to annulment if it occurs during the 72-hour period immediately following the issuance of the marriage license unless the applicant is a member of the armed forces and is on active duty or he has obtained an order from the district court permitting the marriage ceremony to take place within that time period.

SENATE BILL 887
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act amends provisions of the Family Code to grant courts the authority to issue protective orders in divorce or annulment cases, provides for the order to keep certain information confidential, and provides for the order to contain a warning declaring it an offense to violate the terms of the order and stating the punishment for such an offense. The act further requires the distribution of protective order information to local law enforcement officials where the person seeking protection resides, establishes certain conditions under which an applicant may agree to an order, and specifies procedures relating to the issuance and delivery of the order.

SENATE BILL 893
EFFECTIVE: see below

Senate Bill 893 adopts the Uniform Premarital Agreement Act that details the types of agreements persons may enter into prior to marriage. It also grants spouses the right to engage in partition or exchange agreements. Partition or exchange agreements provide that spouses may, at any time in their marriage, partition or exchange between themselves any part of their community property to become the separate property of one of the spouses. They may also agree that any income or property arising from the separate property owned by one of them, will be the separate property of the owner. Provisions of partition or exchange agreements are void that were entered into with the intention of defrauding a creditor. The agreements can be recorded in the deed records of the county where the party resides and in the county where the real property is located. Recording the agreement in the county where the real property is located serves as constructive notice to a good faith purchaser or a creditor. The provisions of the act take effect on September 1, 1987.

In addition, Senate Bill 893 amends the Probate Code to provide that spouses may agree in writing that all or part of their community property which is titled or held indicia of title becomes the property of the surviving spouse on the death of the other spouse. Prior law required a more convoluted procedure whereby a written agreement was required between the spouses and a financial institution so that funds on deposit would be partitioned into separate property to be held in joint tenancies. In order for these amendments to take effect, voters must approve a proposed constitutional amendment (Senate Joint Resolution 35) authorizing automatic inheritance by a surviving spouse of a deceased spouse's community property interest. The text of Senate Joint Resolution 35 is included in the probate chapter.

SENATE BILL 1322
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

The Family Code is amended to delete references to obtaining a medical examination certificate or exemption order as a prerequisite to applying for a marriage license. The act also provides that a county clerk may require documentation to show that a prior marriage has been dissolved if either of the applicants for the marriage license is under 18 years old.

HOUSE BILL 168 (2nd C.S.)        HOUSE AUTHOR:  C. Harris
EFFECTIVE:  11-1-87              SENATE SPONSOR:  Caperton

This act amends the Family Code to provide that the court must determine, in a divorce decree or annulment, all rights of both spouses in an insurance policy, retirement benefits, and other financial plans. It terminates the designation of an ex-spouse as the beneficiary of a life insurance policy or of pension benefits after divorce unless the decree provides otherwise, the insured or employee takes action to redesignate the ex-spouse as beneficiary, or the ex-spouse is named as beneficiary in trust for a dependent of one or both spouses. The act also provides a method to resolve disputes involving conflicts of laws regarding the division of property and defines the personal liabilities of a spouse for the acts of the other spouse.

Missing Children

SENATE BILL 223        SENATE AUTHOR:  Zaffirini
EFFECTIVE:  6-18-87              HOUSE SPONSOR:  Collazo

It further provides for the release of records and information concerning a child to the Texas Crime Information Center and the National Crime Information Center if the child has been reported as missing or if the child has escaped from the custody of a juvenile detention facility, the Texas Youth Commission, or any other agency to which the child has been committed. The fingerprints and photograph of a missing or escaped child may also be sent to the Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to aid in finding the child.

HOUSE BILL 538        HOUSE AUTHOR:  Richardson
EFFECTIVE: see below                  SENATE SPONSOR:  Sims

The Family Code is amended to allow the law enforcement files and records of a child to be transferred to and disseminated by the Texas Criminal Information Center and the National Crime Information Center if the child has been reported as missing by a parent, guardian, or conservator or has escaped from a juvenile detention facility, the Texas Youth Commission, or any other agency to which the child has been committed. It also provides that the fingerprints and photographs of these children may be sent to and indexed into the files of the Department of Public Safety and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to aid in finding the child.

House Bill 538 also adds new provisions to the Education Code establishing guidelines for voluntary missing child prevention and identification programs in which public schools and nonpublic schools may participate. Certain provisions of this act take effect on August 31, 1987; others take effect on September 1, 1987.

HOUSE BILL 1630        HOUSE AUTHOR:  Collazo
EFFECTIVE:  6-19-87                  SENATE SPONSOR:  Parker

Parent—Child

HOUSE BILL 128        HOUSE AUTHOR:  P. Moreno
EFFECTIVE:  8-31-87                   SENATE SPONSOR:  Santiesteban

House Bill 128 provides that the court having jurisdiction may waive the making and filing of a pre-adoption report normally required before placing a child for adoption if the child’s biological parents cannot be found and, because of this, there is not sufficient information available to compile a report.
HOUSE BILL 144

HOUSE AUTHOR: Hackney
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

House Bill 144 amends the Family Code to allow judges to modify orders or decrees involving parent custody, child support, or visitation of children if the circumstances in the case have substantially changed since the date a decision was rendered by the court rather than when the order was signed by the judge and physically entered on the judgment docket by the court clerk. Similarly, when a motion for a change of managing conservator is filed within one year after the date of rendition of the order or decree that designated the conservator, rather than the date of issuance, a supporting affidavit must accompany the motion.

The act also declares that a notice of assignment of right to support filed under provisions of the Human Resources Code does not constitute a modification of an order to pay child support.

HOUSE BILL 614

HOUSE AUTHOR: Hinojosa
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

House Bill 614 requires a court to consider evidence of the intentional use of abusive physical force by a parent against his or her spouse or against a child committed within a two-year period preceding the filing of a petition for divorce or annulment or during the pendency of a suit in determining which parent to appoint as managing conservator of the child. The act further provides that the court shall appoint one parent as the managing conservator or both of the parents as joint managing conservators unless the appointment would not be in the best interest of the child because it would physically impair the child’s physical health or emotional development.

HOUSE BILL 617

HOUSE AUTHOR: C. Evans
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

House Bill 617 amends numerous provisions of the Family Code relating to the appointment, rights, privileges, duties, and powers of sole and joint managing conservators. Parents may be appointed joint managing conservators if it is in the best interest of the child. A grandparent or other person may seek managing conservatorship of a child if the child’s current environment presents a serious and immediate question concerning the child’s welfare. The act also provides that the court may charge attorney’s fees as costs against an offending party who files a frivolous motion to modify an order of joint conservatorship.

HOUSE BILL 2291

HOUSE AUTHOR: Garcia
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

This act provides that a petition filed by the Texas Department of Human Services requesting the involuntary termination of parental rights may be granted if the court finds that the parent has a mental or emotional illness that would render him unable to care for the child to the age of 18, that the department has been the permanent managing conservator of the child for the preceding six months, and that the termination is in the best interest of the child. It also makes provisions for the appointment of an attorney ad litem to represent the parent and for a hearing to be held on the issue.

HOUSE BILL 2328

HOUSE AUTHOR: C. Harris
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

House Bill 2328 amends existing law to allow the court to grant reasonable access to a biologic or adoptive grandparent in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship. The section of the Family Code relating to possession of or access to a child does not apply if the grandparent is the parent of a person whose parental rights have been terminated by court order or death and the child has been adopted by a person other than the spouse of the former spouse of the parent whose rights have been terminated.

SENATE BILL 531

SENATE AUTHO: Armbrister
HOUSE SPONSOR: C. Harris

Senate Bill 531 requires the court to give precedence to a final hearing in a suit brought by a governmental entity or authorized agency seeking termination of parental rights or the rights of an alleged father over other civil cases if the termination is being sought to free the child for adoption and discovery has been completed or enough time has elapsed for it to have been completed had discovery been diligently pursued. It also provides that, in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship, the court may give precedence to setting a final hearing for the case over other civil cases if it finds that the delay of ordinary scheduling practices would unreasonably affect the best interest of the child.
SENATE BILL 632
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

This act requires a mother, alleged father, and child to submit to blood testing of seven independent genetic systems and additional testing, if necessary, to establish paternity. The testing must be extensive enough to exclude 95 percent of the male population from the possibility of being the child's father. If the tests yield such results, the alleged father has the burden of proving that he is not the father of the child. Additional testing may not be required if the testing has shown that the man did not father the child or if the costs of the testing have reached the greatest amount that can be reasonably borne by one or more parties to the suit. The act also establishes venue for such suits.

SENATE BILL 652
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 652 amends the Family Code to exclude a child's mother from the persons who may execute an affidavit disclaiming interest in a child and waiving notice or the service of citation in any suit filed that affects the parent-child relationship.

SENATE BILL 654
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act grants to a person or authorized agency, named managing conservator in an irrevocable or unrevoked affidavit of relinquishment of parental rights, the right to possession of the child superior to the right of the person executing the affidavit and the right to consent to the medical and surgical treatment of the child.

SENATE BILL 656
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act provides that a petition for the adoption of a child by a person other than the child's stepparent, grandparent, aunt, or uncle by birth, marriage, or prior adoption will not be granted until a copy of the health, social, educational, and genetic history report signed by the adoptive parents has been filed in the record of the suit and, if required, a certificate has been obtained from the Texas Department of Human Services acknowledging receipt of the report and a copy of the report summary. The act further states that the validity of an adoption decree is not subject to attack because of a failure to include these documents in the record of the suit.

SENATE BILL 1002
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act delineates who may consent to the immunization of a minor when it is required for admission to a day care center or school. The person giving consent must indicate that he has received information on the benefits and adverse effects of the immunizations on forms provided by the Texas Department of Health.

SENATE BILL 1123
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87

Senate Bill 1123 amends many provisions of the Family Code relating to paternity and the voluntary legitimation of a child. The act details the information regarding an alleged father that must be included on a petition in a suit affecting the parent-child relationship, describes when an alleged father is entitled to service of citation, entitles either party in a suit to deny the alleged father's paternity and puts the burden of rebutting the allegation on that party, and declares any temporary orders valid and enforceable unless superceded by a final decree finding nonpaternity. It further provides that a suit to establish paternity or a suit to terminate parental rights may be brought before the birth of the child and states that, if a man fails to appear and defaults or if he admits the allegation of paternity, the blood test requirement is waived. The court, in a voluntary legitimation suit, may find a man to be the father of an illegitimate child without the consent of the mother, if the man executed a statement of paternity that is found to be true by the court. On a finding of paternity, the court may order retroactive support to be paid to the mother for a portion of prenatal and postnatal costs she incurred. Senate Bill 1123 also prohibits the filing of a paternity suit when a court has already rendered a final judgment establishing paternity, terminating the parent-child relationship between the child and each living parent of the child, or has granted a petition for adoption of the child. In addition, it details under what circumstances the rights of an alleged father may be terminated.
HOUSE BILL 167 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 11-1-87

House Bill 167 revised provisions of the Family Code relating to the enforcement of child support orders or orders seeking possession of or access to a child. Violations of temporary restraining orders or injunctions are made punishable by contempt. A person who fails to appear for a hearing is subject to arrest by the issuance of a capias, which is treated in a manner similar to a misdemeanor arrest warrant and may be entered in a local police computer. The court, to ensure the person's appearance at the contempt hearing, may release the individual on bond. If the person remains in custody, the hearing is to take place within five days of arrest unless waived by the person. An indigent person facing possible imprisonment for nonpayment of support is entitled to the services of a court-appointed attorney.

The Supreme Court of Texas is required to establish an advisory committee to adopt guidelines for courts to follow in determining the amount of child support to be ordered. The court may also establish an advisory committee to aid the trial courts of the state in determining the times and conditions for possession of or access to a child.

The act allows courts to modify child support orders to extend support past the 18th birthday of a child who is still in high school. It further states the procedure for the enforcement of a permanent order for child support or possession of or access to a child when enforcement is being sought by a motion for contempt. The act also requires a person found guilty of a failure to pay child support to pay the attorney's fees of the party bringing suit in addition to all court costs and other amounts past due. Finally, the financial inability to pay child support is now considered to be an affirmative defense and is no longer an element of the offense of criminal nonsupport.

Among the legislation passed by the 70th Legislature were acts placing restrictions on annexation powers (Senate Bill 962), empowering cities to contract with a private vendor for the operation of a jail (House Bill 80, 2nd Called Session), and lifting residency restrictions on most municipal employees (House Bill 824).

Incorporation and Annexation

This section includes relevant validating acts.

SENATE BILL 962
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Barrientos
HOUSE SPONSOR: Saunders

Senate Bill 962 revises the annexation authority of municipalities. Certain limitations are imposed on the permissible size and location of proposed annexations. If authorized by its charter, a home-rule city is empowered to make limited-purpose annexations, but the city is required to give notice and hold two public hearings prior to instituting annexation proceedings. Under this act, a city must prepare, and the city's governing body must approve, a plan of services and regulatory requirements, which must then be attached to the ordinance annexing the territory for limited purposes. The act also sets a three-year expiration date for limited-purpose annexations and requires the city in question to fully annex the area within 90 days of the expiration date. The act prohibits certain strip annexations and includes a provision for the automatic disannexation of territory that any city fails to annex for full purposes by September 1, 1988.

A procedure for creation of political subdivisions providing utilities and other services within a city's extraterritorial jurisdiction is outlined, including provision for appeal to the courts in disputed cases. Various limitations are imposed on a city's power to annex such subdivisions, and the subdivision is authorized to issue bonds for construction and maintenance of roadways.

A procedure by which a political subdivision may contract with a city for provision of utilities and other services is detailed, and a process of appeal to the Texas Water Commission and to the courts is provided. Only legally subdivided tracts may be connected to a district's water or wastewater system after the effective date of the act.

SENATE AUTHOR: Glasgow
HOUSE SPONSOR: Parker

Senate Bill 785 validates annexations by home-rule municipalities accomplished or attempted before March 1, 1987, including annexations of territory not contiguous to the municipalities. The act is inapplicable to certain matters that have been or currently are before the courts.

The act validates the incorporation proceedings of all cities that incorporated or attempted to incorporate under the General Laws of Texas and that have functioned or attempted to function as incorporated cities, and validates all governmental proceedings of such city since the incorporation or attempted incorporation. The act also validates the governmental acts of a city relating to annexation or attempted annexation of adjacent territory by the city prior to March 1, 1987, but exempts certain types of annexation, as well as governmental acts relating to the creation and operation of a tax increment financing zone. The act is inapplicable to certain matters that have been or currently are in court.

HOUSE BILL 1349
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87

House Bill 1349 details the procedure by which a municipality that has ceased to have any residents may be abolished. Under this act, after the 120th day from the date that a municipality ceases to have any residents, the owners of a majority of the land within the municipality may file a petition for the abolition of the municipality with a district court of the county in which all or a majority of the land in the municipality is located. The act requires the district judge of the court to hold a hearing on the petition within 60 days of the date the petition is filed and to give prior notice of the hearing. The act also requires the district to issue an abolition order within 10 days of finding that a petition is valid and to give notice of the abolition to the affected county commissioners court.

Public Improvements and Economic Development

SENATE BILL 482
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Senate Bill 482 amends the Civil Practice and Remedies Code by expressly stating that no home-rule charter, general law, or this amendment itself may be construed to prevent a home-rule municipality with 900,000 or more inhabitants from adopting a program designed to increase participation by minority businesses in public contract awards. The act requires qualified independent determination of the extent to which minority business enterprises are available to receive awards in a city that establishes a goal of awarding a certain percentage of its public contracts to minority business enterprises. The act also requires that the governing body of the city outline acceptable assistance that may be provided by contractors or others to minority business enterprises to achieve the purposes of the program. Under this act, a home-rule charter or general law that requires competitive bidding and the award of public contracts to the lowest responsible bidders is not affected, but all prospective bidders may be required to meet uniform standards designed to ensure a reasonable degree of participation by minority business enterprises. This act expires on January 1, 1999.

SENATE BILL 1532
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 1532 amends existing law by restricting the use of local hotel occupancy tax revenue to the promotion of tourism and the convention and hotel industry. The act specifically prohibits the use of such revenue for general revenue purposes or general governmental operations of a city.

HOUSE BILL 1551
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1551 amends existing law relating to the hotel occupancy tax by raising to seven percent (from the earlier five percent) the maximum amount of tax that a city may levy by ordinance on the consideration paid by an occupant of a sleeping room. The act requires that in a city that levies a tax in excess of four percent, no more than 55 percent (down from 65 percent) of the percentage of the tax in excess of four percent may be reserved solely for work on or pledges of payment of bonds issued for the Convention Center Complex, and at least 45 percent (up from 35 percent) must be used for advertising, conducting solicitation programs, and promoting tourism.

HOUSE BILL 2011
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2011 amends the Public Improvement District Assessment Act by allowing a city to undertake an improvement project in its extraterritorial jurisdiction if the governing body determines that the project is in the city's interest. The list of allowable public improvement projects is expanded to include streets and roads, water, wastewater, and drainage facilities, libraries, and mass transportation facilities; two or more types of improvement may be financed as a single improvement project. The act also extends the hearing notice requirement to a newspaper published in the extraterritorial jurisdiction, specifies the order of liens against property to collect assessments and provides enforcement therefor, and permits the addition of costs incurred in the issuance of bonds to those apportioned by the city’s governing body. The minimum percentage of the cost of improvements required to be paid by special assessments is raised from 10 percent to 20 percent. The act confirms the validity of petitions filed and accepted prior to the act’s effective date but holds the actions of cities establishing improvement districts and undertaking improvement projects subject to law in effect at the time the actions were taken.

The act exempts authorities from applicable state laws to the extent necessary to allow this. The act requires that an authority provide, on request, any Texas vendor with the current cost published by the federal program and allow the vendor to bid on those items it believes it can provide at the same or lower delivered cost if the vendor can demonstrate that the items match the quality and specifications of those offered through the federal program.

HOUSE BILL 1964
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1964 amends the Housing Authorities Law by requiring an authority to comply with applicable state laws regarding the execution of a contractor’s performance and payment bonds. Under this act, an authority authorized to do so by a federal program or regulation may waive the performance and payment bonds and accept in lieu of the bonds an unconditional and irrevocable letter of credit in the amount of the contract price.

SENATE BILL 481
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Senate Bill 481 amends existing law relating to the repair or removal of substandard buildings in a home-rule municipality with a population of 700,000 or more. Under this act, a city may either repair a building at its own expense and assess the expenses on the land on which the building stands or else assess a civil penalty against the property owner for failure to repair or remove the building. The act stipulates that city-financed repair of a building may be made only to the extent necessary to bring it into compliance with minimum building standards and only if it is a residential building with 10 or fewer dwelling units. The act also sets restrictions on the city’s lien to secure payment of a civil penalty or the costs of repairs or removal of the building. It also sets an annual interest rate of 10 percent on penalties and assessments and prohibits the transfer of a city’s right to an assessment lien to a third party. Moreover, a lien acquired under this act by any city or town may not be foreclosed if the property in question is the residential homestead of a person 65 years of age or older. In any judicial proceeding regarding enforcement of city rights, the prevailing party is entitled to recover reasonable attorney’s fees from the nonprevailing party.

Subdivisions and Developers

SENATE BILL 408
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 408 amends existing law relating to plat requirements, regulations, and utility services applicable to a subdivision of land for which a plat must be filed with a city government. A city is authorized to classify affected subdivisions and need not impose the same requirements on all classifications. The city is required to issue a certificate upon approval of a subdivision plan and to disclose information to landowners and other interested parties regarding whether a plan is required or has been prepared. Utility service to an affected subdivision is prohibited until a certificate has been issued. The city attorney or representative is authorized to seek an injunction against threatened violations and to recover damages in certain circumstances. The governing body of a city is authorized to extend the application of its rules governing plats and subdivision of land throughout its extraterritorial jurisdiction.

The conditions under which an amending plat may be issued to an applicant without a public notice and hearing are extended to include certain amendments involving six or fewer lots. The prohibition of utility service to uncertified subdivisions supersedes the authorization to provide services under a certificate of public convenience and necessity.
Subdivision regulation in counties that border the Rio Grande River is made to extend to all areas within five miles of the city and is not limited to the city's extraterritorial jurisdiction.

The act also limits the authority of a city to provide for construction of improvements to improvements that benefit property that is subdivided on or after the act’s effective date and for which a subdivision plat is prepared in accordance with law. Under this act, a property owner reserves the right to elect not to connect the property to the city sanitary system if the property is serviced by a septic tank prior to the act’s effective date.

Under a developer participation contract, a city with a population of 50,000 or more agrees to pay a part of the construction costs of public improvements, excluding buildings, related to a subdivision development and the developer agrees to construct the improvements. The act sets limits on a city’s participation in the total contract price and requires the developer to provide a performance bond and to make pertinent books and records available for inspection by the city.

The act requires a determination of the value of, and monetary compensation for, property rendered useless to a retail public utility in the event of a grant of single certification to a municipality; standards set forth in the Property Code are cited for purposes of determining the value of property and establishing the amount of compensation to be paid. It further requires that county auditors, during each term of office, successfully complete a minimum of 40 classroom hours of instruction relating to their duties.

SENATE BILL 336
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

SENATE AUTHORITY: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: Millsap

Under current law, an “impact fee” is a charge or assessment imposed by a political subdivision against new development in order to generate revenue for funding the costs of capital improvements that are required as a result of the development. Senate Bill 336 establishes guidelines to make local governments accountable for the assessment and use of impact fees.

The act provides that impact fees may be imposed only to fund certain costs and specifically prohibits their use in funding other items. The required content of a “capital improvements plan,” which the local government uses to identify improvements that are subject to an impact fee, is set out, and a formula is established to create a limit on the amount that may be assessed. Specific provisions are made for impact fees adopted and land that is platted either before or after the effective date of the act. The political subdivision is authorized to negotiate a method of payment by one subject to an impact fee, and the fee may not be collected where the services are not currently available. Exceptions are provided. Payment of the fee entitles the subdivision to the permanent use of the services for which the fee was exacted, and political subdivisions are authorized to expend any other funds to reduce the amount of impact fees imposed. Provision is made for crediting the cost of certain roadway facilities against the amount of roadway facilities impact fees otherwise due.

Procedures for adoption of an impact fee are set out, including a public hearing with notice prior to consideration of the assumptions about how the land will be used in the future, the development of a capital improvements plan, and adoption of impact fees.

The use of the proceeds derived from impact fees is circumscribed, and provision is made for refunding fees collected under certain circumstances.

The governmental unit imposing an impact fee is required to periodically update the land use assumptions and capital improvements plan and it must subsequently provide a public hearing with notice to consider amending the plan. In addition, the governing body of the political subdivision is required to appoint an advisory committee, the membership and function of which are detailed.
General provisions are included that require the timely performance of duties by a political subdivision, the keeping of records of any public hearing conducted pursuant to the act, and the replacement of impact fees existing prior to the act with fees made pursuant to the act.

The act provides a method of appeal of final administrative decisions, and certain political subdivisions are authorized to impose fees for flood control that are exempt from certain requirements of the act.

Certain fees and charges are exempted from the provisions of the act, including some fees approved by the Texas Water Commission. Certain districts are authorized to petition the commission for approval of impact fees, and requirements are imposed on the commission when reviewing such petitions.

SENATE BILL 1382

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones

HOUSE SPONSOR: Gibson

Effective: 6-20-87

Federal tax law limits the amount of tax-exempt bonds that bond issuers in a state may issue to finance certain private projects and allows each state to allocate the state's authority to issue those bonds among those issuers. Senate Bill 1382 establishes a system to accomplish that allocation in this state.

The act divides the state's authority to issue the bonds among three classes of bonds, and within those classes grants reservations of the state's authority to individual bond issuers according to the order in which the issuers make application. After October 1 of each year, the amount of the state's authority remaining for that year is available to any issuer regardless of the class of bonds. A priority system is established for allocating any of the state's authority that is to be carried forward into the following year.

The act limits the amount of the state's authority that may be allocated for a single project and places certain other limits on allocations to housing finance corporations.

The Texas Department of Commerce administers the allocation system.

Senate Bill 56 includes changes in laws governing issuance of tax and revenue anticipation notes, use of money in the state treasury, and issuance of bonds by public entities.

The act defines "credit agreement" and authorizes use of the proceeds from a credit agreement to pay the principal and interest on tax and revenue anticipation notes. The amount of authorized outstanding tax and revenue notes is increased, and their issuance is exempt from the jurisdiction of the newly created bond review board. Amounts in the tax and revenue anticipation note fund are made available to pay required federal rebates.

The state treasurer is authorized under this act to invest gross proceeds from state obligations in obligations of a state or political subdivision and in mutual funds composed of obligations of a state or political subdivision.

The act also requires, with certain exceptions, bonds proposed to be issued by the state, an instrumentality or political subdivision of the state, or a nonprofit corporation acting for any of those entities to be submitted to the attorney general for legal review and thereafter to the comptroller of public accounts for registration.

The substance of the act took effect August 4, 1987, although a parallel amendment to the Government Code took effect on the effective date of the executive title of that code (September 1, 1987). The act's provisions for bond review and registration apply only to bonds issued on or after November 1, 1987.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 55

SENATE AUTHOR: Farmer

HOUSE SPONSOR: Stiles

For Election: 11-3-87

Senate Joint Resolution 55 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $400 million in general obligation bonds to establish a local project fund in the state treasury. The purpose of the fund is to make loans to local governments for the financing of the cost of acquisition, construction, repair, renovation, and equipping of public facilities and to make grants for use in the planning and design of public facilities. House Bill 4 in the chapter on state government contains the enabling legislation for the amendment.
Corrections

HOUSE BILL 146 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 8-4-87

House Bill 146 authorizes home-rule cities, counties, and nonprofit corporations acting on behalf of a home-rule city or county to finance, construct, acquire, and operate corrections facilities through the issuance of revenue bonds, certificates of obligation, or certificates of participation. The facilities could be used by the local entity or, if specifically approved by the legislature, leased to the state. Revenue bonds are authorized to be issued for this purpose without voter approval, but bonds to be issued for a project to be leased to the state are subject to the prior approval of the Bond Review Board. All proposed obligations are subject to legal review by the attorney general. Interest rates for the bonds may be determined by the issuer or by contract but are subject to the maximum rate set by law. Ad valorem taxes may not be levied by a local entity to finance such facilities, but lease payments may be pledged to repay obligations incurred under such projects.

Meetings, Notice, and Records

HOUSE BILL 74
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

This act authorizes a transfer of all birth and death records maintained by a city with a population of 2,500 or more to the custodian of such county records, if the transfer is approved by the commissioners court, the county custodian, and either the municipal governing body or a petition signed by 20 percent of the number of municipal residents who voted in the most recent mayoral election.

HOUSE BILL 1354
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1354 authorizes local law enforcement agencies to provide conviction information obtained from the Department of Public Safety to any political subdivision that employs or licenses drivers of public transportation vehicles.

SENATE BILL 168
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Senate Bill 168 amends the Texas open meetings act to clarify some of its provisions and correct problems that frustrate the purposes of the act. A “meeting,” for purposes of the act, is made to include deliberations between third parties and a quorum of members; a “meeting” does not include conferences between members and their employees. The act prohibits closed meetings unless a quorum of the governmental body has first convened in open meeting or session for which public notice has been given. The act requires that a certified agenda or tape recording of each closed meeting be kept for two years, or until the outcome of litigation over the meeting is resolved. The agenda must contain a statement of the subject of each deliberation and a record of any further action taken. District court judges are authorized to inspect the certified agendas or tape recordings in suits charging that a meeting was improperly closed. If the court finds the closed meeting was not authorized, it may grant appropriate relief, which may include an order making public any portion of the certified agenda or tape recording. Those members of a governmental body who knowingly participate in a closed meeting in which neither a certified agenda nor recording is being made commit a Class C misdemeanor. Unlawful disclosure of the certified agenda or tape recording of a properly held closed meeting is a Class B misdemeanor, unless that person had good reason to believe such disclosure was lawful or made a mistake of fact concerning the nature or content of the agenda or recording.

The act also specifically provides for the unobstructed visual recording of public meetings by anyone in attendance. Minutes or a tape recording of each open meeting shall be made available to the public. “Emergency” meetings for which two-hour advance notice is permissible are restricted to situations involving imminent threats to public health and safety or to reasonably unforeseeable situations requiring immediate action by the governmental body.

Any action taken in violation of the act is voidable by the court. In addition, the prevailing party in a suit alleging a violation of the act may be awarded attorney fees and court costs subject to the discretion of the court.

EFFECTIVE: see below
SENATE AUTHOR: Barrientos

The act also requires certain election forms that a candidate files to contain a summary of the nepotism laws and a signed statement that the candidate understands the laws. Finally, the act provides for the rehiring, under limited circumstances, of former teachers who were displaced by the earlier law. Certain provisions of this act take effect on August 31, 1987; others take effect on September 1, 1987.

136
GOVERNMENT—SPECIAL DISTRICTS

The 70th Legislature authorized over 20 new special-law water districts and made numerous revisions and amendments to the Water Code. House Bill 2091 amended the Water Code pertaining to the investment of water districts’ funds. Additionally, laws were passed requiring water districts to obtain written permission from the Texas Water Commission before filing for bankruptcy (House Bill 2621), and to require districts to adopt written policies regarding ethics, travel expenditures, and investments (House Bill 1582).

Among hospital district enactments, a major measure was the constitutional amendment proposed by Senate Joint Resolution 27. If approved by Texas voters, this amendment will authorize the legislature to provide for the creation of emergency medical services districts (enabling legislation, Senate Bill 669). A second proposed constitutional amendment, House Joint Resolution 18, will, if approved, permit the legislature to provide for the creation of jail districts (enabling legislation, House Bill 400).

Legislation passed in this area also affected road utility districts, rural fire prevention districts, emergency communication districts, and park districts. Bills relating to transit authorities are summarized in the chapter on transportation and highways.

Water Districts

Article III, Section 52, and Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution provide for the creation of various types of water districts. Many of these districts may be created under general law, on petition to the Texas Water Commission or a county commissioners court, followed by voter approval in a confirmation election. As of 1985, Texas statutes authorized 13 types of general-law water districts: water control and improvement districts, underground water conservation districts, freshwater supply districts, municipal utility districts, water improvement districts, drainage districts, levee improvement districts, irrigation districts, navigation districts, water import districts, special utility districts, water power control districts, and water control and preservation districts.

Alternatively, the legislature may create water districts by special law, conferring on each district its own powers, sometimes including combinations of powers that are applicable to the different types of general-law districts. Creation by special law gives rise to additional varieties of water districts such as river authorities, flood control districts, utility and reclamation districts, and others. Collectively, special-law and general-law districts created under Article XVI, Section 59 (comprising the vast majority of newer districts), are often referred to as conservation and reclamation districts.

The following enactments amend general-law water district statutes:

SENATE BILL 1067
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Krier
HOUSE SPONSOR: Richardson

Some municipal utility districts refuse to connect utilities in the name of tenants and will only connect utilities in the name of the landlord or property owner. Senate Bill 1067 prohibits any municipal utility district from refusing to connect utilities in the name of tenants of an individually metered rental dwelling. A dwelling unit that is in a building containing two or more units and that is served by a master meter or demand meter for the building is not subject to this act.

HOUSE BILL 720
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Gibson
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

Provisions of the Water Code prohibit the creation of certain political subdivisions within a city’s extraterritorial jurisdiction. Under current law, a city must consent to the creation of a Special Utility District (SUD) within its extraterritorial jurisdiction. A SUD has no authority to tax. HB 720 eliminates the requirement that a city must consent to the creation of a SUD that would operate within its extraterritorial jurisdiction. If a SUD is to be converted into a district with taxing authority, then the city’s consent is required.

HOUSE BILL 994
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Dutton
SENATE SPONSOR: Truan

HOUSE BILL 1134
EFFECTIVE: 6-17-87

House Bill 1134 amends current law to include municipal utility districts among the conservation and reclamation districts affected by V.A.C.S. Article 1182c-5, which relates to the abolition of certain districts. Under this bill, districts are included if they provide either freshwater supply, sanitary sewer, or drainage services; prior law required a district to provide all three services.

HOUSE BILL 1221
EFFECTIVE: 5-19-87

House Bill 1221 clarifies language regarding the necessary expenses incurred by a watermaster for which the holders of water rights must reimburse the Texas Water Commission.

HOUSE BILL 1328
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This act repeals several statutory provisions, applicable to certain types of general-law water districts (municipal utility districts, stormwater control districts, special utility districts, multi-county irrigation districts, and multi-county water control and improvement districts), requiring the deposit of a refundable fee to accompany petitions for their creation. In place of such deposits, the act provides for a nonrefundable fee of not to exceed $700 plus the cost of the required public notice, payable to the Texas Water Commission, to accompany petitions to create or convert a water district or to give a water district sewage and drainage powers. Bond issue applications filed with the commission are subject to an application fee of up to $500 plus the cost of the notice. In addition, the bond issuer must pay a fee of up to 0.25 percent of the amount of the issue. In each case, the commission is authorized to establish the fee by rule.

HOUSE BILL 1514
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1514 provides that a newspaper publication of notice required by law for a conservation and reclamation district that furnishes residential water and sewer service is satisfied by publication in any newspaper of general circulation in the district.

HOUSE BILL 1582
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1582 amends the Water Code to require districts to adopt in writing certain policies, including a code of ethics and travel expenditure policies and investment policies. Each district shall file an annual audit with the state auditor; any comments by the state auditor regarding the audit shall be filed with the Legislative Audit Committee and the governing board of the district. The state auditor may audit financial transactions of any water district. This act deletes from the Water Code all language regarding the audit of river authorities and certain districts, including provisions that formerly directed the river authority or district to pay for the audit.

HOUSE BILL 1834
EFFECTIVE: 5-19-87

House Bill 1834 amends provisions of the Water Code to allow certain freshwater supply districts located in or adjacent to counties with a population of 900,000 or more to divide into two new districts. Under this act, such a district may also assume the authority of a road district subject to election by qualified voters of the district. A road district may not use bonded indebtedness for road construction purposes unless two-thirds of the district's qualified voters confirm by election the use of bonded indebtedness. The amount of this indebtedness may not exceed one-fourth of the assessed value of the real property within the district.

HOUSE BILL 2091
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

House Bill 2091 amends the Water Code to allow water control and improvement districts to invest or reinvest district funds in any direct or indirect obligations within the United States or its political subdivisions and in certificates of deposit within the state. Certain conditions and stipulations apply.
HOUSE BILL 2555
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

Prior law permitted municipal utility districts to call a hearing regarding the exclusion of land from a district before the first bond election. House Bill 2555 amends that law to provide for such a hearing before a district’s issuing its first series of bonds. This act also requires a district to call a new bond election if the district has previously held an election at which approval was given for the issuance of bonds, but where, before the bonds were issued, land was excluded from the district after the election.

HOUSE BILL 2571
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2571 authorizes certain municipal utility districts (MUDs) to designate property within the district for improvements limited to that particular area, without benefit to the district as a whole. This act authorizes districts to establish designated property by adopting a plan defining the area and improvements, and by requiring a public hearing with advance notice and an election by the voters in the designated area. Once a designated area is approved, bonds may be issued supported by a taxation procedure to pay for the improvements. A MUD may tax a designated area at rates different from those of the rest of the district.

House Bill 2571 also amends the boundaries of the Dallas County Flood Control District No. 1.

HOUSE BILL 2621
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Under prior law, water districts were permitted to file for bankruptcy to avoid payment of obligations and bonds without first attempting to renegotiate the bonds or set higher taxes in order to meet their obligations. House Bill 2621 amends the Water Code to require water districts to obtain written permission from the Texas Water Commission before filing for bankruptcy under any federal bankruptcy law. The commission may grant a district permission to file for bankruptcy only if, after investigating a district’s financial condition, the commission determines that the district cannot reasonably meet its debts. This act applies only to bankruptcy proceedings initiated or proposed to be initiated on or after January 1, 1987.

HOUSE BILL 121 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 10-20-87

This act specifies procedures for the initial appointment of and election thereafter of district directors, and provides for the annexation of a district or a portion of a district by a city. After annexation, the city must assume a pro rata share of the district’s debt, and the district is prohibited from levying a tax on the annexed area. If a city annexes the entire territory of a district, the district shall be dissolved.

Emergency Services Districts

The 70th Legislature passed a proposed constitutional amendment which, if approved by the voters of the state, would allow the legislature to provide for the creation of emergency services districts. Senate Bill 669 and House Bill 1226 provide enabling legislation for the proposed amendment.

FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87
Currently, Texas law does not provide any constitutional or statutory authorization for the creation of a separate district capable of levying taxes specifically for the purpose of providing emergency medical services. Senate Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment to add Section 48-e to Article III, Texas Constitution, which authorizes the legislature to provide for the creation of emergency medical services districts
(EMS) with voter-approved taxing authority of up to 10 cents per $100 valuation of property within the district. The districts may provide emergency medical services, emergency ambulance services, rural fire prevention and control services, or other emergency services authorized by the legislature. Senate Bill 669 is the enabling legislation for this proposed constitutional amendment.

SENATE BILL 669
EFFECTIVE: see below

Senate Bill 669 provides for the creation of emergency services districts and includes provisions relating to the organization, powers, duties, operations, financing, dissolution, and taxing authority of such districts. Its effect is contingent on voter approval of Senate Joint Resolution 27, the proposed constitutional amendment that authorizes the legislature to create emergency medical services districts. If the amendment is adopted, Senate Bill 669 becomes effective January 1, 1988.

HOUSE BILL 1226
EFFECTIVE: see below

House Bill 1226 provides for the creation and establishment of emergency services districts to provide emergency services in counties of 125,000 persons or fewer. This act takes effect only if the constitutional amendment proposed by Senate Joint Resolution 27 is approved by Texas voters.

Jail Districts

The 70th Legislature passed a proposed constitutional amendment that, if approved by the voters of the state, would allow the legislature to provide for the creation of jail districts. House Bill 400 is the enabling legislation for this proposed amendment.

FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87

House Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts. The jail districts could be authorized by the legislature to issue bonds and levy property taxes to pay for operating costs of the district, contingent on the approval of the districts’ voters. The enabling legislation is House Bill 400.

HOUSE BILL 400
EFFECTIVE: see below

House Bill 400 would allow a county or cooperating counties to create a jail district by a process of petition and referendum. The district may be created to finance and effect the construction, acquisition, or improvement of a jail facility to serve the county or counties comprising the district. The district is authorized to levy taxes, issue bonds, and exercise the power of eminent domain. House Bill 400 takes effect only if the constitutional amendment proposed by House Joint Resolution 18 is approved by the voters of Texas.

Park Districts

HOUSE BILL 2194
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2194 authorizes the creation of a park district in Comal County that has river frontage on both the Guadalupe and Comal rivers. In addition to its other powers and duties, the park district has the authority to levy taxes, require the payment of fees for the use of the facilities, and issue bonds and notes, but bonds may not be issued unless authorized by a majority of the voters of the district.

Road Utility Districts

The 68th Legislature, in its 2nd Called Session of 1984, enacted legislation authorizing a new type of special district identified as a road utility district. Such a district, with powers to build new roads financed by issuance of bonds, can be created subject to confirmation election if it has the approval of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission, surrounding cities and counties, and affected property owners. Road utility districts are patterned after municipal utility districts, except that facilities once built are turned over to the state, a county, or a city after the district’s debts are retired.

The 70th Legislature made several amendments to the legislation affecting road utility districts and to the County Road and Bridge Act, expanding and clarifying the authority of road districts and road utility districts.

SENATE BILL 1315
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Caperton
HOUSE SPONSOR: Berlanga

Senate Bill 1315 makes numerous amendments to the County Road and Bridge Act and the road utility district law. Among these amendments are ones authorizing taxes for road districts and road utility districts on a basis other than ad valorem taxation, authorizing a commissioners court to exclude land from a district, and authorizing a road district to construct road improvements outside the district. This act provides that the assessed value for road utility districts shall be calculated at the market value recorded by the chief appraiser of the central appraisal district and also amends the definition of “assessed value” in the Tax Code.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 60
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Leonard
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

The current state constitution sets a maximum property tax rate of three cents per $100 valuation for rural fire prevention districts. The amendment proposed by House Joint Resolution 60 would allow voters of a rural fire prevention district located wholly or partly in a county of more than 400,000 population (Bexar, Dallas, El Paso, Harris, Tarrant, and Travis counties) to approve a rate of up to six cents per $100 valuation.

HOUSE BILL 53 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: see below
HOUSE AUTHOR: Leonard
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

This act is the enabling legislation for House Joint Resolution 60 from the regular session and takes effect if and when the constitutional amendment proposed by that joint resolution is approved. The act authorizes rural fire prevention districts located wholly or partly in a county of more than 400,000 to levy a tax rate of up to six cents per $100 valuation contingent on voter approval in the confirmation election creating the district. For a district that is already in existence, its board of fire commissioners may order a district election to authorize a rate increase up to six cents per $100 valuation. Should the district’s voters reject the proposal, however, no subsequent election on a rate increase can be called for at least a year.

EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Blake
HOUSE SPONSOR: R. Lewis

Senate Bill 865 provides a method by which the board of fire commissioners of a rural fire prevention district may exclude or de-annex certain territory from the district. The bill requires excluded or de-annexed territory to continue to pay its pro rata share of the district’s debt that was outstanding at the time of exclusion or de-annexation and requires the district to continue to levy taxes on the territory to satisfy the territory’s share of the district’s debt.

Miscellaneous

HOUSE BILL 526

EFFECTIVE: 5-18-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Uher
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

In Matagorda County, a special seawall commission exercises levee construction powers granted to coastal counties and cities. The prior law authorized the commission to levy property taxes at 10 cents per $100 valuation. This act, applicable for tax year 1988 and subsequent tax years, converts that figure to a maximum rate and gives the commission discretion to set the rate at any level up to such maximum.
GOVERNMENT—STATE

This chapter covers legislation dealing with state government administration and organization, except for that included in the chapters on sunset legislation, public officials and employees, state taxes and tax administration, appropriations, and general government. Several of the more important legislative measures in 1987 dealt with spending and finance. One, House Bill 7 from the 2nd Called Session, granted the governor budget execution authority subject to review by the Legislative Budget Board. In addition, the 70th Legislature proposed a number of constitutional amendments designed to promote economic growth, address future revenue availability, or meet pressing capital expenditure needs. Those amendments included the removal of restrictions on public loans and grants for economic development purposes (House Joint Resolution 5), the authorization of state bond issuances for development of Texas products and businesses (House Joint Resolution 4), the creation of a Texas growth fund (House Joint Resolution 5, 2nd Called Session), the creation of an economic stabilization fund (House Joint Resolution 2, 2nd Called Session), and the authorization of $500 million in general obligation bonds to finance the construction of corrections institutions and mental health and mental retardation facilities. To provide better oversight of new and previously authorized bond programs, legislators created a five-member bond review board composed of certain of the state’s top elected officials (Senate Bill 1027).

The 70th Legislature established, reorganized, or abolished numerous state agencies, beyond those changes cited in the sunset legislation chapter. The major measure in this regard consolidated a number of agencies into the Texas Department of Commerce (House Bill 4). Appendix E itemizes the various agency changes. Another constitutional amendment submitted to Texas voters provided for statutory restrictions on an outgoing governor’s appointive powers (Senate Joint Resolution 53). Finally, the third Monday in January was established as “Martin Luther King, Jr., Day” in honor of the late civil rights leader (Senate Bill 485). See the chapter on civil remedies and procedures for summaries of enactments relating to legal suits against the State of Texas (House Bill 440 and House Bill 815).

The act provides guidelines for the issuance and review of proposals.
Economics and Finance

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 5
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: A. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

Since 1876 the Texas Constitution has prohibited grants and loans of public money to individuals, associations of individuals, and municipal and other corporations. The prohibition was added as a response to abuses of public funds. Eligible public purposes would include diversification of the economy, the reduction of unemployment, the stimulation of agricultural innovation and fostering of agricultural enterprises, and the expansion of transportation and commerce.

The act expires on September 1, 1998, unless the legislature authorizes the creation of Texas growth fund II during the regular legislative session preceding the 10th anniversary of the act’s adoption by the voters, in which event the act expires on September 1, 2008. The act also amends Article VII of the constitution by reaffirming the right of both the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System and the State Board of Education to manage their respective funds. The proposed amendment will be submitted to the voters at an election to be held on November 8, 1988.

FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87

Senate Joint Resolution 56 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution that would empower the legislature to authorize the issuance of up to $500 million in general obligation bonds and the use of the bond proceeds to provide facilities for corrections institutions and mental health and mental retardation facilities. The proposed amendment would appropriate, out of the first money coming into the state treasury each year, an amount sufficient to pay the debt service.

SENATE BILL 1407
EFFECTIVE: see below

Senate Bill 1407 subjects the issuance of bonds for the financing of certain state facilities to review and approval by the bond review board (see Senate Bill 1027) and requires legislative authorization of specific projects. General obligation and revenue bonds of up to $500 million may be issued and the proceeds distributed to appropriate state agencies, but proceeds may not be distributed to the Texas Department of Corrections unless the department has previously submitted a master plan for construction of corrections facilities. Unexpended bond proceeds are to be invested by the state treasurer in investments approved by law. The act authorizes state agencies to enter lease agreements on behalf of the state and requires that their biennial appropriation requests include amounts sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on their outstanding bonds. The rights of agencies in property financed under the provisions of this act are those of a lessee. Bonds issued under this act are an authorized investment and may secure deposits of public funds of any political corporation or subdivision of the state. The act authorizes the governor to appoint a chairman from the members of the board of directors of the Texas Public Building Authority.

Senate Bill 1407 takes effect on August 31, 1987, except that the $500 million bond authorization is contingent on voter approval of the constitutional amendment proposed by Senate Joint Resolution 56.

GOVERNMENT—SUNSET LEGISLATION

The Texas Sunset Act provides for the recurring review of state agencies and advisory committees and for the termination of the entities unless reauthorizing legislation is enacted. Under provisions of the act, the legislature voted to continue one agency without revisions, to continue 11 agencies with modifications, and to abolish two entities: the Medical Care Advisory Committee and the Technology Training Board.

Agencies under sunset review in 1987 were primarily criminal and juvenile justice agencies, including the Texas Department of Corrections, and health and human services agencies, including the Texas Department of Human Services and the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

In addition to program changes, the sunset evaluation process encourages the adoption of administrative and organizational reforms, many of which are standard and are applied to the legislation for most agencies. The general across-the-board provisions include: (1) requiring public membership on boards; (2) prohibiting conflicts of interest and limiting lobbying; (3) specifying grounds for removing board members and informing board members and employees of required standards of conduct; (4) requiring financial reports and audits; (5) requiring skill-oriented career ladders; (6) requiring equal employment opportunities; (7) requiring merit pay systems; (8) providing for public notification and information on board activities and for public testimony; (9) requiring all funds to be placed in the treasury; (10) establishing complaint procedures; and (11) requiring separate board and staff functions. SENATE SPONSOR:  Montford

House Bill 83 continues the Texas Adult Probation Commission and sets 1999 as the date of its next sunset review.

The act includes a section relating to the imposition of electronic monitoring as a condition of probation (Section 7).

The act directs the commission to define noncompliance with standards for probation offices and expands allowable sanctions for noncompliance (Section 22). It creates the Advisory Committee on Probation Department Management to the Texas Adult Probation Commission (Section 23) to develop guidelines for the organization, management, and operation of local probation departments; if the committee presents guidelines for the commission's consideration, it is continued in existence until September 1989; if it fails to file the guidelines with the commission by September 1988, it is abolished as of that date (Section 27), and the commission is directed to prepare such guidelines (Section 15).

The act authorizes the commission to provide training for probation officers (Section 19) and directs the commission to establish an officer certification program (Section 21).

In other provisions, the act also: (1) encourages reading programs for probationers who are functionally illiterate (Sections 1, 15); (2) prohibits the courts from requiring probationers to make payments as a

(Section 16); (9) provides for the continuation of the Interstate Parole Compact Administrator for Texas
(Section 1); and (10) adds across-the-board sunset recommendations.

SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee

HOUSE SPONSOR: Granoff

Senate Bill 17 continues the Texas Juvenile Probation Commission and sets 1999 as the year of its next sunset review.

The act changes the membership of the commission by replacing one of the three district judges with a county judge or commissioner (Section 2).

It allows juveniles to be prosecuted for certain misdemeanor offenses in municipal or justice of the peace courts, rather than in juvenile courts (Sections 21, 26), but provides for sealing the files and records of such cases (Section 27), and it allows the courts to transfer three-time offenders to juvenile courts (Section 21).

It establishes disposition hearing fees and the juvenile probation diversion fund (Section 23); money from the fees is to be used by the commission for the purchase of services necessary to keep certain children from being committed to the Texas Youth Commission.

It requires a court fee of a maximum of $15 per month for children who are placed on probation and who, or whose guardians, are financially able to pay (Section 25). Under previous law, the fee was discretionary.

It provides that court-ordered support payments for children placed outside their homes be made to local juvenile probation departments or, for children committed to the Texas Youth Commission, to the youth commission (Section 24).

The act provides that children who run away from home twice, rather than only once, come under the supervision of a juvenile court, and it specifies that the voluntary, unexcused absence from school that results in juvenile court supervision must be without the consent of the child's parents (Section 20).

The commission is directed to monitor the effectiveness of probation services (Section 13) and to update estimates of juvenile population in each county for state aid purposes (Section 17).

The act also includes provisions relating to the following: (1) certification of juvenile probation officers
(Sections 10, 11); (2) interagency cooperation (Section 12); (3) state aid and assistance to juvenile boards
(Sections 16, 19); (4) complaints about juvenile boards (Section 18); (5) fees for informal adjustment services
(Section 22); and (6) changes in the composition and responsibilities of the Texas Advisory Council on Juvenile Services (Section 5).

In addition, Senate Bill 17 requires juvenile boards to appoint advisory councils and authorizes juvenile boards to contract with the Texas Youth Commission for juvenile probation services (Section 28).

The act also implements across-the-board sunset recommendations.

SENATE BILL 33

SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee

HOUSE SPONSOR: Granoff

Senate Bill 33 continues the Texas Youth Commission (TYC) and sets 1999 as the date of its next sunset review. The act reduces institutionalization of children for minor offenses and emphasizes delinquency prevention and the use of service contracts.

The commission is authorized to apprehend children who escape while under the commission’s authority or who break the conditions of their release (Section 46).

The violation of a disposition order prohibiting running away from home, truancy, and certain minor misdemeanors is excluded from the definition of delinquent conduct (Section 48).

Also, the commission is directed to allocate expenditures for contract residential care on a fixed monthly basis, when suitable (Section 20); is prohibited from developing and operating new halfway houses if programs are contractually available (Section 21); and is required to establish performance standards for its programs (Section 22).

In other program areas, the act: (1) directs the commission to identify recidivists (Section 31); (2) directs the commission to develop programs to encourage family involvement in rehabilitation (Section 35); (3) requires the commission to evaluate home settings before releasing children in its custody to their homes (Section 39); (4) specifies sanctions against children released under supervision who violate their release orders, including restitution for damages or performance of community service (Section 41); (5) directs the commission to develop a management system for parole services (Section 42); (6) removes the statutory limit on contract rates for parole services (Section 44); and (7) specifies that the religious training of children in custody is to be based on the children’s choices (Section 29).

In administrative areas, the act: (1) requires the commission to compute costs of operating facilities in a manner that is consistent with that used by other state agencies (Section 24); (2) extends liability protection to physicians under contract with TYC (Section 47); (3) includes across-the-board sunset provisions; (4) creates special accounts and funds, including a student trust fund (Section 27); and (5) updates obsolete language.

The act includes provisions affecting other agencies: (1) the administrator of the Texas Employment Commission is directed to appoint a person to coordinate Communities in Schools services; TEC and the Central Education Agency are to adopt a memorandum of understanding concerning their roles (Section 49); (2) TYC and TDMHMR are to cooperate regarding mentally ill and mentally retarded children committed to TYC (Section 37); and (3) the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse is directed to expand services for children when funds are available (Section 50).

The act repeals provisions relating to superintendents of TYC facilities, commitment by juvenile court, contracts with Big Brothers/Big Sisters, and the Corsicana State Home, the West Texas Children’s Home at Pyote, and the Waco State Home (Section 52).

SENATE BILL 245

SENATE AUTHOR: McFarland

HOUSE SPONSOR: Granoff

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 245 continues the Texas Department of Corrections (TDC) and sets its next sunset review for 1999. The act emphasizes reducing recidivism and preparing inmates for their return to the community. It provides special services for inmates with disabilities or other special needs and makes changes concerning good conduct time. It also authorizes shock probation and literacy programs.

Board Operations

The act authorizes the governor to designate the chairman of the board of corrections but does not change the board membership (Section 5). The board is authorized to hold open or executive emergency meetings by conference call; open meeting calls must be available to be heard by and be recorded for the public (Section 4). Board members are exempted from statutory limits on state liability (Section 59).

Correctional Facilities

The board is authorized to acquire property, subject to the General Appropriations Act or through gifts, for a prison site (Section 8) and to contract with counties, subject to authority and review, to secure corrections facilities (Section 9).

The act validates the lease-purchase arrangement for the Michael Unit in Anderson County and for trusty units in six counties, and it exempts the property from property tax (Section 21). It directs TDC, in evaluating locations for units, to consider proximity to: (1) a county with at least 100,000 people; (2) other department units; (3) inmates’ homes; and (4) educational and medical services (Section 44). It also directs TDC to establish an overnight holding facility for inmate outpatients at the U.T. Medical Branch in Galveston (Section 23).

Overcrowding and Good Conduct Time

When it determines that overcrowding has decreased, the board is required to change its inmate classification system so that inmates are allowed no more than 20 days’ good conduct time for each 30 days served; upward reclassification could only occur every 90 days (Section 13). For inmates sentenced for offenses committed after September 1, 1987, the act reduces the maximum additional days that a “trusty” can accrue from 25 to 10 (Sections 14, 64). The act also authorizes up to 15 days’ good conduct time for each 30 days served for diligent participation in an agricultural, work, or literacy program (Section 14) and provides that good conduct time may be awarded only to an inmate actively involved in an agricultural, vocational, educational, or work program, if the inmate is capable of participating (Section 15).

An annual review is required of rules and policies concerning classification (Section 13) and of restoration of forfeited good conduct time and retroactive good conduct time (Section 15). If overcrowding is no longer a factor, the rules are to change (Section 13) or the practices end (Section 15).

Reducing Recidivism

The Role of the Family in Reducing Recidivism Advisory Committee is created (Section 40) and family liaison officers are required for each unit (Section 39). The act includes provisions relating to a special program for probationers (shock probation) who are required to serve up to 90 days in the department (Sections 30, 54) and to an urban prerelease program that attempts to secure community employment for inmates who are within six months of parole (Section 43). The act directs TDC to establish reading programs for functionally illiterate inmates and to provide for a continuity of assistance following release (Section 22). TDC is also directed to monitor the effectiveness of the programs (Section 25).

In related areas, the act: (1) directs the board to encourage programs to reintegrate inmates into society (Section 7); (2) encourages furloughs (Section 17); (3) directs TDC to actively encourage volunteer programs in a variety of areas (Section 34); (4) requires the establishment of a uniform visitation policy program by September 1, 1989 (Section 35); and (5) encourages arts and crafts programs (Section 36).

Agricultural and Work Programs

The department is directed to expand inmate labor programs (Sections 2, 24) and is authorized to apportion the inmate’s pay for restitution, for the inmate’s family, for the department’s costs, for the crime victims’ fund, and for the inmate’s trust fund (Section 24). It is also required to establish a permanent work record for inmates participating in on-the-job training programs (Section 37).

The act creates the Advisory Committee on Agriculture (Section 41) and requires annual review of TDC’s agricultural operations (Section 42). It also authorizes the purchase of agricultural goods and industrial equipment at auctions (Section 33).

Programs for Disabled and Other Inmates with Special Needs

The act requires TDC and TDMHMR to work together to serve mentally ill and mentally retarded offenders and includes numerous provisions on mental health services (Sections 16, 28, 29, 32, 38, 48, 49, 50). The act also directs TDC to consider the feasibility of transferring inmates with special needs to other state facilities (Section 45).

TDC is directed to assist long-term inmates to prepare for release (Section 46) and to work with other agencies in providing continuity in services for mentally ill, mentally retarded, elderly, and physically handicapped inmates, for inmates with a history of drug abuse, and for inmates with a history of unemployment (Section 32).

Miscellaneous Provisions

On discharge on parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon, a TDC inmate is entitled to $200. The act authorizes half of the money to be withheld until the convict reports to his parole officer (Section 12).

The act requires TDC to develop a federally certifiable inmate grievance system (Section 19) and authorizes the payment of up to $500 for inmate property that is lost or destroyed by the department (Section 18). It also allows court continuances for civil rights violations (Section 58), allows for unsworn declarations (Section 60), and eliminates the suspension of the statute of limitations on actions for a person who is imprisoned (Section 56).

Under the act, TDC is authorized to establish a claim and lien, for confinement costs, against estates of inmates without dependents who die while in prison (Section 20), and the department is placed on the list of priorities for the disposition of assets of inmates who die while in TDC (Section 51).
Other provisions relate to: (1) new duties for the Criminal Justice Policy Council (Section 47); (2) attorney's fees (Section 52); (3) information that counties are required to deliver to TDC (Sections 53, 63); (4) special purchasing procedures (Section 55); (5) psychiatrists (Section 26); (6) medical residencies (Section 27); (7) physician misconduct (Section 31); (8) across-the-board sunset recommendations; and (9) transfer of unexpended funds (Section 61).

SENATE BILL 341

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: Granoff

Senate Bill 341 continues the Board of Pardons and Paroles and sets its next sunset review for 1999. It reduces the period that must be served before an inmate is eligible for parole; prohibits release to mandatory supervision for certain offenses; directs the board to designate tentative parole months for prisoners within four months after they are admitted to the Texas Department of Corrections; and directs the board to develop guidelines for parole decisions.

Under previous law, prisoners had to serve a third of their maximum sentences or 20 years, whichever was less, before they would be eligible for parole, and prisoners serving sentences for capital murder, aggravated kidnapping, aggravated sexual assault, and aggravated robbery were not eligible for release to mandatory supervision. Under Senate Bill 341, the time required for parole eligibility is reduced to a fourth of a sentence or 15 years, but the list of offenses for which release to mandatory supervision is prohibited is expanded to include murder, sexual assault, aggravated assault, deadly assault on law enforcement and corrections officers and court participants, injury to a child or elderly individual, arson, robbery, and certain cases of burglary. Inmates are released to mandatory supervision when the time they have served plus their good conduct credits equals the length of their sentence; they remain under mandatory supervision for their good conduct time.

Information on prisoners must be secured by the board within 120 days after the prisoners are admitted to the Texas Department of Corrections, rather than within a year, and a tentative parole month and proposed program of measurable institutional progress for the prisoner are to be established. The board and the department are to cooperate to carry out the tentative parole program.

The act directs the board to develop and implement standard parole guidelines and includes provisions relating to parole considerations for prisoners serving consecutive sentences, specifically prohibiting consecutive sentences from being treated as a single sentence for purposes of parole. It also authorizes the board to require functionally illiterate parolees to attend basic education classes; provides that payment on damages committed as an inmate may be required; and allows the board to require community service.

The board, the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, the Texas Department of Health, the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse, and the Texas Adult Probation Commission are directed to reduce or eliminate duplication of functions in certifying, licensing, and inspecting halfway houses under their supervision. Participation in the halfway house program is authorized for inmates who have been previously denied release, and the specific statutory functions of halfway houses are expanded.

The board and the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation are directed to work together to increase the availability of services to mentally ill and mentally retarded releasees. The board is authorized to contract for services to releasees who are mentally retarded or who have a history of mental illness, substance abuse, or sexual offenses, and it is directed to seek funding for such contracts as a priority item.

The board and the Central Education Agency are directed to implement a continuing education program to increase the literacy of persons released on parole or to mandatory supervision.

Parole supervision fees are extended to out-of-state prisoners paroled to Texas and the prohibition on parole officers collecting fees is removed. The $10 fee is to be paid for each month the prisoner is under parole supervision.

The board is directed to implement a system of sanctions, including electronic monitoring, that may be imposed on a person whose conditional pardon or release on parole or to mandatory supervision is continued or modified following a hearing on alleged violations of release requirements. Releasees with new convictions are allowed to request a board hearing to consider mitigating circumstances before revocation of parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon. The board is directed to implement a training program for officers conducting revocation hearings.

The act directs the board to pursue contracts with district probation offices for parole supervision services. It provides a limitation on the cost of the services that may be contracted and includes additional requirements. for the contracts. The board is directed to specifically request the district probation offices serving Tarrant and Potter counties to enter into such contracts.

The board is directed to initially establish electronic monitoring programs only in counties of more than 400,000 people (Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, and Travis) and to seek funding for an electronic monitoring program on a priority basis.

Members and employees of the board are added to Penal Code sections defining aggravated assaults and deadly assaults on officers, making such assaults felonies.

Vehicles owned by the board are exempted from state law requiring state agencies’ names to be printed on the vehicles.

The board is directed to collect information on recidivism and to use the information as an evaluation tool, practices already undertaken but not statutorily required of the board.

The act also includes provisions relating to across-the-board sunset recommendations.

Human Services Agencies

HOUSE BILL 550
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 550 continues the Texas Commission for the Deaf and sets 1999 as the year for its next sunset review.

The act includes several changes relating to fees collected by the commission. It directs the commission to adopt a sliding fee scale for interpreter services that are provided in nongovernmental settings and are reimbursed by the commission, but includes a provision that prohibits the denial of services to anyone because of an inability to pay. It also requires equivalent fees for equivalent certificates, fees to cover publication costs, and fees for certification applications, examinations, and renewals to cover the costs of the certification program.

The act directs the commission to establish a system to approve courses and workshops for the instruction and continuing education of interpreters for the deaf and removes the authorization for the commission to conduct such workshops.

The board for evaluation of interpreters is required to conduct interpreter examinations in the commission’s office in Austin or in other state-owned space if the space can be used without charge and to determine the frequency of the exams.

The commission is directed to adopt a memorandum of understanding with the Texas Rehabilitation Commission to develop a communication competency evaluation for vocational rehabilitation staff who work with deaf and hearing-impaired clients. The commission is also required to adopt memoranda of understanding with other state agencies to coordinate the delivery of services and to reduce duplication of effort.

The act refines the statutes relating to telecommunication devices for the deaf by prohibiting the commission from purchasing additional devices without specific appropriation and by authorizing it to reassign the devices within certain guidelines. Entities with the devices may be required to pay for parts and repairs to the devices.

The prohibition against awarding contracts to former commission employees is limited to two years, and the ceiling on administrative costs is changed from 25 percent of the agency’s appropriations, including salaries, to 20 percent, excluding salaries.

The act also includes additional conflict of interest provisions concerning commission members, as recommended by the Texas Sunset Commission.

SENATE BILL 244
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Senate Bill 244 authorizes the continuing operation of the Texas Diabetes Council and sets the biennium preceding September 1, 1997, as the period of its next sunset review. The act changes requirements relating to the state plan for diabetes treatment, education, and training; provides for changes in the composition of the Texas Diabetes Council; and restructures the advisory committees.

Several modifications are made in the state plan for diabetes treatment, education, and training. The act removes the requirement that the plan include provisions on individual, family, and provider needs assessments.
and adds the requirement that the council submit the plan to the state health planning and development agency biennially. Agencies affected by the plan are required to determine the resources needed for implementation and to report to the council, the Legislative Budget Board, and the Governor's Office of Budget and Planning about the needed resources and funds and any deviations from the plan.

Under previous law, the council was authorized to appoint an advisory committee of a designated composition and with designated duties. This act provides for the appointment of more than one advisory committee and authorizes the council to determine the membership and duties of the committees. It also removes requirements, but grants continuing authority (1) for the council to publish handbooks and directories of services and to study the feasibility of a hotline and of pilot programs for education and training, and (2) for the agencies with representatives on the council to implement public awareness and regional training programs. These agencies are required to pay for producing and disseminating information on diabetes to their own clients.

Two citizen, consumer members are added to the Texas Diabetes Council; the chairmen, rather than the commissioners, of participating agencies are authorized to designate the agencies’ representatives on the council; and conflict of interest and removal provisions concerning council members and employees are added to the law.

Also under the act, the council is authorized to accept gifts and is required to inform the public about its functions and about procedures for filing complaints. The Texas Department of Health is required to file annual financial reports on council funds, and a biennial audit is required.

SENATE BILL 257

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHORITY: Farabee

HOUSE SPONSOR: Gibson

Senate Bill 257 continues the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and sets 1999 as the date of the next sunset review.

The act modifies the purpose of the agency to emphasize services to individuals most in need and limits expenditure of funds to provide services only to priority populations identified in the department's long-range plan. The state's responsibility to serve mentally ill and mentally retarded people in state facilities is specified, and local responsibilities for mental health and mental retardation services are emphasized.

The commissioner is no longer required to be a physician, but the department is required to have a medical director, and other statutory positions are changed. Parents of clients and patients receiving department services are allowed to serve on the board.

The act removes the fee schedule previously set by statute and requires the department to establish a sliding fee schedule for cost of support, maintenance, and treatment of mentally retarded and mentally ill residents of state facilities who are under the age of 18. No one is to be denied services because of an inability to pay. A fee advisory committee, at least a majority of the members of which are parents of residents, is to assist the department in developing the fee schedule.

The department is authorized to lease, transfer, or otherwise dispose of any surplus real property including any improvements under its control and management and to use the proceeds for its facilities. Surplus property is that designated by the board to have minimal value to the present and projected service delivery system.

The act encourages the designation of local mental health authorities as single portal authorities to coordinate admissions to facilities, requires the board to appoint a single portal review committee, and includes rules concerning commitments.

The act requires that mentally retarded clients, their parents, and their guardians have the opportunity to participate in planning the client's treatment and habilitation, including the decision concerning placement in alternative treatment settings. The right to administrative hearings and judicial review of proposed transfers and discharges is included. The department and community centers are required to seek consent before providing mental retardation services. Rules concerning transfers, furloughs to alternative placements, and discharges are included.

In addition, the act: (1) establishes the Interagency Council on Autism and Pervasive Developmental Disorders; (2) establishes the Alcohol and Substance Abuse Services Oversight Committee to coordinate services and assure financial accountability for all alcohol and substance abuse services funds expended by state agencies; (3) establishes the Interagency Council for Genetic Services; (4) specifies membership and responsibilities of the Citizens' Planning Advisory Committee; (5) requires a biennial review to determine if department services could more efficiently be provided by the private sector; (6) directs the department to seek proposals for community residential programs and transitional care programs for mentally ill persons and for community residential programs for elderly residents of department facilities; defines the department's overview responsibilities; (7) encourages volunteer programs in community centers; (8) encourages employment of clients and patients by the department and community centers; (9) requires annual evaluations of elderly residents to ensure that they are placed in the least restrictive setting that meets their needs; (10) requires reports of physician misconduct; (11) authorizes liens to secure reimbursement for the cost of providing services; (12) directs the department to determine the degree to which the costs of operating facilities in compliance with standards are affected as populations of the facilities fluctuate; any cost savings are to be allocated to community programs; (13) includes provisions on a competitive review purchasing program; (14) requires the department to designate an employee to be responsible for coordinating services to children and youth; (15) directs TDMHMR and DHS to develop a joint long-range plan for services to persons with developmental disabilities; (16) directs TDMHMR and DHS to study treatment of abused children; (17) limits the establishment of new community centers to regions with a population of at least 200,000; (18) limits the department's control over and review of community center programs and requires cooperation among agencies that review services and programs of community centers; (19) extends requirements for community-based services to departmental facility outreach programs, requires such services to also provide medication-related services and psychosocial rehabilitation programs, and requires annual performance reviews; (20) provides for a local match requirement for departmental facility outreach programs; (21) directs the department to adopt rules relating to respite care and for reimbursing providers of in-home respite care; (22) sets out audit requirements for community providers; (23) requires biennial reviews of crisis residential and hospitalization services, and requires standards for community-based crisis stabilization and crisis residential services to be less restrictive than the standards for mental hospitals; (24) requires the development of facility budgets that are based on uniform costs, and the development of criteria for expanding, closing, and consolidating facilities; (25) requires certain records for people admitted to department facilities for substance abuse and requires treatment and rehabilitation programs that receive grants from the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse to reduce state facility hospitalization of substance abusers; (26) authorizes TDMHMR to evaluate emotionally disturbed children and youth, with fees from DHS for community-based residential placements; (27) requires a study on consolidating the El Paso, Rio Grande, Laredo, Beaumont, and Amarillo state centers; (28) includes provisions on requirements for licenses for facilities providing mental health services; (29) requires that local mental retardation authorities be involved in alternative or follow-up services; (30) establishes requirements for registering boarding homes that provide certain services to mentally ill or mentally retarded persons; (31) includes sections on the provision of educational services to mentally retarded students by the Central Education Agency; and (32) authorizes loan repayment assistance for physical therapists who work at TDMHMR residential care facilities for the mentally retarded.

SENATE BILL 298

SENIOR CHAIR: Edwards

HOUSE SPONSOR: Vowell

Senate Bill 298 continues the Texas Department of Human Services and sets 1999 as the date of its next sunset review.

The act increases the size of the board from three to six members, effective January 20, 1989, and after that date limits the interest that new members may have in businesses regulated by or contracting with the department. The act also eliminates the requirement for senate approval of the commissioner of human services.

The act calls for interagency coordination of hospital and long-term care services and limits the authority of DHS, TDMHMR, and the Texas Department of Health to make rules that would increase the costs of providing required services or that would increase the number of personnel in hospitals or long-term care facilities. To help coordinate services, memoranda of understanding are required of agencies providing services to disabled persons, family planning services, public information services, and services for multiproblem children and youth, and of agencies operating facilities for elderly or disabled persons.

The act includes a number of provisions on abuse of elderly and disabled persons, particularly residents of state-approved facilities. It creates an offense (a Class B misdemeanor) for failing to report abuse, exploitation, or neglect of elderly or disabled persons and includes provisions relating to investigations.
The act also includes provisions concerning child abuse and neglect. It specifies acts and omissions that constitute child abuse and neglect and allows investigations of child abuse and neglect reports to be made without home visits. It requires the department to make a preliminary investigation before conducting a thorough investigation of an anonymous child abuse report to determine if there is any corroborative evidence of abuse. Intentionally making a false report of child abuse or neglect is a Class B misdemeanor.

The act creates the Competitive Cost Review Program to determine the efficiency of commercial activities performed by TDMHMR (laundry and building, grounds, and vehicle maintenance services), DHS (printing and certain claims processing services), and TDC (food, building maintenance, and transportation services) and to determine if the services could be performed more efficiently by purchasing the services from the private sector. If the cost of the agency performing the service is greater than the cost of purchasing the service by at least 10 percent, the agency is required to reduce expenses to within 10 percent of purchased services, with savings to be dedicated to direct service programs.

The act amends the laws relating to child-care facilities and registered family homes.

The act also includes provisions: (1) limiting DHS services to legal residents of the United States, to the extent permitted by law; (2) encouraging DHS to expand services to truants and runaways to reduce juvenile delinquency; (3) authorizing fees for obtaining criminal history records and authorizing DHS to also obtain such records for persons providing in-home respite child care and for home health agency employees; (4) on community care programs; (5) requiring the department to ensure adequate communication with non-English-speaking people and people with communication disorders; (6) directing the Council on Disabilities to develop recommendations concerning DHS duties in serving disabled persons; (7) enabling DHS to recover Medicaid funds from workers' compensation claimants, to make claims against estates for reimbursement of other funds, to receive insurance payments directly, and to collect penalties for certain false claims; (8) directing DHS to collect and disburse statistical information on pregnancy of school-age girls; (9) concerning contract payments by the department; (10) equalizing the penalty for assault of a patient or resident in private and state facilities; (11) on services for clients with learning disabilities; (12) on placement of children in residential care, on child placement hearings; requiring placements to be in the child's best interest; (13) creating the Children and Youth Services State Coordinating Committee within the Health and Human Services Coordinating Council and requiring studies relating to the possibility of combining services to children and youth in a single, new agency; (14) on child-care administrators' licenses; (15) requiring courts to provide for a private social study in adoption cases in which the department is not a party; (16) authorizing county and district attorneys to conduct department suits relating to problems in child care facilities; and (17) establishing the Office of Youth Care Investigations in the attorney general's office to oversee investigations of abuse and neglect in state-approved facilities.

While the act takes effect on September 1, 1987, various reports and agreements are required to be made by later dates.

Other Agencies and General Provisions

HOUSE BILL 888

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 888 continues the existence of the Texas Board of Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies and sets 1999 as the date of the next review of that agency under the "sunset" process.

The bill: (1) requires the board to conduct criminal history background checks in conjunction with the Texas Department of Public Safety before awarding licenses, registrations, and security officer commissions (Section 21); (2) raises the liability insurance requirements of licensees (Section 22); (3) exempts persons who only sell burglar alarms from the general scope of the Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies Act and establishes alternative requirements for those persons (Section 3); (4) prohibits people who have been convicted of cruelty to animals from working with guard dogs (Section 11); (5) changes certain requirements for security officers employed by political subdivisions (Sections 13, 15); (6) extends the period of a security officer commission from one year to two years and makes other changes relating to temporary commissions and to terminations of commissions (Section 13); (7) changes provisions concerning training programs for security officers and includes security officers of political subdivisions in the training programs (Section 14); (8) requires security sales persons, alarm systems monitors, guard dog trainers, and owners, officers, partners.
and shareholders of a licensee to register with the board (Section 16); (9) raises the minimum age for alarm systems installers from 16 to 18, eliminating the only exception to the 18-year minimum age requirement for persons registered with the board (Section 16); (10) requires pre-employment checks of noncommissioned security officers (Section 16); (11) requires employers to verify personal information on registration applications and changes provisions relating to the issuance and cancellation of pocket cards held by registrants (Sections 17-20); (12) provides that offenses established under the Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies Act may be prosecuted in Travis County (Section 23); (13) repeals provisions relating to psychological testing of applicants for private security officer commissions (Section 26); and (14) expands certain definitions and exclusions (Sections 1, 2), changes the membership of the board, adds provisions relating to conflict of interest, employee policies, reports, consumer information (Sections 4-10), licenses and license renewals (Sections 12, 24), expands and raises certain fees (Section 12), and amends certain Penal Code provisions relating to carrying firearms (Section 25).

SENATE BILL 296
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Edwards
HOUSE SPONSOR: Granoff

Senate Bill 296 changes the date of the sunset review of the Texas Conservation Foundation from 1987 to 1991.

HOUSE BILL 2243
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: P. Hill
SENATE SPONSOR: Edwards

House Bill 2243 clarifies provisions relating to sunset administration and commission membership. It requires the state auditor, as part of the next audit of the agency, to examine sunset recommendations that do not require statutory changes and to report on their implementation. It requires sunset staff to report on legislation affecting agencies undergoing sunset review. It changes the date of sunset review of the Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators (from 1991 to 1997), the Council for Social Work Certification (from 1989 to 1999), and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (from 1989 to 1991).
HEALTH

The catastrophic illness of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS) captured the attention of the Texas Legislature as it did much of the country. Two major pieces of public health legislation were aimed at monitoring and controlling its spread. House Bill 1829 provides for the establishment of confidential registries of AIDS victims, plus similar registries for other reportable communicable diseases. It also prohibits mandatory testing for AIDS or human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) infection except in limited circumstances and provides that the results of any tests for AIDS or HIV infection are confidential. Senate Bill 1405 requires the screening of all donated blood and organs for the presence of HIV infection that can lead to the disease.

The 70th Legislature witnessed several amendments to the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act passed two years before, most notably House Bill 344. The amendments serve to clarify and further define the roles of various parties in providing health care to indigent patients. Maternal issues were addressed by House Bill 1847, which eliminates the “high risk” requirement of the Maternal and Infant Health Improvement Act, thus expanding the category of patients who may qualify for assistance. House Bill 410, meanwhile, prohibits abortion to a viable fetus in the third trimester of pregnancy, barring abnormality in the fetus or substantial risk to the mother. Other significant health legislation was aimed at augmenting the supply of critically needed transplant organs (Senate Bill 16) and establishing accredited training programs for food service workers (House Bill 2092).

Bills relating to hospital districts are summarized in the chapter on government—special districts.

Communicable Diseases and Other Health Disorders

HOUSE BILL 1829

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: McDonald
SENATE SPONSOR: Farabee

House Bill 1829 repeals separate laws relating to tuberculosis and venereal disease and reenforces their provisions within the state’s Communicable Disease Prevention and Control Act. It adds AIDS (acquired immune deficiency syndrome) and HIV (human immunodeficiency virus) infection to the list of reportable diseases, provides for the establishment by the Texas Board of Health of registries of reportable and nonreportable communicable diseases and health conditions, and specifies that AIDS and HIV are to be placed on the reportable registry. For incidences or suspected incidences of reportable diseases, reports are required not only from physicians and school officials, as is the case under current law, but also from clinical and hospital laboratories, blood banks, mobile units, other facilities that receive bodily specimens, emergency medical personnel, and penal institutions. These reports go to local health authorities or regional health directors and from there to the board at such intervals as shall be established by rule. House Bill 1829 places restrictions on the public release of resultant data. It allows release of medical or epidemiological data for statistical purposes so long as specific disease victims are not identified without their consent. The legislation also allows data release to certain medical personnel, state and federal agencies, courts, or protective agents fostering an abused child with a venereal disease. Any other release of data is prohibited.

House Bill 1829 requires each physician or other individual who examines someone with a communicable disease to instruct the patient as to measures necessary to prevent its spread, to cure the infection, and to avoid reinfection. The legislation revamps provisions enabling the special management or custody of communicable disease victims who pose a threat to public health and who, despite written orders from health officials, do not take adequate steps to stop the spread of the disease to others. Judicial procedures governing such management or custody are spelled out in extensive detail. The patient retains certain itemized rights, however, and must be informed of those rights. The legislation specifies two types of court orders for management, a temporary order of up to 90 days and an extended order of up to 12 months. Protective custody may be directed by the court while a management order is under appeal if the disease victim cannot be trusted, in terms of a public health threat, to remain at liberty during the interval.

With certain exceptions, House Bill 1829 prohibits mandatory testing for AIDS, HIV infection, other probable causative agents for AIDS, or antibodies to HIV. Testing is allowed as a bona fide occupational qualification if no less discriminatory means exist by which to satisfy the occupational qualification. The burden of proof as to the necessity of testing, though, lies with the employer. Required testing is allowable also to screen blood or organ donations, to avoid accidental exposure to contaminated blood or fluids in accordance with applicable protocols for infectious diseases, to avoid exposure to health care personnel performing nonemergency treatment procedures that pose a risk of disease transmission, to enable segregation by the Texas Department of Corrections of inmates infected with HIV, and to evaluate residents or clients of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for whom alternative medical or social management might be needed should the test prove positive. Finally, required testing is allowed in relation to specific individuals in accordance with the Communicable Disease Prevention and Control Act. The Texas Board of Health is authorized to issue emergency orders relating to testing for HIV infections, and if the prevalence rate for such infection reaches a specified level (.83 percent), the board is obligated to require mandatory testing for HIV infection as a condition of obtaining a marriage license. House Bill 1829 also provides that results of tests for AIDS or HIV infection are confidential and allows the release of test results only in limited situations.

HOUSE BILL 1066
HOUSE AUTHORITY: C. Evans
SENATE SPONSOR: Brooks

House Bill 1066 creates the Texas Council on Alzheimer’s Disease and Related Disorders. Members of the council are to be appointed by the governor, the lieutenant governor, and the speaker of the house of representatives. The act defines the council’s powers and duties and makes it subject to the Texas Sunset Act.

HOUSE BILL 852
HOUSE AUTHORITY: Stiles
SENATE SPONSOR: Zaffirini

Under prior law, a local health authority was directed to quarantine for at least 10 days any animal that the authority had probable cause to believe was rabid or had exposed an individual to rabies. This amendatory act allows the local health authority either to quarantine or to merely test the animal in accordance with rules adopted by the Texas Board of Health.

See also sunset legislation regarding the Texas Diabetes Council (Senate Bill 244).

Blood and Organ Donations

SENATE BILL 1405
SENATE AUTHORITY: Brooks
HOUSE SPONSOR: Wright

This act establishes the mandatory testing of all blood donated to blood banks. Such tests must indicate if the donor is a carrier of infectious diseases or viruses including hepatitis, contagious venereal disease, human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), or acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS). Testing may be conducted without the informed consent of the donor and imposes no obligation for counseling if one of the diseases or viruses is detected. The act mandates disclosure of the test results to certain local, state, and federal entities for which disclosure is required by law or regulation and also to the attending physician, donor, or donor’s guardian. It also permits disclosure of the donor’s name to other blood banks but prohibits identification of the particular disease or virus found. The act requires transfusers of blood to follow the official “Operation Look-Back” procedure of the American Association of Blood Banks in notifying any past or future recipients of an infected person’s blood.

Additionally, the act provides for the confidentiality of donor records, except in limited and specified instances. Liability for negligent or intentional disclosure prohibited by the act is limited to actual damages and does not give rise to any liability under the Decepetive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act. Civil penalties up to $1,000, court costs, and reasonable attorney’s fees may also be imposed for illegal disclosure. Liability in the case of donations, transfusions, or organ transplants is limited similarly to negligence, gross negligence, or intentional tort. Again, the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act does not apply; nor do implied warranties of merchantability and fitness.

SENATE BILL 16
SENATE AUTHORITY: Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR: McDonald

Senate Bill 16 amends the Texas Anatomical Gift Act to require the establishment by each hospital of a protocol for identifying potential organ and tissue donors and recipients. The protocol must provide for a determination of the medical suitability for donorship of a decedent, an inquiry to a family member or representative concerning the decedent’s desires to be a donor, and the explanation of that option to the family member or representative for approval of donorship if the decedent has not previously given authorization. However, an inquiry is not required if an objection to donorship is already on file, the decedent is medically unsuitable, or there is no prospective current recipient for the organ or tissue. Senate Bill 16 also defines those organizations that are eligible to procure and distribute organs. The legislation takes effect January 1, 1988, except for provisions protecting from liability persons acting in good faith in accordance with the statutory requirements for donor identification. The latter provisions take effect April 22, 1987.

175

Indigent Health Care

HOUSE BILL 344
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Leonard
SENATE SPONSOR: Farabee

House Bill 344, based in part on the interim report of the House Special Committee on Health Care Services for Low-Income Texans, amends the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act passed by the 69th Legislature in 1985. It excludes assistance under that act for persons who are eligible for AFDC (Aid to Families with Dependent Children), Social Security, or Medicaid payments. Also, under the new law, a county or public hospital responsible for indigents within its jurisdiction may require other health care providers to seek advance approval from the county or public hospital before offering nonemergency indigent services. Additional amendments clarify the obligations of a county or a governmental entity operating a public hospital if the hospital is closed or sold.

The new law authorizes the commitment of local sales and use taxes to indigent health care purposes but simultaneously counts resultant sales and tax revenue together with property tax revenue in determining the threshold at which state assistance for indigent health care commences. House Bill 344 standardizes associated computations, basing them uniformly on the state fiscal year rather than a variety of local fiscal years. It directs the comptroller of public accounts to provide the Texas Department of Health with necessary data on local sales and use tax revenue. House Bill 344 enhances and extends for another two fiscal years the protection for local governments against the potential adverse effects of property tax rollback elections, enabling them sufficient revenue to cover indigent health care needs without regard to tax cuts voted locally. At the same time, in order to protect taxpayers, the legislation provides that if a local government exceeds the rollback tax rate and in so doing designates a portion of resultant revenue for indigent health care services, it may not later “raid” that revenue and use it for other purposes. (House Bill 1866 in the chapter on property taxation explains the nature of the rollback tax rate as redefined slightly by the 70th Legislature.)

HOUSE BILL 81
EFFECTIVE: see below

HOUSE AUTHOR: Kubiak
SENATE SPONSOR: Farabee

House Bill 81 exempts hospital authorities from requirements under the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act that apply to governmental entities that operate public hospitals. Additional provisions clarify the responsibilities of governmental entities that have sold, leased, or closed a public hospital. The legislation takes effect June 17, 1987; however, a hospital authority whose duties under the act are transferred to the county must continue to provide required services until September 1, 1987, unless the county agrees to assume those duties on an earlier date.

HOUSE BILL 147
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Robinson
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

House Bill 147, an amendment to the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act, applies to cities with a population of fewer than 15,000 that own, operate, or lease a hospital. It allows for the negotiation of a partial transfer agreement between the city and county regarding indigent health care services provided to residents eligible under the act. Under such an agreement, the city hospital continues to provide health care services to eligible residents of the city at the city’s expense, but the county assumes the hospital’s responsibility to reimburse other providers of emergency services or of services unobtainable at the city facility.

Expenditures made by the county under this provision count toward eligibility for state assistance as if the patient resided in an area served solely, for purposes of the act, by the county. House Bill 147 requires coordinated procedures between the city and county to verify eligibility to aid in the timely referral of patients to the proper entity. All transfer agreements under the new legislation must be made no later than August 31, 1989; they subsequently take effect on a September 1 that occurs no later than two years after the date of the agreement. Such agreements may not be revoked or amended.

Maternity

HOUSE BILL 1847
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Colbert
SENATE SPONSOR: Brooks

The Maternal and Infant Health Improvement Act (MIHIA), passed by the 69th Legislature, provides maternal and infant support to a greater number of indigent patients than are eligible under the federal Medicaid program. House Bill 1847 removes a provision limiting follow-up services to only “high risk” infants and, under changes enacted in the federal law governing Medicaid, expands eligibility for maternal and infant benefits paid for by federal funds. The new legislation requires the Texas Department of Human Services and Texas Department of Health to adopt a memorandum of understanding on the roles each will play in administering maternal and infant services under Medicaid and MIHIA, respectively, and requires the latter to structure its program (MIHIA) in a way so as to maximize the overall use of federal funds. House Bill 1847 moves the statewide advisory committee relating to maternal and infant health from the Texas Department of Health to the Texas Health and Human Services Coordinating Council.

HOUSE BILL 410
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Millsap
SENATE SPONSOR: Lyon

House Bill 410 amends the Medical Practice Act to regulate the performance of abortions. The new law prohibits the intentional or knowing performance of an abortion on a viable fetus if the woman has reached the third trimester of pregnancy. An abortion is permitted if (1) the fetus is not viable or the woman is not in the third trimester of pregnancy; (2) the abortion is necessary to prevent death or substantial risk to the physical or mental health of the mother; or (3) the fetus has a severe and irreversible abnormality as identified through reliable diagnostic procedures. House Bill 410 provides for disciplinary action by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners against doctors who violate provisions of the law, including the suspension of a license or the refusal to renew a license to practice medicine within the state. Finally, the legislation requires that an abortion performed in the third trimester be certified in writing to the Texas Department of Health within 30 days after it is performed.

Food Regulation

HOUSE BILL 2092
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Criss
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

This act requires the Texas Department of Health to establish minimum standards for the accreditation of food service education and training programs. Accredited programs must include a minimum of 15 hours devoted to specified topics such as foodborne disease, sanitization, personal hygiene, handling of food and nonfood items, and self-inspection techniques. The legislation requires the department to maintain a registry of programs and authorizes it to charge fees to cover associated administrative costs.

HOUSE BILL 235
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Wilson
SENATE SPONSOR: Armbrister

House Bill 235 increases the permissible alcohol level in confectionaries to five percent by volume. However, a product within this limit but containing more than one-half percent alcohol by volume may not be sold to persons under the legal drinking age. Moreover, it must be labeled to indicate its alcohol content, and that its sale to minors is prohibited, and may not be sold (1) in vending machines; (2) in a form capable of use as an alcohol beverage; or (3) in a store that derives less than 50 percent of its gross sales from confectionaries.

HOUSE BILL 1179
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Clark
SENATE SPONSOR: Anderson

House Bill 1179 amends existing law by removing the requirement that certain fees imposed by the Texas Department of Health on the movement, processing, and distribution of milk and milk products be collected. on a monthly basis. The act also establishes one cent per 100 pounds as the fee imposed on milk and milk products processed or bottled in another state for sale in Texas.

HOUSE BILL 1805
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHORITY: L. Evans
SENATE SPONSOR: Washington

This act requires that a sign prescribed by the Texas Department of Health depicting the Heimlich maneuver for dislodging food from a choking person be displayed prominently in every food service establishment in the state. The sign must be in both English and Spanish.

HOUSE BILL 2122
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHORITY: Saunders
SENATE SPONSOR: Sims

House Bill 2122 amends the Texas Meat and Poultry Inspection Act and the Agriculture Code to bring the production and sale of exotic game under the same inspection and storage standards and the same transportation and recordkeeping requirements, as are applicable to more traditional meats. Exotic game includes any species of game not indigenous to Texas. Prescribed regulations and prohibitions apply equally to exotic meat sold in interstate commerce as well as that sold in intrastate commerce. House Bill 2122 authorizes the Texas Department of Health to set and collect fees for certain inspection services performed under the act.

HOUSE BILL 2125
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHORITY: J. Harris
SENATE SPONSOR: Brooks

House Bill 2125 authorizes counties and public health districts to enforce state law and rules adopted under state law concerning food service establishments, retail food stores, mobile food units, and roadside food vendors. Previously, only municipalities had this authority, so establishments outside incorporated areas operated without regulation. The bill also provides for on-site inspections, the issuance of permits, fees, and penalties.

Chest Hospitals

HOUSE BILL 987
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHORITY: Madla
SENATE SPONSOR: Uribe

This act authorizes the South Texas Hospital in Harlingen, a state chest (tuberculosis) hospital, to provide general in-patient health services for residents of the Lower Rio Grande Valley. It further allows the state to be reimbursed by a county or public hospital for the treatment in a state hospital of patients eligible for assistance under the Indigent Health Care and Treatment Act.

SENATE BILL 648
EFFECTIVE: 5-28-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Uribe
HOUSE SPONSOR: A. Moreno

Senate Bill 648 authorizes the Texas Department of Health, rather than the Texas Board of Health, to employ hospital administrators for the San Antonio State Chest Hospital and for the South Texas Hospital. The act also removes the experience requirement for these administrators.

Vital Statistics and Health Data

HOUSE BILL 692
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHORITY: Barton
SENATE SPONSOR: Brooks

This act authorizes the Texas Board of Health to limit cancer-reporting activities to specified geographical areas of the state to ensure optimal utilization of available funds for obtaining the data. Under prior law, each hospital within the state having at least 100 beds was required to furnish the board with certain cancer data. Under the new law, hospitals of this size need furnish the data only at the specific request of the Texas Board of Health or its authorized representative.

HOUSE BILL 768
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHORITY: Patrick
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

House Bill 768 provides that birth and death records, in the custody of local registration officials (county clerks, city secretaries or registrars, justices of the peace, or others) are subject to the same confidentiality restrictions as are applicable to birth and death records held by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health.
HOUSE BILL 2031

EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

This act allows licensed hospitals, municipally established hospital authorities, certain general-law hospital districts in larger counties, and private mental hospitals to dispose of or destroy medical records 10 years from the last date of treatment. In the case of minors, record retention is required until the patient's 20th birthday, or until 10 years after the date of last treatment, whichever is later. A hospital may not destroy, however, records that relate to any matter that is in litigation if hospital officials know that the litigation has not been finally resolved.

HOUSE BILL 1994

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1994 directs the Texas Department of Health to adopt rules, regulations, and procedures to ensure that birth records maintained at state and local levels and that are accessible to the public do not contain information through which the confidentiality of adoption placement can be disturbed. The department in implementing those measures, however, may not interfere with the operation of mutual consent voluntary adoption registries or certain court orders.

SENATE BILL 385

EFFECTIVE: 5-28-87

State law previously required that when the Texas Department of Health received a death certificate for anyone less than 18 years of age whose birth has been registered in Texas, a notation be made on the birth record indicating the person's death and copies of the death certificate be forwarded to certain local officials in the county of the person's birth. Senate Bill 385 changes the age threshold to apply the requirement to decedents less than 55 years old.
HUMAN SERVICES/MENTAL HEALTH AND MENTAL RETARDATION

Several important pieces of legislation in the human services area were enacted this session. Runaways were included in the legal definition of missing children, a significant change that should have an immediate impact on how reports of runaway children are handled by investigatory agencies. Legislation dealing with abuse of elderly persons allows emergency orders for protective services to be issued for any life-threatening situation so that action can be taken quickly in abusive episodes. The Texas Department of Human Services was given authority in House Bill 500, if funding is made available, to establish day-care centers for certain eligible children. This significant legislation will enable welfare program participants with small children to enroll in job training or educational programs without the expense of private day care, an expense most cannot afford to pay.

In the mental health and mental retardation field, important legislation dealing with prisoners who are mentally ill or mentally retarded was enacted. The Interagency Council on Mentally Retarded, Developmentally Disabled, and Mentally Ill Offenders was created to identify needs and provide services to these population groups in the criminal justice system. The council is charged with the development of an innovative pilot program for these offenders using community-based alternatives to incarceration. Under the provisions of House Bill 1503, many mentally ill inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections will be housed in the future in the Skyview unit of Rusk State Hospital, where psychiatric treatment and counseling will be provided by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

House Bill 1154 requires the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to establish programs to provide support services for mentally disabled persons and their families, if funding is made available. The expense of private support services has often meant that mentally disabled persons could not afford to use them.

See also sunset legislation on various human services agencies, especially House Bill 257 and House Bill 298.

Abuse of the Elderly

SENATE BILL 1150
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHORE: Barrientos
HOUSE SPONSOR: D. Hudson

Senate Bill 1150 amends the Human Resources Code to clarify existing language and clear up ambiguities relating to the abuse of elderly or disabled persons. The definition of a disabled person is expanded to include persons over 65 years of age and emancipated minors. The court that would issue emergency orders for protective services or an order to obtain entrance to an institution for the elderly or disabled is changed from district court to probate or county court. The word "immediate" is deleted so that emergency orders can be issued for any threat to life.

SENATE BILL 1151
EFFECTIVE: 6-18-87

SENATE AUTHORE: Barrientos
HOUSE SPONSOR: D. Hudson

Senate Bill 1151 amends the Human Resources Code to expand the number of times an emergency order for protective services for an elderly or disabled person may be renewed. It also gives the issuing court authority to modify or terminate the order on petition.

Children's Services

SENATE BILL 1163
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHORE: Brooks
HOUSE SPONSOR: Wright

Senate Bill 1163 amends the Disabled Children's Services Act to clarify ambiguities and make the administration of the program more flexible to improve its efficiency and effectiveness. It changes the name of the act to the Chronically Ill and Disabled Children's Services Act, and it expands some definitions and adds several others. The bill authorizes the provision of case management services to eligible children and allows the program to pay transportation and subsistence for a child's caretaker. The requirement that the Texas Commission for the Blind be responsible for services to children whose primary handicap is visual in nature is deleted. Eligibility criteria are clarified, and the Texas Department of Health is authorized to collect the cost of services directly from third parties obligated to pay other benefits. The bill requires the Texas Board of Health to adopt rules regarding the payment of insurance premiums for eligible children and regarding the establishment of a system to verify eligibility information. Rules must also be adopted to establish a system of priorities relating to eligible persons and service provision in the event of budgetary limitations. The department is authorized to enter into interagency agreements for service provision, to develop methods for improving program efficiency and effectiveness, and to conduct pilot studies. The bill also repeals conflicting language in two sections of the act.

HOUSE BILL 500
HOUSE AUTHOR:  S. Hudson
SENATE SPONSOR:  Johnson

House Bill 500 amends the Human Resources Code to authorize the Texas Department of Human Services to establish day-care centers for children eligible under the aid to families with dependent children program or eligible for federally funded welfare programs, if the child's caretaker meets certain specified requirements. Eligible children would not be charged a fee; other children admitted to the program would be charged according to family income. The department could contract for these services, but the fees paid under such a contract could not exceed the amount it would cost the state to provide the same services. The department would be required to evaluate the performance of the centers on an annual basis and report their findings to the governor and the Legislative Budget Board. If funding is not appropriated for this purpose, the department is not required to establish the centers.

SENATE BILL 827
SENATE AUTHOR:  Farabee
HOUSE SPONSOR:  Vowell

Senate Bill 827 authorizes the Texas Employment Commission to provide technical assistance to state agencies and other employers regarding the provision of child day care as an employee benefit. The commission is further authorized to establish a Child Day Care Advisory Committee and a State Child Care Resource Clearinghouse to provide child care information.

Commitment Procedures

HOUSE BILL 967
HOUSE AUTHOR:  Millsap
SENATE SPONSOR:  Parmer

House Bill 967 amends existing law by making several changes in the commitment procedures for drug-dependent persons. It allows the court to accept a motion for commitment without an accompanying physician's certificate on its own motion if good cause is shown; previously, such a motion had to be made by the district or county attorney. Commitments of less than six months are allowed under certain specified circumstances, and the county is required to pay for expenses of pre-commitment detention in a county or state-owned facility. The bill also amends the Family Code to permit a minor to consent to counseling for chemical dependency.

Mentally Disabled Offenders

SENATE BILL 719
SENATE AUTHOR:  Caperton
HOUSE SPONSOR:  C. Evans

Senate Bill 719 amends current law to create the Interagency Council on Mentally Retarded, Developmentally Disabled, and Mentally Ill Offenders. It lists definitions and specifies the membership, powers, and duties of the council. The 27-member council will be composed of nine at-large members appointed by the governor and the executive head or designated representative of certain specified agencies and associations. The council is required to determine the status of mentally retarded, developmentally disabled, and mentally ill offenders within the criminal justice system, identify needed services, and develop a plan to meet treatment, rehabilitation, and educational needs of these offenders, including case management and community-based alternatives to incarceration. Another important duty of the council is to develop and implement a pilot program that will be a collaborative community-based alternative to divert nonviolent mentally or emotionally impaired offenders from the criminal justice system and rehabilitate them.
HOUSE BILL 1503
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1503 requires the Texas Department of Corrections to lease the Skyview unit of Rusk State Hospital from the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to house mentally ill inmates. The Texas Department of Corrections is also required to build new facilities at the Skyview unit so that capacity can be increased to 500 inmates. Maintenance and support services will be provided by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation will transfer the current Skyview patients to a maximum security unit to be established at Vernon State Hospital. Facilities at Wichita Falls State Hospital will be renovated to house patients displaced by the relocation of the maximum security unit.

The bill also requires the Texas Department of Corrections and the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to adopt a memorandum of understanding specifying construction schedules, patient and inmate transfer schedules, and the administrative and supervisory roles of each agency.

Services for Indigents

SENATE BILL 483
EFFECTIVE: 5-12-87

Senate Bill 483 amends existing law to authorize home-rule cities to provide publicly owned facilities for use by organizations that provide human services, including housing, food and clothing, and day care, to indigents.

SENATE BILL 1207
EFFECTIVE: 6-20-87

Senate Bill 1207 amends existing law to allow home-rule cities to provide human services to the indigent. If these services are provided by contract, the fees may not exceed 50 percent of the annual budget of the organization providing the services.

Support Services for the Mentally Disabled

HOUSE BILL 1154
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1154 amends the Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act to include a new section requiring the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation to establish programs to provide support services for mentally disabled persons and their families. It requires the department to adopt rules for implementing and administering the program, including establishing guidelines for eligibility standards, periodic reviews, payment rates, and copayment systems. The bill allows the department to utilize local mental health and mental retardation authorities to implement the program, but the department may not designate a local authority as sole service provider if other providers are available. The services to be provided include purchase or lease of special equipment or architectural modifications of a home, various health services, counseling or training programs, home health care, and respite services. The bill sets a limit of $3,600 a year per client, but additional amounts may be authorized on a case-by-case basis. SENATE BILL 2 (1st C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 9-2-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Gavin

Senate Bill 2 requires certain liability insurance carriers to make an annual report to the State Board of Insurance of direct writings of liability insurance in the state. The content of the report is specified, and the board is authorized to adopt rules and forms to implement the act. All information required to be filed under the act will be made available to the public.

Similar provisions are made for the filing of reports on all claims closed by liability insurance carriers. Different reporting procedures are prescribed for claims of varying amounts. The contents of various reports are specified, and the board is authorized to promulgate rules to implement the act. The board is required to compile the data reported and prepare an annual report to the presiding officers of each house of the legislature. The board's report will be made available to the public, but information pertaining to individual claims will remain confidential.

Senate Bill 2 creates the division of consumer protection in the State Board of Insurance to represent the interests of insurance consumers. Provision is made for the appointment of a public counsel, and the qualifications, powers, and duties of the counsel are set out. An assessment is imposed on each property and casualty insurer to defray the costs of creating, administering, and operating the division. Other provisions of the Insurance Code are amended and brought into conformity with these provisions of the act.

With respect to certain liability rates and policies, the State Board of Insurance is required to use data from within the state to the fullest extent possible in developing rates applicable to Texas policyholders. With certain exceptions, all data relating to liability insurance rates provided by an insurer to the board must be disclosed to the public.

With regard to liability rates that are filed and approved by the board, the time within which the board may disapprove a filed rate is extended, and the length of time the board may postpone its decision is lengthened.
Where the board disapproves a filing, it is authorized to amend the filing to conform to the requirements of the Insurance Code. With certain exceptions, those rates are made effective for two years.

The board is required to conduct annual hearings to review the reports of premiums earned and losses incurred for carriers of automobile insurance, and the board is authorized to amend those rates to bring them into compliance with standards set by the Insurance Code. An annual hearing is also required to review multiperil rates.

On request by 25 or more persons affected by board action, the board is required to hold a public hearing before taking action on policy or endorsement forms for automobile, commercial multiperil, or general liability insurance. Other provisions of the Insurance Code are amended and brought into conformity with this provision.

With respect to liability insurance policyholders, a carrier is prohibited from canceling an insurance policy after it has been in effect for 60 days, but certain exceptions are allowed to this prohibition. Notice requirements are imposed before cancellation or nonrenewal.

Liability insurance carriers are required to provide information to a policyholder relating to the disposition of a claim filed under the policy, and the information that must be disclosed is specified. A time limit is set within which the carrier must respond, and the board is authorized to require additional disclosures and to provide forms to implement these provisions.

Liability insurance carriers are no longer required to provide services to insureds that will analyze hospital risk control management. The acceptable qualifications for field safety engineers are broadened to include specialists in health related fields, industrial hygiene, and occupational safety. The State Board of Insurance is accorded greater flexibility in administering sanctions imposed on carriers that do not provide loss control services to hospitals as required by the Insurance Code. Certain carriers are exempt from provisions governing the delivery of liability insurance to hospitals, liability of a carrier for causes of action arising from the nature or effectiveness of its loss prevention services is limited, and discovery of loss control information is prohibited in civil proceedings.

With respect to commercial automobile liability insurance, the provision of loss control information by the carrier is made a prerequisite for a license to write this line of insurance. The requisite information is to be based on the risks and experience of the insured, and various methods of purveying the information are allowed. Provision is made for board imposed sanctions in the event of noncompliance, and the board is authorized to promulgate rules to implement the act. Liability of carriers for causes of action arising from the nature or effectiveness of loss control services is limited, and loss control information is exempted from discovery in civil proceedings. Similar requirements are imposed on carriers desiring to write professional liability insurance other than for hospitals.

The act requires the licensing of risk managers and provides certain exemptions from the licensing requirement. Qualifications for a license are set out, and provision is made for an examination. A schedule of fees and requirements is supplied for the examination, license, and renewal of a license. Provision is made for denial, suspension, revocation, and reinstatement of a license. A penalty is provided for violation of the act.

The State Board of Insurance is authorized to establish a market assistance program to assist those who have difficulty in securing liability coverage. Each program is to be administered under a plan of operation developed by the board, and the board is authorized to require participation by a carrier. Each program is to be administered by an executive committee, and the functions and duties of program agents are defined.

The board is authorized to promulgate rules and monitor the activities of surplus lines agents, and the form of notice required on surplus lines policies is improved. Surplus lines agents are prohibited from placing coverage with an unauthorized insurer unless the insurer meets minimum standards of capital and surplus; certain exemptions are allowed. Additional requirements are imposed on alien insurers. Provision is made for imposition of a penalty by the board on surplus lines agents found to be in violation of the Insurance Code or administrative rules or regulations.

If the board determines that the market assistance program is not sufficient to make liability insurance available to nonprofit organizations, the Texas Nonprofit Organization Liability Insurance Underwriting Association is created. The composition of the association is outlined, and provision is made for a yearly review of the program. Guidelines for participation by members are set out. The general responsibility and authority of the association are detailed, and provision is made for the terms and selection of a board of directors. Adoption of an operating plan is required, and necessary provisions of the plan are delineated. Guidelines are established for rates and policy forms. Procedures are provided for recoupment of deficits sustained by the association and for assessment of association members and policyholders. The association is required to file annual statements with the State Board of Insurance concerning its transactions of the previous year, and the board is required to examine the affairs of the association at least annually.

The act authorizes the creation of risk management pools for school districts and junior college districts by resolution of their boards of trustees, and the pools may offer basic coverage against liability for the acts and omissions of the entity. Guidelines for membership, meetings, and selection of a temporary board are set out. A plan of operation is required, and the requisite elements of the plan are detailed. Provision is made for a board of trustees to be elected according to the plan. The board is required to set rates for premiums and is authorized to purchase reinsurance, enter into contracts, and exercise any powers necessary to implement the act. The act establishes the parameters for initial coverage, allows a pool to pay commissions, and authorizes the board to adopt rules to carry out these provisions. Pools authorized under these provisions are exempt from regulation by the State Board of Insurance and are subject only to named sections of the Insurance Code.

The act authorizes the creation of separate excess liability pools for counties, school districts, and junior college districts by resolution for the purpose of providing excess liability coverage to those entities. The scope of coverage is delineated, and the pool is authorized to participate in the evaluation, settlement, or defense of any claim. Conditions for participation in the pool are set out, and participating entities are authorized to expend their funds in payment of contributions or premiums. A plan of operation is required, and minimum plan requirements are established. Each pool is required to be governed by a board of trustees, and the powers and duties of the board are established. The board is required to determine and periodically review the premium rates and limits of coverage. The coverage period, terms of coverage, and conditions for nonrenewal of coverage are specified. The pool is exempt from regulation by the State Board of Insurance and is subject only to certain named provisions of the Insurance Code.

On agreement of the presiding officers of at least 25 cities or groups of cities that have formed an insurance pool under the provisions of The Interlocal Cooperation Act, the Texas public entity excess insurance pool is created to provide excess liability and workers' compensation insurance coverage to a participating entity. Requirements for participation are enumerated, and entities are authorized to use their funds to pay contributions and premiums. The existing board of the cities' self-insurance pool is required to administer the pool, and the powers and duties of the board are enumerated. A plan of operation is required and the content of the plan is specified. The coverage period, terms of coverage, and conditions for nonrenewal of coverage are specified. The pool is exempt from regulation by the State Board of Insurance and is subject only to certain named provisions of the Insurance Code. The board is authorized to issue and sell bonds to fund initial expenses according to guidelines provided by the act.

Life insurance companies authorized to do business in Texas are brought within provisions authorizing them to write reinsurance for property and casualty risks. Other provisions of the Insurance Code are amended and brought into conformity with the act.

Under current law, carriers are prohibited from insuring against punitive damages for a health care provider or physician. The act provides an exception and authorizes the State Board of Insurance to approve coverage of a hospital on a policy of medical professional liability insurance. The amount of medical liability insurance coverage that the joint underwriting association for medical malpractice insurance may provide to a policyholder is increased.

SENIOR AUTHORITY: Green

HOUSE SPONSOR: Patrick

Senate Bill 1132 amends the definitions section of the Texas Health Maintenance Organization Act, and the requirements to be met in an application for a certificate of authority to establish such an organization are revised. The State Board of Insurance is authorized to promulgate rules requiring health maintenance organizations (HMOs) to disclose modifications to documents or operations during site visits or examinations.

Conditions limiting the insurance commissioner's power to grant a delay on final action on an application are eliminated, and a provision allowing enrollee participation in matters of policy and operation is deleted.

HMOs are authorized to provide services through physicians or providers who have contracted for health care services with other physicians or providers under contract with the HMO. Each organization is required to file notice with the insurance commissioner before purchasing or leasing facilities involving an affiliate, and the commissioner is required to disapprove such action if it would impair the interests of the public, enrollees, or creditors.

The requirement to allow enrollee participation in matters of policy and operation is eliminated.

The act eliminates certain requirements for evidence of coverage, lists the requirements for an acceptable method of calculating enrollment coverage, and requires that the method be filed with the insurance commissioner before it is used. The insurance commissioner is authorized to withdraw his approval of any form of evidence of coverage if it is shown to be in violation of the Insurance Code or administrative rule.

Additional information is to be furnished in the annual report of HMOs that are in operation for less than one year.

The requirement that the insurance commissioner approve a complaint system established by the HMO is eliminated.

The amounts of deposits and other guarantees required of an HMO are modified, and provision is made for the withdrawal of deposited funds in excess of the amount required. The State Board of Insurance is authorized to waive some or all of the amounts of deposit required where certain conditions are met, and provision is made for return of deposited funds.

Schedules for minimum amounts of surplus funds for HMOs are set out.

HMOs offering both basic and single health care coverages are brought within the provisions of the code governing unfair competition and practices, misrepresentation of policy terms, unfair claim settlement practices, and discrimination against handicapped individuals. Exceptions are allowed at the discretion of the insurance commissioner.

The definition of "health maintenance organization agent" is amended to exclude certain persons who provide services to an HMO by contract.

The regulation of agents of an HMO is amended by adding the following provisions: the State Board of Insurance is required to issue a license to a corporation meeting certain conditions; the act clarifies the requirement of licensing every employee who performs the actions of an agent, and requires the board to revoke the license of any corporation not maintaining the qualifications necessary to obtain a license; it requires anyone without a license who inherits shares in a corporation to either obtain a license or dispose of the shares within 90 days. The act authorizes such a corporation to redeem the shares of a shareholder under certain circumstances. Each corporation is required to list its officers, directors, and shareholders when applying for or renewing a license, and notice is required of any change in these groups. Another corporation is prohibited from owning an interest in a corporation licensed under the act.

The insurance commissioner is required to disapprove any contract entered into between an HMO and a management agency if the agency is not covered by a fidelity bond meeting specifications provided in the act.

Supervision of failing HMOs is added to the measures that may be taken by the insurance commissioner. The requirement of notice and hearing before promulgation of rules governing delinquency proceedings by the State Board of Insurance is eliminated, and the board is authorized to promulgate rules prescribing permissible investments by HMOs.

Each HMO is required to maintain a fidelity bond or a deposit of cash in its own name according to specifications required in the act.

The insurance commissioner is authorized to bring suit against any person appearing to violate the terms of the act.

The Health Maintenance Organization Solvency Surveillance Committee is created. The committee is under the direction of the insurance commissioner and is to perform its functions under a plan of operation approved by the State Board of Insurance. SENATE BILL 1387

LABOR

Labor legislation in the 70th Legislature focused primarily on unemployment compensation, taxes, and benefits. Notably, House Bill 2090 freezes the maximum amount of weekly benefits through 1989 and creates the advance interest trust fund to help reduce or avoid federal advances to the unemployment compensation fund. House Bill 1896, which requires that agricultural workers be notified of possible exposure to hazardous chemicals during their employment, is summarized in the chapter on agriculture.

Unemployment Compensation

HOUSE BILL 2090  HOUSE AUTHOR: Criss
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87  SENATE SPONSOR: Blake

House Bill 2090 freezes until October 1, 1989, the maximum amount of weekly unemployment compensation benefits payable to a recipient. The Texas Employment Commission is required to calculate benefit amounts for claims filed after that date as if there had been no increase in the annual average weekly wage during 1986 and 1987.

The act authorizes the governor to use amounts deposited in the advance interest trust fund to pay interest incurred on bonds issued to reduce or avoid federal advances to the unemployment compensation fund. Interest on these bonds is to be paid before any surplus is used for the payment of benefits.

A maximum tax rate is established in the event that the commission levies an additional tax on employers to pay the interest on federal advances to the unemployment fund or on bonds issued to reduce or avoid federal advances.

To avoid borrowing from the federal unemployment trust fund, the commission is authorized to issue, sell, and deliver bonds, the proceeds of which are used to replenish the state unemployment compensation fund. The bonds must be authorized by resolution of the commission after an affirmative finding that the issuance would save money for the state and its employers.

The commission is authorized to pledge money received from the levy of special unemployment taxes to pay the principal, interest, costs, and redemption premiums on the bonds. The bill creates procedures to establish the tax rate, wage base, amount of tax levied, and disposition of surplus proceeds. Money from these taxes will be placed in a special fund for the benefit of the bond owners and is not the property of the state.

The status of the bonds is clarified: they do not constitute debts of the state and are not backed by the faith, credit, or taxing power of any political entity except as provided by the act. The bonds must contain statements to this effect.

House Bill 2090 sets out provisions that may be included in the commission resolutions authorizing the issuance of bonds. The commission is authorized to issue bonds to refund all or part of the outstanding bonds issued under the act. The bonds are designated as tax-free bonds.

Issuance of the bonds is made subject to review by the attorney general and to the approval of a bond review board created under the bill. The membership of that board is specified.

The act may be enforced through mandamus and other appropriate proceedings in the state supreme court.

The definition of “wages” for the purposes of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act is amended.

PARKS AND WILDLIFE

Hunting and fishing legislation in 1987 included Senate Bill 504, authorizing a hunter education program for educational and safety purposes, and Senate Bill 13, automatically exempting Texas residents who are under 17 or at least 65 years of age from having to purchase fishing licenses. Commercial offshore fisheries were affected by stricter controls on out-of-state boats (Senate Bill 912 and House Bill 1746) and stricter controls relating to redfish, speckled trout, snook, tarpon, and striped bass (House Bill 1811 and House Bill 1812). The 70th Legislature witnessed only one enactment on the subject of state parks, House Bill 1839, relating to Franklin Mountains State Park, which was authorized in 1979 but has yet to be established. House Bill 2409 provides for expedited issuance of boat and motor titles though at a premium fee.

Commercial Fisheries

SENATE BILL 912
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 912 authorizes the Parks and Wildlife Department to regulate vessels operating in the exclusive economic zone of the United States, extending to 200 nautical miles offshore, if they land fish, shrimp, crabs, or any other aquatic organisms in this state. Regulation applies even if a vessel is registered elsewhere. The act also repeals certain provisions relating to the closed season for shrimpning in federal offshore waters.

HOUSE BILL 1746
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1746, in an attempt to establish parity between fees charged in Texas and Louisiana, authorizes nonresident license fees for certain fishing boats, shrimp boats, and oyster dredges operating in Texas waters. The fee for a freshwater or saltwater commercial fishing boat license is $60. The fee for a commercial gulf shrimp boat license is $200 and $320 for a commercial bay shrimp or bait-shrimp boat license. The fee for a nonresident sports oyster dredge license is $40 and $200 for a nonresident commercial oyster dredge license. In addition, for a boat having the latter, the captain and each paid crew member must obtain a general commercial fisherman's license, the nonresident fee for which under current law is $100. House Bill 1746 repeals provisions waiving the requirement of an oyster dredge license for boats already having a commercial bay shrimp or bait-shrimp boat license. Finally, the bill requires that persons harvesting aquatic products from Texas waters and transporting them out of state obtain a wholesale fish dealer's license, the fee for which under current law is $400. For each of the listed licenses, the Parks and Wildlife Commission reserves the power to set the fee at a higher rate.

HOUSE BILL 1811
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

The Parks and Wildlife Code prohibits the possession or transport, for sale, of redfish and speckled sea trout, except for those originating outside the state or raised by a licensed Texas fish farmer. For redfish or speckled sea trout not destined for sale, it sets statutory limits on the numbers and sizes that may be caught in one day or retained at any one time. In the latter case, the Parks and Wildlife Commission by proclamation may prescribe additional restrictions relating to the catching, possession, transport, sale, or purchase of the two species, and in so doing may prescribe restrictions that supersede the statutory ones. The code authorizes confiscation of fishing equipment for violations of the statutory catch and size limits on redfish and speckled sea trout not destined for sale, including confiscation of a fishing vessel for three or more violations within a five-year period. House Bill 1811 makes a single change to this regulatory scheme, extending confiscation provisions to apply not only to violation of statutory limits but also to violations of commission proclamations.

Enforcement officers of the Parks and Wildlife Department are empowered to confiscate marine life that has been illegally taken or possessed. It authorizes Texas game wardens to direct, when practical, that illegally taken or possessed oysters be returned to a public reef rather than sold. The act precludes any civil actions against the warden or department for having seized and sold aquatic life or having directed a return to a public reef.

This act amends the definition of game animals to encompass mule deer, white-tailed deer, and pronghorn antelope, but not other nonnative species of deer or antelope. The legislation deletes black bears from the list of game animals. (See House Bill 1210.) The act repeals local laws relating to axis deer in Bexar and Kendall counties and adds six new Panhandle counties (Dallam, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Moore, Oldham, and Potter) where elk are to be considered as game animals.
SENATE BILL 998

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Santiesteban
HOUSE SPONSOR: Berlanga

Justice courts are required to submit to the Parks and Wildlife Department, on request, affidavits certifying parks and wildlife convictions for which enhanced penalties apply to multiple convictions. Senate Bill 998 deletes a requirement that accompanying records include the defendant’s signature and fingerprints.

SENATE BILL 999

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Santiesteban
HOUSE SPONSOR: Berlanga

Senate Bill 999 changes language relating to the recovery by the state from an offender of the value of illegally taken, possessed, killed, or injured wildlife. For legal purposes, the change clarifies that the offender’s payment to the state is restitution rather than a penalty and the violation therefore subject judicially to lesser standards of proof than would be the case with a penal violation.

HOUSE BILL 1195

EFFECTIVE: 5-28-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Saunders
SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

In 1981 the legislature authorized the creation of the Operation Game Thief Program to assist in protecting fish and game resources from poachers. The program fund offers monetary rewards, which are determined by an Operation Game Thief Committee, for the reporting of flagrant poaching violations that result in convictions. House Bill 1195 expands associated rulemaking authority of the Parks and Wildlife Department and removes a previous restriction that limited rewards only to convictions occurring in the most recent six-month period.

HOUSE BILL 1210

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Saunders
SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

This act requires anyone wishing to take, transport, or keep in captivity an endangered species to first acquire a state permit granting permission to do so. The new requirement, unlike before, applies even if the person already has a federal endangered species permit. Advertisement, sale, or distribution of endangered species, which is currently prohibited unless an animal has been born and raised in captivity for commercial purposes, is likewise made conditional on obtaining a state permit, whether or not one also has a federal permit. The act removes black bears, which recently have been added to the endangered species list, from the list of game animals that can be held captive under a game breeder’s license. Black bears for captivity purposes now require a state endangered species permit as well as a federal one.

HOUSE AUTHOR: Saunders
SENATE SPONSOR: Santiesteban

HOUSE BILL 1262

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Saunders
SENATE SPONSOR: Sims

Currently, out-of-state hunters may purchase two types of hunting licenses to hunt birds and animals in Texas: the general nonresident hunting license and a nonresident small game hunting license. House Bill 1262 redesignates the latter as the nonresident special hunting license and establishes two new licenses: the nonresident five-day special hunting license and the nonresident bonded bird hunting license for shooting resort, private bird shooting area, or field trial area. The legislation incorporates the same changes in the list of game animals made in Senate Bill 180, except that wild collared peccaries and javelinas, as well as black bears, are removed from the list for purposes of nonresident hunters.
HOUSE BILL 1263
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Current law provides a mechanism by which a person, without regard to season or bag limit restrictions, may eradicate certain protected wildlife causing damage to crops or domestic animals. The procedure entails notice to the county judge, implementation of control measures recommended by the Parks and Wildlife Department, and application for an eradication permit if the control measures do not work. House Bill 1263 modifies the scope of that law slightly, applying it to agricultural, aquacultural, or horticultural interests suffering serious damage. Threats to public safety also qualify under the new legislation. House Bill 1263 requires that the game warden be notified in all cases of the whereabouts of the carcass of a destroyed animal and gives the warden or county court greater discretion as to the beneficial disposition of the carcass.

HOUSE BILL 1330
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1330 makes it illegal, except as regulated by the Parks and Wildlife Department, for persons other than departmental employees to propagate, purchase, sell, transport, or release turkeys for the purpose of establishing a free-ranging wild turkey population. The department itself is authorized to release turkeys for this purpose, however. The legislation does not apply to turkeys maintained for agricultural purposes.

HOUSE BILL 2050
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87

House Bill 2050 makes it illegal to hunt, trap, or kill a golden eagle or Mexican brown eagle without first having obtained a permit from the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Violation of the act is a Class B Parks and Wildlife Code misdemeanor.

HOUSE BILL 737
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 737 allows an honorably retired peace officer from the Parks and Wildlife Department to purchase a badge issued to the officer by the department, if the officer purchases it before the second anniversary of retirement. If a peace officer commissioned by the department dies while commissioned, the spouse, children, or parents—in descending order of precedence—may purchase a badge. In either event, the total purchase for the officer is limited to one badge.
PROBATE

This chapter describes legislation concerning probate and includes such topics as the appointment of temporary administrators and guardians, reimbursement for expenses incurred defending a will, and the apportionment of state and federal estate taxes on the assets of an estate. Also included in this chapter is Senate Joint Resolution 35, which proposes a constitutional amendment permitting spouses to hold community property with the right of survivorship.

Community Property

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 35
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Caperton
HOUSE SPONSOR: Perez

This resolution proposes a constitutional amendment that, if adopted, would permit spouses to agree in writing that all or part of their community property becomes the property of the surviving spouse on the death of a spouse.

SENATE BILL 893
EFFECTIVE: see below
SENATE AUTHOR: Caperton
HOUSE SPONSOR: Perez

Senate Bill 893 adopts the Uniform Premarital Agreement Act that details the types of agreements persons may enter into prior to marriage. It also grants spouses the right to engage in partition or exchange agreements. Partition or exchange agreements provide that spouses may, at any time in their marriage, partition or exchange between themselves any part of their community property to become the separate property of one of the spouses. They may also agree that any income or property arising from the separate property owned by one of them will be the separate property of the owner. Provisions of partition or exchange agreements that were entered into with the intention of defrauding a creditor are void. The agreements can be recorded in the deed records of the county where the party resides and in the county where the real property is located. Recording the agreement in the county where the real property is located serves as constructive notice to a good-faith purchaser or a creditor. The provisions of the act take effect on September 1, 1987.

In addition, Senate Bill 893 amends the Probate Code to provide that spouses may agree in writing that all or part of their community property which is titled or held indicia of title becomes the property of the surviving spouse on the death of the other spouse. Prior law required a more convoluted procedure whereby a written agreement was required between the spouses and a financial institution so that funds on deposit would be partitioned into separate property to be held in joint tenancies. In order for these amendments to take effect, voters must approve a proposed constitutional amendment (Senate Joint Resolution 35) authorizing automatic inheritance by a surviving spouse of a deceased spouse's community property interest.

Other Legislation

SENATE BILL 206
EFFECTIVE: 4-29-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Lyon
HOUSE SPONSOR: Oakley

This amatory act provides that the death of one holder of a jointly held safety deposit box does not affect the right of any other holder of the box to have access to and remove contents from the box after an inventory of the box contents is made and maintained by the bank.

Under prior law, the court had the discretion to undertake these actions but was not required to do so.

HOUSE BILL 360
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

This amendatory act grants statutory probate judges a broad authority to perform acts necessary to improve the management of the statutory probate court and the administration of justice. It also adds inter vivos trusts to the matters in which statutory probate courts have concurrent jurisdiction with district courts.

Motions for recusal are added to the list of reasons for which a judge may be assigned to hold court in a constitutional county court, statutory probate court, county court at law exercising probate jurisdiction, or any statutory court exercising probate jurisdiction. County judges in counties without a statutory probate court, county courts at law, or any other court exercising probate court jurisdiction are required, on the motion of a party, to request an assigned judge to handle a contested probate matter or to transfer the contested portion of the matter to district court, as specified by the motion. If a county court transfers a contested portion of a probate matter in this way, the act requires the county court to continue to exercise jurisdiction over the management of the portion that the court retains.

HOUSE BILL 361

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

This amendatory act requires a county judge to appoint a temporary administrator of a decedent’s estate if the judge determines that the interest of the estate requires it. The act delineates the procedure for the appointment of a temporary administrator of a decedent’s estate. In addition, this act amends prior law concerning the appointment of a temporary guardian so that the social security numbers of the applicant and respondent must now be included in an application for a temporary guardianship.

HOUSE BILL 362

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

Under prior law, notice stating an original grant of letter was required to be mailed to the record holder by registered letter, return receipt requested; this act amends the law to permit mailing the notice by certified mail. Also under prior law, executors and administrators having funds belonging to an estate were required to pay funeral expenses and expenses of last sickness in an amount not to exceed $2,000; this act raises that figure to an amount not to exceed $5,000.

HOUSE BILL 363
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

Texas law provides that any person designated as executor or administrator of a will or an alleged will is entitled to reimbursement from the estate for any necessary expenses incurred in defending or prosecuting the will in good faith. This act expands that provision to permit the same rights to any person designated as a devisee, legatee, or beneficiary in a will or an alleged will who incurs expenses defending or prosecuting the will in good faith.

HOUSE BILL 364
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

This act amends prior law to require that the social security numbers of the applicant and decedent be included in an application for probate of a written will or for letters of administration when no will is alleged to exist. The act also requires that the social security numbers of the applicant and the person for whom appointment of a guardian is sought be included in an application for appointment of a permanent guardian.
HOUSE BILL 365
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This amendatory act provides that a person claiming to be an illegitimate child, or claiming inheritance through an illegitimate child, may petition the probate court for a determination of right of inheritance from the purported father. Inheritance under this act is not permitted if the parental rights of the purported father have been terminated.

HOUSE BILL 366
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Under prior law, if a debtor owed an amount of money not exceeding $15,000 to a former ward of terminated guardianship, such as a minor, a person of unsound mind, or an alcoholic, the debtor could pay that amount to the county clerk of the county where the former ward resides, for the account of the former ward. This amendatory act raises the maximum amount of the payment to $30,000.

HOUSE BILL 367
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This amendatory act grants the statutory probate courts of Harris County general jurisdiction over the collection and management of estates of minors, mentally disturbed persons, and deceased persons and concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in matters involving an inter vivos trust. Harris County statutory probate courts are also authorized to exercise the pendent and ancillary jurisdiction necessary to promote judicial efficiency and economy. On the motion of an interested party, a judge of a statutory probate court in Harris County may transfer his court from a district, county, or statutory court a cause of action pertaining to an estate, or a cause of action involving a personal representative of an estate, pending in the statutory probate court. The act also delineates a system of court assignments for Harris County probate courts based on case numbers and subject matter.

HOUSE BILL 368
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This amendatory act permits the judge of a probate court to appoint a guardian ad litem or attorney ad litem to represent the interests of an unborn or unascertained person. An unborn or unascertained person is also added to the list of persons who, through a personal representative, may disclaim property as a beneficiary. The term “beneficiary” is defined for purposes of this section, and it is substituted throughout the section for the words “heir, legatee, devisee, or beneficiary.”

Under prior law, a “testator” could provide for the making of disclaimers and the disposition of disclaimed property in a will. This act amends the law to allow a “person” to make these provisions in an insurance policy, employee benefit agreement, or other instrument. A beneficiary who accepts an interest in a trust does not have an interest in trust property that relates to a licensed or permitted business and over which the beneficiary exercises no control. In addition, this act provides that ownership of not more than five percent of certain registered equity securities is not an ownership interest of the business of the issuer.

Persons who may accept or disclaim an interest in a trust on behalf of a beneficiary are listed.

HOUSE BILL 506
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

This act amends the probate code to include employees’ trusts, retirement accounts, deferred compensation arrangements, and custodial agreements among the types of contracts or arrangements that may contain certain nontestamentary provisions. The terms “employees’ trust,” “individual retirement account,” “retirement account,” “retirement-annuity contract,” and “simplified employee pension” are defined.

HOUSE BILL 508
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

This amendatory act provides for the allocation and apportionment of state and federal estate taxes among persons interested in the estate. It requires the representative or other person charged with paying estate taxes to recover from each beneficiary of the estate a proportionate amount of the total estate taxes owed and certain other amounts attributable to interest, penalties, and expenses of the representative. In determining an apportionment, the act requires the representative to make allowance for exemptions, deductions, and credits available to any beneficiary. The act excludes from apportionment property consisting of an income interest, a life estate, or other temporary interests in property or a fund from apportionment and provides procedures for a representative to collect apportioned amounts.

Additionally, the act provides that certain liabilities are chargeable to a decedent’s estate and lists an order of abatement of bequests.

HOUSE BILL 575
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright

HOUSE BILL 576
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

Under prior law, a parent of a minor who was not a ward could apply to the court for an order to sell the minor’s real or personal property in an estate without being appointed guardian, if the value of the minor’s interest in the property did not exceed $10,000. House Bill 576 raises the allowable amount of the minor’s interest to $15,000.

HOUSE BILL 577

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

Prior law permitted a person interested in an estate to petition the court for an accounting and distribution at any time after the expiration of three years from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered. House Bill 577 reduces that time period to two years.

HOUSE BILL 578

The act also provides that the court may deny the commission if the property has not been managed prudently or if the executor, administrator, or guardian has been removed under certain sections of the code.

HOUSE BILL 715
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Grusendorf
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

House Bill 715 amends prior law to provide that a written agreement in a form specified by the bill is sufficient to confer absolute survivorship rights to the surviving party of a jointly held bank account. The bill also provides that a financial institution that pays a sum from a jointly held account to a surviving party pursuant to this agreement is not liable to an heir, devisee, or beneficiary of the decedent’s estate.

HOUSE BILL 813

HOUSE AUTHOR: Wright
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

House Bill 813 amends the Texas Probate Code to allow a court to authorize the guardian of an estate to borrow money, through the mortgage or pledge of any real or personal property of the estate, for the purchase of a residence for the ward or the ward’s dependents.
PROPERTY INTERESTS

Legislation of the 70th Legislature affected property interests in real, rental, and personal property. House Bill 710 allows a part of a larger parcel of real property to be designated a homestead, and House Bill 2024 places limitations on the sale and subsequent lease of a homestead. The eviction of tenants from rental property is addressed by House Bill 1125, which allows tenants to post a bond in exchange for property seized by a landlord, and Senate Bill 473 governs the storage of a tenant's property that has been seized and stored with a warehouseman. Unclaimed and abandoned personal property is addressed by Senate Bill 581, and the trustee relationship between a contractor and subcontractor is newly defined in House Bill 1160. House Bill 1401 and House Bill 1402, relating to intellectual property policies of higher education institutions, are summarized in the chapter on higher education.

Real Property Interests

HOUSE BILL 356
EFFECTIVE: 6-18-87

House Bill 356 amends and supplements various provisions of the Property Code relating to restrictive covenants affecting real property. Definitions of "dedicatory instrument," "property owners' association," "petition," and "restrictive covenant" are provided. Provisions of the act apply to all restrictive covenants but do not affect the requirements of the Community Homes for Disabled Persons Location Act.

Provision is made for liberal construction of restrictive covenants, but they may not be construed to prevent the use of property as a family home.

An exercise of authority by a property owners' association is presumed reasonable unless proven otherwise; an association is authorized to intervene in litigation affecting the enforcement of a restrictive covenant, and the courts are authorized to assess civil damages when a restrictive covenant is violated.

Provision is made for the withdrawal of a signature from a petition authorized to be filed in connection with terminating restrictive covenants.

County attorneys in counties with populations of more than two million are authorized to enforce certain property restrictions through litigation in the courts. Provision is made for deposit of a fee to cover costs of administration, and the courts are authorized to award court costs and attorney's fees to a county that prevails in a suit. Any amount awarded that exceeds the county's expenses is to be refunded to the complainant.

A subdivision that allows addition to or modification of restrictions by agreement of less than 75 percent of affected owners is exempted from provisions of the Property Code governing the use of restrictive covenants in subdivisions.

The date after which only one committee in a subdivision may operate under the provisions of the Property Code to amend or modify property restrictions is extended. The date after which a committee may file a petition to amend property restrictions after a court holds them to be invalid is extended.

Property that is exempted from restrictions created by a petition is nonetheless subject to whatever restrictions existed prior to the effective date of the petition, and whatever restrictions are imposed may be subsequently modified by a specified percentage of property owners. This provision is made subject to certain exemptions allowed in the act.

HOUSE BILL 710
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 710 amends the Property Code to authorize the head of a family and that person's spouse, if any, to designate a part of a larger parcel of real property as either a rural or urban homestead. The required contents of the designating documents are specified. Provision is made for changing the boundaries of a homestead, and any designation of a homestead already on file is brought within the scope of the act. Other sections of the Property Code are updated and brought into conformity with these provisions.

HOUSE BILL 747
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 747 requires a seller of property located seaward of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway to disclose to a prospective buyer that the public retains a right of use or easement to certain beach areas.
HOUSE BILL 1227
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 1227 authorizes a court that hears and grants a motion to dismiss a condemnation proceeding to make an allowance to the owner of the property in question for certain expenses incurred to the date of the hearing or judgment.

HOUSE BILL 1504
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88

House Bill 1504 requires county commissioners courts to designate the area at the courthouse where a sale of foreclosed real estate is to occur, and it requires that notice of the sale shall include a statement of the earliest time at which the sale will occur. In addition, the act requires that 20 days' notice be given to a debtor before notice of sale is given on the debtor's residence.

HOUSE BILL 2024
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 2024 provides that where a seller sells all or part of his homestead property at a price that is less than the fair market value at the time of the sale and, in the same transaction, the buyer leases the property back to the seller at payments exceeding the fair rental value of the property, the transaction constitutes a loan and all payments in excess of the sales price are subject to state usury laws. Taking a deed in such a contract is a deceptive trade practice, the deed is void, and no lien attaches to the homestead property as a result of the sale.

SENATE BILL 816
EFFECTIVE: 4-29-87

Senate Bill 816 repeals Article 342-502, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, which regulated the acquisition and depreciation of real estate by state banks.

SENATE BILL 1075
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Senate Bill 1075 prohibits a person, other than an attorney, from receiving compensation for preparation of a legal instrument affecting title to real property. Certain exceptions are allowed. The act provides for injunctive relief, a cause of action, and damages in satisfaction of a violation of these provisions.

Rental Property: Landlord and Tenant

HOUSE BILL 1125
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1125 allows a tenant, at any time before judgment in a suit for unpaid rent, to post a bond and recover unclaimed or unsold personal property after seizure of the tenant's property by a landlord for unpaid rent. This provision applies only to a suit that is initiated on or after the effective date of the act.

HOUSE BILL 2481
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2481 creates a presumption of abandonment when a commercial tenant removes items outside the normal course of the tenant's business in an amount substantial enough to indicate a probable intent to abandon. Provision is made for the removal, disposition, and notice of disposition of a commercial tenant's property by a landlord.

Separate measures are prescribed for the posting of notice to the tenant after a landlord changes the door locks on residential and commercial property.

A provision in a commercial lease contrary to the act prevails, but a provision in a residential lease that conflicts is void.

SENATE BILL 473
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

The Property Code allows the courts to authorize an officer to remove the personal property of tenants from a landlord's premises and engage the services of a warehouseman to store the property; the warehouseman then has a lien on the property to cover the expense of moving and storage. Senate Bill 473 extends the definition of “premises” subject to this action, and directs that the warehouseman’s lien does not attach until the property is actually stored.

If the property is to be stored in a public warehouse, the act requires that certain items of information be included in written notification to the tenant.

Conditions for payment and redemption of personal property by the tenant are specified in the act, and recourse is provided for a tenant who alleges that the landlord did not return the redeemed property in a timely manner or that the moving and storage charges of the warehouseman are unreasonable. The act awards attorney’s fees and costs of court to the prevailing party, and applies only to property removed after the effective date of the act.

SENATE BILL 1341
SENATE AUTHOR: Santiesteban
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Eckels

In the course of eviction proceedings, a landlord may have an officer remove a tenant’s possessions for nonpayment of rent. Senate Bill 1341 provides a definition of “premises” that includes both the rental unit and areas common to all tenants. The act specifies that property may be removed from the rental unit rather than the premises as defined by the act. In addition, a writ of possession may not be issued until the possession bond that the landlord must file has been approved under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

HOUSE BILL 1160
HOUSE AUTHORE: Parker
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Parker

House Bill 1160 requires building contractors and sellers of real property to provide an affidavit upon request and prior to payment for their services or property stating that all subcontractors, laborers, and materialmen have been paid in full. In the event that payment for labor or materials has not been made, pertinent information must be provided in the affidavit. A penalty is provided for violation of the act.

Under current law, all funds borrowed by an owner or paid to a contractor are “trust funds” for payment of persons who provide labor or materials to the construction project. The act eliminates the requirement that intent to defraud must be proved in order to constitute misapplication of funds; it is sufficient that a trustee knowingly diverts trust funds without first paying all current or past due obligations to the beneficiaries of the fund. Certain affirmative defenses are allowed, and a trustee's authorization to use trust funds to cover overhead expenses is eliminated. A penalty is provided for violations committed after the effective date of the act.

SENATE BILL 581

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones

HOUSE SPONSOR: Schlueper

The act eliminates the reporting requirement for nine categories of information relating to mineral interests.

The state treasurer is authorized to select the most effective method of giving notice of abandoned property, certain defenses to the unclaimed property statutes are eliminated, and the act prohibits the circumvention of these laws by private agreements. The limitation on fees charged by persons who inform a claimant of abandoned property are further limited.

The act specifies conditions under which another state can recover property after the property has been paid or delivered to the state treasurer.

The treasurer is authorized to collect interest on the value of property not turned over to the treasurer in a timely manner and may charge attorney's fees in the event the treasurer must file suit to recover abandoned property. Criminal penalties for violating the act are extended to all persons.

SENATE BILL 610

SENATE AUTHOR: Santiesteban

HOUSE SPONSOR: Perez

Senate Bill 610 requires the governor to transfer to the secretary of the interior all assets of the Alabama-Coushatta and Tigua Indian tribes held in trust by the state and to transfer all items on their reservations to the respective tribes if the congress restores the trust relationship between the U.S. and the tribes. The governor would be further required to issue an executive order declaring that this transfer has been effected.

The Texas Indian Commission is required to assist the governor in the transfer, and the state retains the power to enact legislation relating to the tribes consistent with their federally recognized status.

SENATE BILL 952

SENATE AUTHOR: Harris

HOUSE SPONSOR: Wallace

Senate Bill 952 gives museums a legal right to retain or dispose of certain loaned property. Requirements for adequate notice to a lender by a museum are set out in the act.

Property that is loaned to a museum for 15 years or more, is not claimed by any person, and for which there is no loan agreement is considered abandoned. On meeting certain notice requirements, the abandoned property may be claimed by the museum, and the museum is immune from suit to recover the property.

A museum may give the lender notice of the museum's intent to terminate certain loans, and the museum may then claim the property as abandoned if the lender does not take action in a timely manner.

Museums are authorized to apply conservation measures to loaned property, or to dispose of it, without the owner's permission if immediate action is required to protect it or other property, and if the owner cannot be reached or does not himself take alternate measures. If a museum does take conservation measures, then it has a lien on the property to cover its costs in handling the property and is accorded certain defenses to liability for damage or loss of the property.

Certain limitations are imposed on actions brought to recover property from a museum, and museums are required to provide prospective lenders with notice of the provisions of this act.
PROPERTY TAXATION

Property taxation in Texas is restricted to local government; a constitutional amendment approved in 1982 eliminated the last vestiges of state property taxation. That same year, the state implemented a new appraisal system approved by the 66th Legislature in 1979. Under that legislation, popularly known as the “Peveto Bill,” property tax appraisal was consolidated on a countywide basis within a single appraisal district, ending separate appraisals by the various local governments within a county. (Taxing units that overlap county lines may choose which appraisal district to join.) A taxpayer receives from the district a notice of a property’s appraised value, has the right to protest the appraisal to a local appraisal review board (or to the State Property Tax Board, which appraises certain specialized properties on a statewide basis), and may appeal the determination on the protest to the courts. Once protests are substantially completed and a sufficient portion of the district’s total taxable value is finally settled, tax rolls for the various taxing units are certified, the units adopt their respective tax rates, and collection of taxes commences.

Property tax enactments in the 70th Legislature were highlighted by House Bill 1866, revising “truth in taxation” laws that were enacted originally as part of the Peveto Bill to enable better taxpayer oversight of local tax increases. Other important legislation included Senate Joint Resolution 12, proposing a constitutional amendment to authorize exemption of most non-income-producing tangible personal property; House Bill 354, providing for financial and performance audits of appraisal districts; Senate Bill 618, enacting certain changes to the tax year schedule; and Senate Bill 1225, revising the law on local-government approval of tax abatement agreements to stimulate economic development.

Tax Rates

HOUSE BILL 1866

Effective: 1-1-88

House Bill 1866 is a major revision of the Tax Code’s “truth in taxation” requirements. Current law provides for the calculation for each taxing unit of an “effective tax rate.” The amount of taxes imposed by the taxing unit in the preceding year (minus those applied to servicing the unit’s debt and minus those for which collection would be eliminated for the current year due to new exemptions, special appraisal, disannexed territory, and other factors) is divided by the total value for the current year of the taxing unit’s property that was taxed in the preceding year. This calculation yields a base rate for the current year, representing a zero tax increase for purposes of the taxing unit’s basic maintenance and operating expenditures. Rate increments sufficient to cover current debt service obligations and certain minor matters are added to it. The result, the effective tax rate, is officially publicized along with certain related information. A taxing unit whose proposed tax rate for the current year exceeds the effective tax rate by more than three percent must hold a public hearing to approve the increase, and should the proposed rate exceed the effective rate by more than eight percent, voters can petition for a “rollback” election to limit the increase to just eight percent.

House Bill 1866 revises the calculation of the effective tax rate to make both formal and substantive changes. The bill restates the basic calculations as formulas and defines each of the variables used in those formulas. Under the new law, many of the terms used informally in the past, such as “effective tax rate,” “rollback rate,” and “debt service,” are now specifically defined and adopted as official terms.

Probably the most important substantive change made by House Bill 1866 is to limit the rollback rate to allow only an eight percent increase in maintenance and operation revenues. The old law allowed an eight percent increase in total taxes, including debt service. This change closes the loophole that had allowed taxing units with significant debt service to increase maintenance and operation revenues by more than eight percent without triggering a rollback.

The bill makes several other important changes as well. It makes two changes substantially the same as those made by Senate Bill 1420 to place controls on the amount of excess taxes imposed because of anticipated delinquency rates and to prohibit the use of taxes imposed for debt service for other purposes. The bill also clarifies that “new property” on which taxes may be imposed above the previous year’s levy includes personal property, such as an inventory, located on newly taxed real property, but does not include new personal property on real property that was in the taxing unit in the preceding year.

In some instances, due to the many variables that go into the formulas, the rollback tax rate may be lower than 103 percent of the effective tax rate. If so, a proposed tax rate exceeding the rollback tax rate triggers the public hearing requirement even if the proposed tax rate does not exceed 103 percent of the effective tax rate. Whatever the rollback tax rate, it, too, must be published officially in a local newspaper.

The bill also makes certain relatively minor substantive changes in the method for computing the effective tax rates of cities and counties that have adopted sales and use taxes to offset property taxes. House Bill 177 (2nd Called Session), in the chapter on public education, affects school districts’ rollback tax rates.

SENATE BILL 1420
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Schlueeter

This act provides specific procedures by which a taxing unit may account for an anticipated collection percentage below 100 percent when calculating its effective tax rate. By August 1 or as soon thereafter as possible, the collector for the unit is to certify the anticipated collection rate of the unit for that year. The taxing unit may thereupon increase its debt tax rate so as to enable payment of its debts via a calculation that divides the estimated debt service to be paid from property taxes in the coming year by the anticipated collection percentage. The result is the amount of taxes that may be levied for debt purposes to obtain, given the anticipated collection percentage, sufficient revenue for the debt service. If the eventual collection percentage is actually higher than anticipated, the debt rate calculation for the following year is adjusted accordingly to negate any windfall to the taxing unit. A further specification is that revenues from tax levies imposed for debt service must be used solely to pay such debts, unless the law under which the debt arises requires use of the revenue for other purposes.

The changes made by Senate Bill 1420 are also included, in substance, in House Bill 1866.

HOUSE BILL 328
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Guerrero
SENATE SPONSOR: Barrientos

A taxing unit proposing a tax rate that exceeds the effective tax rate by more than three percent must conduct a public hearing on the increase and advertise the hearing in advance by a statutorily specified notice mailed to each property owner or published in a local newspaper. House Bill 328 adds to the information that must be provided to the public in that notice. The notice must contain the previous year’s and the newly proposed tax rate, expressed as an amount per $100, and state the dollar and percentage difference between the two. The notice also must give the average appraised and taxable value (minus the standard homestead exemption) of a residence homestead within the taxing unit, again for both the preceding year and the current one, show the amount of property taxes that would have been imposed on that typical residence under the old tax rate and the newly proposed one, and state the dollar difference between the two. House Bill 328 directs the State Property Tax Board to prescribe by rule a model format and language for the notice.

Appraisal District Governance and Administration

HOUSE BILL 354
EFFECTIVE: see below
HOUSE AUTHOR: Rodriguez
SENATE SPONSOR: Krier

House Bill 354 provides for audits of appraisal districts. The new law requires an annual independent financial audit of each appraisal district and requires a full or partial performance audit whenever initiated by a specified number of taxing units or property owners. A performance audit may be initiated by a majority of the taxing units that participate in the district or by a majority of those eligible to vote on its board of directors. Alternatively, a performance audit may be initiated by property owners whose properties comprise (or comprised in the preceding year) at least 10 percent of the accounts or appraised value in a particular category of property, if that category represents at least five percent of the taxable value in the district. Performance audits are conducted by the State Property Tax Board, which is reimbursed by the appraisal district for audits initiated by taxing units or by the requesting property owners if those owners initiate the audit. However, if an audit initiated by property owners confirms that the median level of appraisal for their property category exceeds 110 percent of value or deviates at least 10 percent from the median level of appraisal for all other property in the appraisal district, then the appraisal district ultimately must bear the costs of the audit. Provisions relating to financial audits take effect September 1, 1987. Provisions relating to performance audits take effect on January 1 of the first fiscal year for which the legislature appropriates administrative funds to the State Property Tax Board.
SENATE BILL 312
SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88
HOUSE SPONSOR: Craddick

This act requires that an appraisal district’s main office be located in the county for which the district is established, though with provision for branch offices outside that county in the case of districts that cross county lines. The remainder of the act establishes new law governing an appraisal district’s ownership of real property. It authorizes a district to buy, sell, or lease real property, and to undertake construction on requisite offices, contingent on approval by three-fourths of the taxing units eligible to vote on selection of the district’s board of directors. Inaction by a taxing unit on a proposed property transaction constitutes disapproval by that unit. The act also specifies a procedure for proportionally crediting to the various participating taxing units, according to their respective shares of the district’s budget, the proceeds from a sale of real property owned by the district.

The act also provides procedures for an appraisal district to validate an existing acquisition of real property by acting before March 1, 1988.

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Shaw

Senate Bill 469 transfers from the county clerk to the chief appraiser certain responsibilities relating to appraisal district administration. Those responsibilities pertain to the calculation and allocation of taxing units’ votes for the selection of the district board of directors, and to procedures for the nomination of board candidates by the taxing units, the voting for those candidates, the filing of petitions by taxing units to seek a change in the board selection procedure, the recall of an individual director, a change to staggered terms for directors, and a change in how the district allocates costs among participating taxing units. The new law does not affect or invalidate actions or filings occurring prior to its effective date. In the case of vote allocation among participating taxing units, Senate Bill 469 provides that the chief appraiser send notice of the allocation to the county judge and county commissioners; to each applicable city presiding officer, city manager, clerk, or secretary; and to each applicable school district board chair and school superintendent.

HOUSE BILL 268
HOUSE AUTHOR: Patterson
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

House Bill 268 requires that an employee of a taxing unit, in order to serve on an appraisal district board of directors, must also be an elected official of a taxing unit or a member of the governing body of a taxing unit that participates in the appraisal district. The legislation deletes a provision that prohibited simultaneous service by two or more employees of a taxing unit.

Appraisal, Protests, and Appeals

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88
HOUSE SPONSOR: Russell

Testimony before a special interim committee of the 69th Legislature (the House Select Committee on Appraisal Districts) revealed certain deadline requirements during the tax year that, in combination, have limited the amount of time available for the preparation of appraisals and for appraisal review board hearings of property owner protests, in turn impeding the issuance to taxing units of their certified tax rolls. Senate Bill 618 makes two deadline changes. One, applicable to the deadline by which an appraisal district must deliver to the property owner notice of a property’s appraised value, sets that date as May 15, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and eliminates a former requirement that the notice also precede by 20 days the commencement of appraisal review board hearings. The second change, applicable to the property owner’s deadline for filing a protest, requires that the protest be filed by May 31, or not later than the 30th day after delivery of the appraisal notice, whichever is later. Therefore, if an appraisal district meets exactly the May 15 deadline for the delivery of appraisal notices, the taxpayer has until 30 days later, or June 14, to file a protest. However, Senate Bill 618 does not amend other provisions of current law that allow the late filing of a protest, for good cause, up to the time that the appraisal review board adjourns. A final minor change under the legislation deletes a requirement that the appraisal district, in approving a request for a one-month extension of the March 31 deadline by which certain taxpayers must file renditions, approve such request in writing.
Under the state's Tax Code, taxes on a property for a particular year are the obligation of the person who owned the property on January 1. That owner may protest the value determined for the property by the appraisal district. House Bill 190 allows a new owner who acquires the property after January 1, even though not liable for taxes until the next year, to continue a pending protest of the previous owner or to file, before the statutory deadline, his own protest.

House Bill 1614 affects property owners who share interest in a mineral property and who have filed timely appraisal protests. It directs the appraisal review board to schedule the common owners together in one protest hearing. If the board's determination results in a valuation adjustment for one interest, that change applies to all other interests in the property in proportion to ownership. An exception is made in the latter case, however, for adjustments involving an interest owned by a public utility or utility cooperative, which is treated individually regardless of protests by other common owners of the same property.

House Bill 1714 provides that a property owner appealing a ruling of the appraisal review board notify the chief appraiser rather than the appraisal review board. The act also requires the chief appraiser, rather than the appraisal review board, to notify the property owner if an appeal of an appraisal review board ruling originates with the chief appraiser or a taxing unit. Finally, the act clarifies that the notice of appeal of a ruling of the State Property Tax Board is filed with that board.

House Bill 2445 allows unsold homes and lots that have never been occupied to qualify as business inventory and hence be appraised using the wholesale valuation standard. The legislation also authorizes the holder of a business inventory to bring action against a chief appraiser to enforce that property's equitable and uniform appraisal by enjoining the chief appraiser from certifying a tax roll containing an improperly appraised inventory.

Senate Bill 308 clarifies that a property owner's right to inspect appraisal records, supporting data, and schedules applies just to his own property.

Senate Bill 751 requires that the written order mailed to a property owner following an appraisal review board hearing must contain a prominently printed statement, in upper-case bold lettering, informing the property owner of his right to appeal the appraisal review board's decision to district court. The statement also must notify the property owner of applicable appeal deadlines.

Special Appraisal

Agricultural land meeting specified conditions is eligible for special "agricultural-use" or "open-space" appraisal based on its productivity for agricultural purposes rather than its market value as affected by other factors. Timberland meeting specified conditions is eligible for similar special "timber-use" appraisal based on productivity. House Bill 1867 changes the calculation procedures for open-space appraisal, deleting the use of owner-operator budget considerations and basing the calculation instead solely on the hypothetical net income that would be derived from the land under a lease arrangement. The measure also makes the qualifications for special productivity appraisal somewhat more interchangeable. Land is now eligible for open-space appraisal if it has been devoted for five of the last seven years principally to agricultural use or to the production of timber or forest products. Land is now eligible for timber-use appraisal if it is devoted principally to the production of timber or forest products or to uses that would qualify it for agricultural-use or open-space appraisal.

HOUSE BILL 1440
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88

This act extends the definition of agricultural use, for purposes of open-space special appraisal, to encompass the commercial raising or keeping of exotic animals. Exotic animals include any species of game not indigenous to Texas. The act also reiterates the notice provisions of Senate Bill 751, summarized elsewhere in this chapter.

Exemptions

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION 12
FOR ELECTION: see below

Senate Joint Resolution 12 proposes a constitutional amendment to be placed on the November 3, 1987, general election ballot, but in two parts. The first part would expand the current property tax exemption for non-income-producing household goods and personal effects by allowing the legislature to exempt all other non-income-producing tangible personal property, except for items used as residences, such as mobile homes. The amendment, however, would authorize a political subdivision by local option to approve the continued taxation of the personal property to which the new exemption would otherwise apply. The legislature did not enact enabling legislation to implement the exemption.

The second part of the amendment, responding to a court decision that overturned part of the Tax Code, would exempt from ad valorem taxes certain goods, merchandise, and ores, exclusive of oil, gas, and petroleum products, temporarily located in the state. The exemption would apply to property passing through Texas and detained in the state for up to 175 days for assembly, storage, manufacturing, processing, or fabrication purposes. Again, a city, county, or school district by local option could choose instead to tax such items either at their full value or at some percentage of that value. If a political subdivision did so opt, however, its percentage would serve as a ceiling for future taxation of the property. Regardless, action to tax the property would have to be taken prior to April 1, 1988. Taxation approved before January 1, 1988, would be effective beginning with the 1988 tax year, whereas action taken on or after that date but before the April 1, 1988, deadline would be effective beginning with the 1989 tax year. A political subdivision opting to tax the property would reserve the right to rescind its decision and instead exempt the property. Also, should this portion of the constitutional amendment be approved, a political subdivision could choose to apply the exemption to the 1987 tax year.

FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87

The Texas Constitution authorizes for purposes of school district taxation, beyond certain other homestead exemptions, an exemption of $10,000 from the assessed value of a residence of an elderly person, defined as one age 65 or older. Moreover, school district taxes for the elderly person's homestead are frozen at no more than the amount applicable the first year the $10,000 exemption takes effect—discounting later property improvements which, by enhancing the property's value, can trigger a tax increase. The current constitutional provision continues this tax freeze if ownership of the homestead passes to a surviving spouse who is of requisite age to receive the exemption. House Joint Resolution 48 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that the surviving spouse need be only 55 or older, not 65 or older, for the freeze to continue in effect. The amendment would authorize the legislature, however, to make exceptions by general law.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 96
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from property taxation idled offshore oil and gas drilling equipment that is stored along the Gulf of Mexico or adjacent waters.

The exemption would be implemented by House Bill 2082, contingent on voter approval of House Joint Resolution 96.
HOUSE BILL 2082

HOUSE AUTHOR: Stiles
SENATE SPONSOR: Parker

House Bill 2082 exempts from property taxation idled offshore oil and gas drilling equipment that is stored along the Gulf of Mexico or adjacent waters for purposes other than repair or maintenance. The exemption takes effect January 1, 1988, contingent on voter approval of the state constitutional amendment proposed by House Joint Resolution 96.

HOUSE BILL 485

HOUSE AUTHOR: Collazo
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

Current law provides for the property taxation of the intangible value of certain transportation businesses. House Bill 485 exempts from property taxes the intangible value of motor bus and other common or contract motor carriers. It also exempts those carriers from gross receipts taxes, to which they would otherwise be subject once property taxation on their intangible value was removed. The change does not affect appraisal adjustments or property taxes for 1986 or previous years.

HOUSE BILL 954

HOUSE AUTHOR: Shea
SENATE SPONSOR: Leedom

House Bill 954 deletes a requirement that the owner of property used exclusively for purposes of a noncommercial cemetery reapply annually for a tax exemption on the property. The owner still must reapply if required by the chief appraiser to confirm qualification for the exemption. Also, a new owner of such property must reapply. Otherwise, affected owners who apply in 1987 need not do so in 1988 or subsequent years.

HOUSE BILL 1745

HOUSE AUTHOR: Earley
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

House Bill 1745 repeals a requirement that an appraisal district maintain a listing of state-owned property within the district that is exempt from property taxation.

HOUSE BILL 2213

HOUSE AUTHOR: Schlueuter
SENATE SPONSOR: Jones

House Bill 2213 allows the late qualification for a property tax exemption as a religious organization of an applicant organization that by January 1 has met all other qualifications except the adoption of certain specified charter or bylaw provisions. The organization may reapply and receive the exemption if it satisfies those requirements and reapply by June 1 or by the 30th day after its original application was denied, whichever is later. Similarly, a religious organization whose previous exemption has been canceled solely for want of the proper charter or bylaws can reapply for and renew the exemption if it satisfies the requirements and reapply by the 30th day after the cancellation. Whenever a religious organization is due a refund because a denied exemption is later granted on appeal, it is entitled to 10 percent interest on the refund payable by the taxing unit.

The above portions of House Bill 2213 take effect January 1, 1988, as do provisions extending an exemption to nonprofit scientific research corporations serving one or more colleges and universities. Other provisions, which take effect August 31, 1987, extend the exemption for religious organizations to cover a partially built church and the property on which it is located. Such church and property must be completed within two tax years, however, or further exemption for future tax years is forfeited until such time as construction is finished.

SENATE BILL 21

SENATE AUTHOR: Sarpalious
HOUSE SPONSOR: Smithee

Senate Bill 21 entitles stockholders in cooperative housing to the same tax exemptions as other residential homestead owners, provided certain conditions are met. The cooperative corporation, having decided in accordance with its bylaws to seek exemption, must request separate appraisal of its stockholders' interests—a request that must be made of the appraisal district before March 1. A stockholder, to receive the exemption, is required further to occupy a dwelling place within the cooperative housing as a principal residence. The value subject to exemption extends also to a portion of the property's common area, based on the percentage of the corporation's stock held by the homestead claimant, but the combined area to which the exemption applies is limited to a maximum 20 acres. The cooperative corporation may not rescind its request for separate appraisal.
once made, and that request is binding on future owners and stockholders. The request need not be renewed in subsequent years, although the corporation may be required by the chief appraiser to furnish a list of stockholders at least annually. The cooperative housing corporation remains liable for payment of all taxes, penalties, and interest imposed on its property, and any tax lien attaches to the entirety of its property.

SENATE BILL 367
EFFECTIVE: 5-26-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Parker
HOUSE SPONSOR: Berlanga

Senate Bill 367 modifies the statutory definition of personal effects, for property tax purposes, to confer a conditional exemption from property taxation for pleasure boats not held or used for the production of income. A taxing unit of local government may lift the exemption, however, making it inapplicable for that particular unit. In that event, the legislation directs the appraisal district to determine appraisal costs for all boats taxed within the district and to allocate costs to the taxing unit or units that have chosen to tax boats.

SENATE BILL 982
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88
SENATE AUTHOR: Montford
HOUSE SPONSOR: Stiles

Senate Bill 982 exempts from property taxation land that has been dedicated by a recorded easement as a disposal site for dredge material from the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway. The exemption, once allowed, need not be renewed in subsequent years. It terminates, however, if the land ceases to be dedicated and used for that purpose.

SENATE BILL 1066
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88
SENATE AUTHOR: Krier
HOUSE SPONSOR: Morales

Senate Bill 1066 recategorizes the exempt status of property owned by a nonprofit biomedical or scientific corporation engaged in research or educational activities. Instead of a miscellaneous exemption, a nonprofit corporation of that type now receives exemption as a charitable organization.

Property Redevelopment and Tax Abatement Act

SENATE BILL 1225
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Henderson
HOUSE SPONSOR: A. Luna

The Property Redevelopment and Tax Abatement Act, as amended since its 1981 enactment, authorizes a city to designate a reinvestment zone within its city limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction (ETJ), within which it may contract with certain property owners to grant a partial or total abatement of taxes for up to 15 years. In return, the property owner agrees to make specified improvements. A county likewise can establish a reinvestment zone and grant tax abatements for areas of the county outside city taxing jurisdictions.

Taxing units other than the one granting the abatement may or may not be affected by the terms of that abatement agreement. Generally, each other taxing unit has two options: (1) to likewise grant an abatement, in which case it must be identical; or (2) to not grant an abatement, in which case the taxing unit’s taxation of the property is nevertheless restricted, for a period equal to twice that of the abatement agreement, to the property’s value for the year preceding the agreement. An exception to those two options applies to taxing units having territory within a city-designated reinvestment zone, outside city limits but within the city’s ETJ. In such case, the other taxing unit has four options: (1) to grant an abatement identical to that, if any, granted by the city; (2) to grant an abatement with terms different than those of the city; (3) to grant an abatement independently, even if the city has not; or (4) to not grant an abatement at all, in which case the property is taxed at its full value.

Senate Bill 1225 changes this scheme, though without affecting any previous reinvestment zone designations or tax abatement agreements.

First, abatements in the future may apply only to increases in the property’s value over the value the year the agreement was reached.

Second, city or county abatement terms apply automatically to special districts sharing jurisdiction over the property, without option to forego an abatement and without the necessity to reach an identical agreement, unless the property lies in a city-designated reinvestment zone within the city’s ETJ, in which case the city’s abatement has no effect on the special district.

Third, a county exercises original abatement powers, outside the taxing jurisdictions of cities, as before.
Fourth, a county or school district sharing jurisdiction over property in a city-designated reinvestment zone inside city limits has two options: (1) to grant an identical abatement; or (2) to not grant an abatement, in which case the property is taxed at its full value. Similarly, a school district sharing jurisdiction over property in a county-designated zone has the same option.

Fifth, a county or school district sharing jurisdiction over property in a city-designated reinvestment zone within the city's ETJ has the same four options as before: (1) to grant an identical abatement; (2) to grant a different abatement; (3) to grant an abatement independently, even if the city has not; or (4) to not grant an abatement at all, in which case the property is taxed at its full value. If a county or school district does grant an abatement within the ETJ, the terms of that abatement (rather than the terms of the city's abatement, as before) apply automatically to all special districts sharing property affected by the abatement; and if the county and school district both grant abatements, but different abatements, within the ETJ, the abatement agreement adopted first chronologically has precedence, and its terms apply automatically to the special district until the agreement expires, after which the terms of any subsequent unexpired agreement then take effect.

Sixth, a city or county before designating a reinvestment zone, and a city, county, or school district before granting an abatement, must first adopt a resolution deciding to participate in tax abatement, plus guidelines and criteria governing abatement agreements generally. Guidelines and criteria, if and when adopted, are effective for two years and may not be repealed or amended without a three-fourths vote of the city's, county's, or school district's governing body.

SENATE BILL 61
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Krier
HOUSE SPONSOR: Madla

This act requires a city or county contemplating creation of a reinvestment zone, or the granting of a tax abatement agreement on a property within a reinvestment zone, to give written mailed notice, at least seven days in advance, to other taxing units in which the property is located. Failure to give notice of an abatement agreement invalidates the agreement for a taxing unit otherwise subject to it, unless that taxing unit by official action waives the right to receive notice.

School Value Studies

The State Property Tax Board, examining a sample of properties within each school district, conducts annual independent studies to estimate school districts' respective taxable values. Those studies are then used to equalize state educational funding among the districts. School districts may protest or appeal the board's findings in a manner similar to a taxpayer protest or appeal of the appraised value of his property.

HOUSE BILL 1650
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Polumbo
SENATE SPONSOR: Brooks

House Bill 1650 provides that if a court appeal of a tax protest reduces the school district's total taxable value by more than five percent, the state commissioner of education shall request the State Property Tax Board to adjust the board's value estimate for the school district accordingly. If, given that adjustment, the school district would have received a greater amount of monetary aid from the state's foundation school fund, then the difference is to be paid the school district in the next disbursement the district receives from that fund. The adjustment does not affect other school districts, nor does it affect the next year's calculation of the school district's effective tax rate.

SENATE BILL 311
EFFECTIVE: 5-12-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Schlueter

Beginning with the effective date of this act, judicial appeals by a school district of the State Property Tax Board's value estimates for the school district are to be filed with a district court in Travis County rather than a local district court. Appeals filed with local courts through the remainder of 1987 are still valid, although either party within 60 days of that filing may request to have the appeal transferred to Travis County, in which case the court shall honor the request. Appeals pending as of the effective date may also be transferred on a motion of either party, although in this case the decision as to a transfer is left to the discretion of the local court.
Collections and Delinquencies

HOUSE BILL 1051
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87

Current state law gives taxing units the option to refrain from sending out a property tax bill until the total amount of taxes owed the unit on a property is at least $5. House Bill 1051 increases that threshold, allowing taxing units the option to refrain from sending out the bill until the total amount owed is at least $25.

HOUSE BILL 1716
EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88

Some taxing units may have their taxes collected by their appraisal district or by another taxing unit by virtue of their individual enabling statutes or elections to transfer collecting responsibilities. House Bill 1716 requires in such circumstances that the collecting entity deposit taxes in the taxing unit’s account on a daily basis unless the taxing unit, by official action of its governing body, authorizes deposits to be made less frequently.

HOUSE BILL 2151
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

The Tax Code requires property owners who are protesting or appealing a valuation to pay taxes by the February 1 delinquency date, even if the protest or appeal has not been decided at that time. The taxpayer, in such case, pays the tax due on the portion of the property value that is not in dispute, or alternatively the amount of taxes paid on the property in the preceding year, whichever is greater; otherwise, he forfeits the right to protest or appeal. House Bill 2151 requires the tax collector, rather than waiting until a final determination or the delinquency date, to accept a conditional tax payment, issue a receipt, and make appropriate refunds, if any, at such time as the protest or appeal is ended or decided.

SENATE BILL 83
EFFECTIVE: 5-6-87

This act requires a taxing unit, on request of a property owner or a property owner’s agent, to issue a receipt showing the amount of property taxes imposed on a property for one or more tax years and the amount of taxes paid on the property. A receipt issued under the act and showing that a tax has been paid constitutes prima facie evidence of payment in any delinquent tax suit or other judicial proceeding.

SENATE BILL 266
EFFECTIVE: 5-6-87

In Texas, the statutes did not permit a taxpayer defending against a suit for collection of delinquent property taxes to raise any issue that the taxpayer failed to raise as part of a protest before the local appraisal review board. Senate Bill 266 changes that policy, specifically allowing two affirmative defenses: (1) that the taxpayer did not own the property on January 1, if the suit seeks a personal judgment; or (2) for real property, that the property was not within the boundaries of the taxing unit on January 1, if the suit seeks foreclosure of a tax lien on the property.

SENATE BILL 267
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Current law makes available from the collector for a taxing unit, for a fee of up to $4, a certificate showing the amount of delinquent taxes, penalties, and interest due on a property. This act increases the fee to a maximum of $10 and requires that taxes, penalties, and interest due to different taxing units having a single collector be itemized separately on the same certificate.

SENATE BILL 379
EFFECTIVE: 5-20-87

A tax collector for one taxing unit who collects taxes for another taxing unit may be required by the latter to execute a performance bond. Senate Bill 379 permits the taxing unit receiving outside collection services to extend that requirement to anyone else who might be designated to collect its taxes, including an appraisal district.
SENATE BILL 506
SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE SPONSOR: Russell
A property tax refund may arise from an erroneous or excessive payment, a tax roll correction, a successful appeal by the property tax owner of a property's appraised value, a deduction resulting from late application for a homestead exemption, or a successful tax rollback election in which voters overturn a proposed property tax rate increase for their local governmental unit. In these instances, Senate Bill 506 provides that no interest on the refunded amount is due to the taxpayer if the refund is made within 60 days. For a refund delayed beyond 60 days, however, interest accrues at a rate of one percent per month or partial month, except for refunds of less than $5. The new interest provisions apply only to refunds the liability for which arises on or after the legislation's effective date.

Under this act, beginning January 1, 1988, the city will pay the contributions previously required of members of the retirement system and will reduce members’ gross salaries by the amount of contributions assumed by the city. The lower gross salary will be used to compute deductions for federal income tax and social security, resulting in increased take-home pay for employees and a reduction in social security contributions for the city. Implementation is dependent on federal approval of the retirement system as a tax-qualified plan.

HOUSE BILL 351
EFFECTIVE: 5-6-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Patronella
SENATE SPONSOR: Green

In 1985 the legislature passed a law including municipal law enforcement officers such as park and airport police in the coverage of state civil service laws applicable to police departments. As a result, the city of Houston transferred jurisdiction of its park and airport police to the police department. Under then-existing state laws governing the separate retirement systems for the Houston police department and municipal employees generally, the transferred officers were required to terminate participation in the general municipal system and begin participation, without credit for prior service, in the retirement system for the police department. House Bill 351 redresses that inequity by permitting members of the retirement system for Houston municipal employees generally who are transferred to positions covered by the retirement system for the police department to opt to remain in the general municipal system. The act provides this option to persons previously transferred and provides administrative details for the transfer of service records and contributions and the making of refunds.
HOUSE BILL 570
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 570 makes several changes, primarily relating to benefits in the retirement system covering Houston police officers. The most significant changes alter the computation of benefits for members of two of the system's membership tiers to a formula based on two percent of salary for each year of service, rather than the previous rate of 30 percent for all qualifying retirees, reduce the normal retirement age for one tier of members from 55 to 50, broaden eligibility for survivor benefits, and provide minimum and maximum annual cost-of-living adjustments in annuities.

HOUSE BILL 2109
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 2109 relates to legislative leave for fire fighters and police officers in certain cities with a population of 1,500,000 or more (Houston). STATE TAXES AND TAX ADMINISTRATION

Tax legislation of the 70th Legislature was overshadowed by House Bill 61, the Omnibus Tax Bill, passed during the 2nd Called Session. The act raises the sales tax rate, broadens the tax base, and revises numerous exemptions. House Bill 61 also raised several other tax rates and imposed some new taxes. In addition, House Bill 62 maintains the motor fuels tax rate as part of the same tax package.

The general administration of the tax system was addressed by Senate Bill 28 (2nd Called Session), which enhances the tax enforcement and collection measures of the state. Other measures affecting the sales and use tax include Senate Bill 58 (2nd Called Session), which prohibits local taxing authorities from imposing a combined local tax rate in excess of two percent. With respect to state taxes other than the sales and use tax, House Bill 1587 establishes the cigarette tax recovery trust fund to secure payment of cigarette taxes by distributors, and Senate Bill 938 changes the local allocation of franchise taxes paid by banks.

Revenue Legislation

HOUSE BILL 61 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: see below

HOUSE AUTHOR: Morales
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

ARTICLE 1. SALES TAX

House Bill 61 prevents the scheduled reduction in the state sales and use tax rate from taking effect September 1, 1987. Effective October 1, 1987, the sales and use tax rate is increased from its current 5.25 percent to six percent. Various provisions of the Tax Code are amended and brought into conformity with the new tax rate.

Certain items that are sold under a bid or contract made on or before the effective date of the act are exempted from the sales tax rate increase. The exemption expires July 1, 1990.

A number of changes are made to the sales and use tax provisions of the Tax Code that affect the kinds of items subject to the tax and how the tax is administered. The following services are made taxable: (1) membership in a private club that provides recreational, dining, entertainment, or certain other facilities to its members; (2) credit reporting; (3) data processing; (4) debt collection; (5) selling news and current information; (6) insurance adjustment, appraisal, and related insurance support services; (7) remodeling and repair of improvements to real property, other than owner-occupied residences; (8) landscaping and lawn and ornamental plant care; (9) garbage collection; (10) exterminating; (11) janitorial and cleaning services; (12) land surveying; and (13) security services.

Specific exemptions are provided for oil well repair services taxed under other law, certain minors performing yard work, services performed by corporations for affiliated corporations, and items provided by certain joint research and development ventures to participating entities.

Certain changes are made in the definitions of “use,” “sale,” and “sales price,” primarily to clarify how those terms apply to taxable services. These changes also provide that a sales price may not include a deduction for transportation charges. The changes also remove the provisions excluding from the sales price of a taxable item the amount of any federal excise taxes paid on the item. Certain technical changes are also made to the statutory provisions governing exemption certificates, resale certificates, and the taxation of materials used or consumed in performing taxable repair services.

The act expands the circumstances in which a retailer is considered to be engaged in business in this state. This change is intended to require certain retailers located out of the state but having substantial contacts in this state to collect and remit Texas sales taxes on sales made to Texas purchasers.

Changes are made in the rules governing interstate transactions, eliminating certain sales and use tax exemptions for common carriers and providing rules governing services used in whole or part out of the state.

The language excluding custom computer software from taxation is eliminated. The exemptions for most interstate long-distance telephone service and for local telephone service are eliminated. The exemption for amusement services provided by a public or nonprofit entity is restricted to cover only amusement services provided exclusively by an exempt entity. Exemptions for food and drinks sold by common carriers and for certain food and drinks sold by restaurants are eliminated, as is the exemption for electricity sold to restaurants for food preparation. An exemption for ice used on commercial fishing boats is added. A provision is added to apply the sales tax to 50 percent of the gross receipts from food, other than soft drinks and candy, sold through vending machines.

A provision granting sales tax credits to manufacturing, repair, and related businesses for purchases of certain capital equipment is added, to take effect beginning in 1991. The amount of the credit begins at 20 percent of the taxes paid for capital equipment in 1991, and increases each year by 20 percent, reaching 100 percent in 1995 and afterwards.

The amount that a retailer may deduct from a timely payment of sales taxes to the comptroller is reduced from one percent of the taxes paid to one-half of one percent of those taxes.

The act provides that city, county, and transit authority sales taxes do not apply to interstate long-distance telephone service.

Sales tax exemptions for the following items are repealed: (1) sales of tangible personal property and telephone service through coin-operated machines; (2) solar energy devices; (3) film and related material used by radio and television stations; (4) original master tapes of audio or audiovisual works; (5) motion picture lease or rental to a theater or television station; (6) Lone Star Medallions; and (7) sales of coins and precious metals over $10,000.

The provisions governing sales and use taxes take effect October 1, 1987, except that data processing service and repair and remodeling of real property become taxable services beginning January 1, 1988. Newly taxed services and other items are exempt until January 1, 1990, if sold under a contract or bid made on or before July 21, 1987.

Effective September 1, 1987, a $25 annual fee is imposed for the sales permit that a retail seller who must collect the state sales and use tax is required to hold. The fee is to be paid on or before each anniversary of the date the original permit was issued.

ARTICLE 2. FRANCHISE TAX

The rate of the franchise tax is increased from $5.25 to $6.70 for each $1,000 of taxable capital, and the minimum franchise tax is increased from $68 to $150.

The act also provides that the additional tax revenue collected from banking corporations goes to the general revenue fund, rather than to local governments as does the tax revenue generated from the existing tax rate. The amount distributed to local governments under current law is not changed.

These provisions take effect January 1, 1988. However, the act lowers the franchise tax rate and minimum tax back to their 1987 levels, effective January 1, 1990.

ARTICLE 3. TELEPHONE COMPANY TAX

Since local phone service is made subject to sales tax under the act, the gross receipts tax on certain local telephone companies is repealed. The repeal is effective October 1, 1988, a year after the sales tax on local phone service begins.

Certain restrictions against local franchise taxes on telephone companies are retained.

ARTICLE 4. CIGARETTES AND TOBACCO

The cigarette tax is increased from 20.5 cents to 26 cents per pack, and the tax on other tobacco products, except cigars, is increased from 25 percent to 28.125 percent of the list price, effective October 1, 1987.

ARTICLE 5. HOTEL TAX

The state hotel occupancy tax is increased from four percent to six percent of the price paid for a room. The act also dedicates the revenue generated from the hotel tax at a rate of one-half of one percent to advertising and marketing activity conducted by the Texas Department of Commerce.

Provisions regarding hotel tax are effective September 1, 1987.

ARTICLE 6. MOTOR VEHICLE SALES TAXES

The sales, use, and rental taxes on motor vehicles are increased from five percent of the price to six percent of the price, and a proportional increase in the tax is imposed on interstate motor vehicles, trailers, and semitrailers.

The increase in the motor vehicle sales and use taxes takes effect September 1, 1987. The increase in the motor vehicle rental and the interstate motor carrier taxes takes effect October 1, 1987, since these taxes are reported quarterly.
ARTICLE 7. TEMPORARY INSURANCE SURTAXES

Temporary surtaxes are imposed on various regulated and unregulated insurers in an amount equal to 20 percent of the rate already imposed on the gross premiums of those insurers. The surtaxes are imposed on certain transactions of unauthorized insurers, independently procured and surplus lines insurance, and most property and casualty insurers, life, health, and accident insurers, and title insurance companies.

The surtaxes on independently procured and surplus lines insurance take effect September 1, 1987, and expire September 1, 1989. The other surtaxes on insurance carriers take effect December 31, 1987, and expire January 1, 1989, so that carriers subject to those surtaxes will pay an additional 20 percent tax for 1987, with the payment due by March 1, 1988, and will pay an additional 20 percent tax for 1988, payable in quarterly installments during 1988 in the same manner as the permanent gross premiums taxes.

ARTICLE 8. TAX ON INSURANCE ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES

A tax is imposed on the gross amount of fees received by an insurance carrier or other person from services performed for other entities to administer certain self-insurance plans. These services are not currently subject to the gross premiums taxes. In providing these administrative services, a carrier does not act as an insurer but rather provides management and other expertise to an entity that is insuring itself.

The tax applies only to life, health and accident, health maintenance, and workers' compensation plans for which administrative services are provided. The State Board of Insurance will administer and collect the tax. Local mutual aid associations and fraternal benefit societies are exempt from the tax.

The tax is imposed on administrative service fees received after the effective date of the tax, September 1, 1987. The administrative provisions of Article 8 are effective immediately.

ARTICLE 9. TEMPORARY OCCUPATION TAX ON CERTAIN PROFESSIONS

An occupation tax of $110 a year is imposed on the following professions and occupations: (1) physicians; (2) dentists; (3) optometrists; (4) chiropractors; (5) psychologists; (6) certified public accountants; (7) architects; (8) registered engineers; (9) real estate brokers; (10) securities dealers, agents, officers, and salesmen; (11) veterinarians; and (12) attorneys.

For each of the listed groups other than attorneys, the tax is added to the annual fee for the issuance or renewal of a license or, in some cases, to the applicable examination fee, and is collected by the state agency that issues the license or administers the examination when the license is issued or renewed or when the examination is given. For attorneys, the tax is to be collected by the comptroller before June 1 of 1988 and 1989.

The occupation taxes are all two-year temporary taxes. They take effect September 1, 1987, except that the tax on attorneys takes effect January 1, 1988.

ARTICLE 10. PROTEST PAYMENTS

The act provides that all protest payments of the taxes increased or imposed by House Bill 61 made during the 1988-1989 biennium are to be deposited in the general revenue fund, making the tax revenue available for other use while protests and appeals of the tax payments are pending. Without this provision, those tax payments would be deposited in a suspense account pending the resolution of any challenges. This provision is effective immediately.

ARTICLE 11

The act provides that if the voters approve the creation of the economic stabilization fund ("rainy day fund") proposed by House Joint Resolution 2, Acts of the 70th Legislature, Regular Session, 1987, and if the total revenues from House Bill 61 exceed expenditures during the 1988-1989 biennium, the excess amount remaining from House Bill 61 on September 1, 1989, is to be placed in the economic stabilization fund. This provision will be effective only if the constitutional amendment to create the economic stabilization fund is approved by the voters at the November 1988 general election.

House Bill 61 appropriates $11,606,451 to the comptroller to administer the act.

HOUSE BILL 62 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Stiles
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

House Bill 62 repeals legislation that would have lowered the motor fuels tax rates to 10 cents per gallon effective September 1, 1987, and maintains those tax rates at the current 15 cents per gallon. The tax rate on fuel sold to transit companies for exclusive use in transit carrier vehicles remains at 14 cents per gallon for gasoline and 14.5 cents per gallon for diesel fuel.

235

The schedule of taxes imposed on propane powered vehicles is revised in accordance with the tax rate extension.

The comptroller is authorized to refund bonds and other security for taxes paid by motor fuel distributors where certain conditions are met and the revenues of the state would not be jeopardized by the refund. An irrevocable letter of credit is approved as security for tax payment in lieu of filing a surety bond. The comptroller is required to notify the issuer of a letter of credit in the event that the distributor for whom the letter is given as surety becomes delinquent and a judgment is rendered as to the distributor’s liability. The letter of credit is required to contain a statement that the issuer agrees to respond with amounts sufficient to satisfy the comptroller’s claim against the distributor.

The act also provides that if a first purchaser of natural gas takes delivery of the gas off the premises of the producer, the producer is required to pay the severance tax on the gas and to supply any additional information required by the comptroller. Unless the first purchaser purchases the gas for resale, he is not liable for the tax imposed on the producer.

HOUSE BILL 63 (2nd C.S.)

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Schlueer

SENATE BILL 28 (2nd C.S.)

EFFECTIVE: 7-21-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Glasgow

HOUSE SPONSOR: Berlanga

Senate Bill 28 facilitates the enforcement and collection of state taxes. The act provides that a person holding tax revenue collected from another holds the money in trust for the state.

The comptroller is authorized to seize and sell at auction the real and personal property of taxpayers whose taxes have been delinquent not more than three years. Notice to the taxpayer is required and the content of the notice is specified. Provision is made for the disposition of proceeds in excess of the amount owed.

If a delinquent taxpayer sells a business, the purchaser of the business is required to withhold the amount of delinquent tax from the purchase price until the seller can document that the taxes have been paid. If the purchaser fails to withhold the required amount, the purchaser becomes liable for the amount up to the value of the price of purchase. The purchaser may request clarification by the comptroller of the amount, if any, that is due on a business and is relieved from liability if the comptroller does not reply within 60 days.

The comptroller is authorized to freeze the assets of a delinquent taxpayer that are held by third parties and to place a levy on them up to the value of the assets held. Provision is made for notice to third parties, and a procedure is outlined for transfer of the delinquent’s assets to the comptroller.

The comptroller is authorized to require a tax to be paid immediately on a determination that any delay might jeopardize the collection of the tax, regardless of the regular due date for the tax. Provision is made for redetermination of the amount in question on petition by the taxpayer and for a penalty in the event of nonpayment.

The state tax lien is extended to include personal and real property owned on the date the lien is filed as well as property acquired after the filing.

The automatic extension of a deadline for the payment of a state inheritance tax is eliminated, even if the Internal Revenue Service extends the deadline for the comparable federal tax payment. The state tax deadline may be extended upon a showing of good cause.

The comptroller is authorized to order that gas or oil production from a lease be halted if the owner or operator has failed to pay the required taxes.

Methods are specified for reporting corporate dividends and oil and gas exploration and production activities.

The act also provides an exemption from franchise taxes for certain nonprofit corporations that are exempt from federal income tax and are organized to hold property for other exempt nonprofit corporations.

HOUSE BILL 133
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Melton
SENATE SPONSOR: Glasgow

For the purpose of determining the proper local sales and use tax, House Bill 133 defines the point of sale of cable television services as the point of delivery to the consumer rather than where the cable signal originates. Numerous statutes are amended and brought into conformity with this provision, including the Local Sales and Use Tax Act, the County Sales and Use Tax Act, and statutes governing metropolitan rapid transit authorities, regional transit authorities, and city mass transit departments.

SENATE BILL 299
EFFECTIVE: 4-2-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Farabbee
HOUSE SPONSOR: Stiles

Senate Bill 299 amends the local and county sales and use tax acts. The bill states how the ballot proposition must be worded if an election to impose an additional local sales tax is held in a city that does not impose a property tax. Senate Bill 299 also deletes a requirement that the governing body of a city call an election on the question of the abolition of the additional tax within 10 years of the preceding election on the adoption or abolition of the tax. Another new section provides that the receipts from the sale or use of taxable items in the state are exempt from the additional tax imposed by a city or county if the items are used for the performance of a written contract entered into prior to the date the additional tax takes effect or if the contract is not subject to modification by reason of the tax; a three-year deadline is set on such exemptions. Under Senate Bill 299, an excise tax is imposed in cities where the local sales and use tax has been adopted. During each of the first three years in which the additional tax is imposed, revenue collected in excess of the amount of taxes calculated for a city is to be deposited in the excess sales tax revenue fund, which may be spent only if other revenues are collected in smaller amounts than anticipated; thereafter, excess revenue is to be deposited in a city sales tax debt service fund, which may be spent for the reduction of the city's lawful debts. A similar formula is provided for counties, and guidelines are provided by which both city and county officials are to calculate the anticipated revenues mentioned above. The act adds a requirement that interest earned on all deposits made to the state treasurer be credited to the general revenue fund. Provision is made for setting and adjusting the rate of a local sales tax, and the taxing entity is required to indicate on the tax bill the amount of ad valorem taxes that would have been imposed in lieu of the sales tax.

SENATE BILL 1292
EFFECTIVE: see below
SENATE AUTHOR: Barrientos
HOUSE SPONSOR: L. Evans

Senate Bill 1292 exempts all items that can be lawfully purchased with food stamps from state sales tax. The act makes conforming amendments to reporting provisions under which grocers calculate their tax payments. The act also provides that the exemption expires if the comptroller determines that the exemption is not required for the state to participate in the federal food stamp program. The act takes effect October 1, 1987, unless the comptroller finds during the month of September that the exemption is not required for the state to participate in the federal food stamp program.

SENATE BILL 1460
SENATE AUTHOR: Brooks
HOUSE SPONSOR: Barton

Certain food items sold to a patient by a retirement facility licensed by the state are not taxed under the sales tax. Senate Bill 1460 extends the exemption to foods sold to a permanent resident of a retirement facility not licensed by the state.

SENATE BILL 58 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 10-20-87
SENATE AUTHOR: Jones
HOUSE SPONSOR: Schlueter

Senate Bill 58 prohibits a municipality, county, transit authority, or transit department from adopting a sales and use tax or an additional sales and use tax that would result in a combined local tax rate in excess of two percent.

Priorities are established in the event that more than one local tax is approved by voters at the same time and the combined total is greater than two percent. A municipal sales tax takes precedence over a county sales tax, and municipal and county taxes take precedence over sales taxes adopted by a transit authority or transit department.

Other State Taxes

HOUSE BILL 1043
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Criss
SENATE SPONSOR: Harris

House Bill 1043 amends the Bingo Enabling Act to allow a National Historical District Association that meets certain conditions to be considered a “fraternal organization” that may conduct bingo games under the act.

A state gross receipts tax of two percent is imposed on bingo games, and the revenues are to be paid quarterly and deposited in the general revenue fund. A maximum prize amount awarded on any one occasion for games of instant bingo is established. Restrictions are imposed on the advertising of bingo occasions, and other prizes, such as door prizes, awarded in addition to amounts won in individual games are prohibited.

HOUSE BILL 1587
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: A. Luna
SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

Under current law, cigarette distributors must affix a tax stamp to each cigarette package in order to demonstrate that a tax has been paid. The distributor can obtain the stamps either by paying for them in advance or by filing a security deposit, and a discount is allowed to the distributor for collecting the tax.

House Bill 1587 establishes the cigarette tax recovery trust fund as a fund outside the state treasury to secure the payment of cigarette taxes by distributors. Payment is made by distributors from the amount of the discount allowed on purchases until a certain percentage of the total monthly amount of stamps purchased by the distributor is accrued in the fund. Provision is made for the refund of contributions in excess of the required percentage. The distributor must post a letter of credit to secure the required amount until the amount has actually accrued.

The state treasurer is authorized to take various measures to protect the treasury from loss due to nonpayment of the tax. If a distributor fails to pay the tax when due, the treasurer may transfer the amount due from the trust fund to the general revenue fund, whether or not the delinquent distributor has contributed enough to the trust fund to cover the tax liability. If it is necessary to withdraw funds paid in by other distributors, then they have a claim against the delinquent distributor. All distributors involved may be required to pay in additional amounts to return the fund to its required minimum.

Further provision is made for indemnification of the fund by the distributors, return of deposited funds, and adoption of rules by the treasurer to implement the act.

HOUSE BILL 1718
HOUSE AUTHOREFFECTIVE: Wolens 5-1-88

House Bill 1718 exempts certain corporations from the franchise tax if they conduct business in Texas on a temporary basis only, and for the sole purpose of soliciting orders at certain trade shows. SENATE BILL 938
SENATE AUTHOR: Krier

Senate Bill 938 revises the allocation of franchise tax paid by a bank among the local taxing units in which the bank is located to include both the principal office and qualified branch offices of the bank. The act specifies that the allocation shall be made among the various offices in proportion to the preceding year’s tax allocation to each office, and allows taxing units to petition for a review of the comptroller’s report that identifies the bank offices located within the taxing unit and the amount of franchise tax that has been allocated. A “qualified branch facility” is defined to include only branches that once were independent banks receiving a tax allocation. As a result, a newly established branch office will not be allocated a portion of the bank’s tax.

Additional information pertaining to a banking corporation’s branch facilities must be submitted when filing its annual report or its initial report.

SENATE BILL 1037
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

HOUSE BILL 2584
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 2584 clarifies the intent of Senate Bill 895. It states that the repeal by that act of the law relating to a court, agency, or any other entity does not affect the existence of the court, agency, or entity. It is continued in existence as added to the Government Code by Senate Bill 895.
TRANSPORTATION AND HIGHWAYS

The transportation measures passed during the Regular Session and the 2nd Called Session of the 70th Legislature affect many areas of state law. Three important bills concern the Texas Turnpike Authority. House Bill 1364 and House Joint Resolution 65 provide for joint turnpike projects to improve the state's highway system, while House Bill 1678 relates to a study of the feasibility of creating high-speed rail facilities between several major Texas cities. Additional measures affecting public transportation include: (1) House Bill 943, which provides for many changes to state law pertaining to specific transit authorities; (2) House Bill 2400, which relates to a study of the creation of light rail rapid transit systems; and (3) House Bill 2008, which addresses the need for the development of regional economic development facilities and coordinated mass public transportation.

With regard to the many bills passed concerning the operation of motor vehicles, several changes were enacted concerning the offenses of driving while intoxicated and failure to maintain mandatory insurance coverage. The open container law, Senate Bill 521, is also summarized in this chapter.

Texas Turnpike Authority

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION 65
FOR ELECTION: 11-3-87
HOUSE AUTHOR:  Cain
SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

House Joint Resolution 65 relates to House Bill 1364 with respect to joint highway projects between the Texas Turnpike Authority, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, and local governments. The resolution proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to allow the department and authority, after entering into such agreements, to use any source of money made available from the state or department as a contribution to the costs of turnpikes, toll roads, or toll bridges.

House Joint Resolution 65 further authorizes special elections in certain counties, their adjacent counties, or political subdivisions within those counties for the purpose of approving an ad valorem property tax to pay all or part of the principal of and interest on bonds issued by the Texas Turnpike Authority for joint highway projects in these areas, if the authority is not able to make the payments when due.

HOUSE BILL 1364
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR:  Cain
SENATE SPONSOR: Montford

To encourage the Texas Turnpike Authority to improve, construct, and maintain needed state highway facilities, House Bill 1364 provides for joint agreements between the authority, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, and local governments. Such agreements would allow these entities to share the costs of turnpike projects, which would be funded primarily through the issuance of bonds.

The bill states that turnpike projects would be owned and operated by the Texas Turnpike Authority, and that when turnpikes, toll roads, and toll bridges are no longer toll facilities they will become part of the state highway system.

Under provisions of House Bill 1364, funding for turnpike projects may be derived from bonds issued by the Texas Turnpike Authority, from money made available to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, and from federal funds. Also, following provisions of the Texas Constitution, the act authorizes counties, cities, and towns that enter into agreements with the authority to hold bond elections for this purpose.

HOUSE BILL 1678
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87
HOUSE AUTHOR:  C. Evans
SENATE SPONSOR: Whitmire

House Bill 1678 directs the Texas Turnpike Authority to study the feasibility of establishing high-speed rail facilities among and between the cities of Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, and San Antonio and report its findings to the governor, the lieutenant governor, and the speaker of the house before the 71st Legislature meets. The act provides for the funding of the study and authorizes the authority to take options on right-of-way, so long as no funds of the authority are used for this purpose.
Public Transportation

HOUSE BILL 791
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 791 grants to the governing bodies of certain metropolitan rapid transit authorities and regional transportation authorities the right to commission peace officers. Such peace officers shall enforce all state and local laws. The act removes the authority of governing boards to set criminal penalties.

HOUSE BILL 943
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 943 amends current statutes and adds several new sections to state law pertaining to certain local transit authorities in which the rate of sales and use tax is one percent. At present only Houston's and Austin's authorities meet this specification.

For both Austin and Houston, the act amends the method of removal of transportation authority board members. For Austin only, it: (1) enacts a new law concerning audit requirements; (2) directs the board to establish transportation services for handicapped individuals; (3) directs the board to establish programs to encourage participation in contracts with minority or disadvantaged individuals; and (4) provides for accountability reviews and the application of sunset provisions.

The bill further adds a new section relating to the withdrawal of certain cities and areas from the Austin area's transit authority. The new provisions outline election requirements and provide for the repayment of all financial obligations owed by authorities by those areas withdrawing from contracts.

House Bill 943 provides procedures for special elections to decrease sales and use taxes in the Houston area's authority.

Certain provisions of House Bill 943 are revised by Senate Bill 79, 70th Legislature, 2nd Called Session.

HOUSE BILL 2008
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2008 was enacted in response to the need for regional economic development facilities and coordinated mass public transportation to enhance the economic development of regional areas. To facilitate the establishment of such facilities, the act increases the powers granted to certain metropolitan rapid transit authorities and provides for funding to finance projects that create jobs and stimulate local economies.

The bill's provisions apply to transit authorities created before January 1, 1980, whose principal city has a population of less than 1,200,000. At present only San Antonio's transit authority meets these specifications.

If approved by the governing bodies of a transit authority and its principal city, the authority may establish regional economic development facilities as part of a station or terminal complex. As defined by this act, such facilities include those used for conventions, entertainment, and sporting events.

Under provisions for special elections, funding for the facilities may be derived from sales and use tax increases approved and adopted by voters. House Bill 2008 establishes a time period in which the tax increase must be used solely for regional economic development facilities; after five years, another election shall be held to determine whether the increased tax rate shall continue in effect to be used for other transit projects, or be decreased to its previous level.

After receiving required approval, a transit authority may construct, maintain, operate, and regulate public parking areas within its boundaries, as well as collect fees for their use.

House Bill 2008 further authorizes certain municipalities and unincorporated areas to withdraw from transit authorities covered under this act following voter initiation for an election and voter approval at that election.

HOUSE BILL 2014
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2014 expands the authorized use of funds from the discretionary program of the public transportation fund. Its provisions allow local governments in rural areas that directly or by contract operate public transportation systems to receive funding from this source for ridesharing and van pooling activities.
HOUSE BILL 2400
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

House Bill 2400 adds several new statutes pertaining to the creation, organization, and operation of regional transportation authorities. The legislation applies only to metropolitan transit authorities in the Dallas/Fort Worth area.

“Light rail mass transit system” is defined and exempted from existing laws governing the design, construction, and operation of other railway systems. Other new provisions subject certain authority officials and board members to more specific conflict of interest statutes than those previously established for authority officials and board members.

The act allows certain authorities to adopt programs to increase participation in public contract awards by minority and women-owned enterprises. If the programs are adopted, authorities must also provide programs to assist such businesses wishing to participate in the bidding process.

House Bill 2400 declares regional transportation authorities covered under its provisions to be local units of government under the Texas Tort Claims Act, and authorizes such authorities to develop commercial insurance and self-insurance programs.

For the purpose of financing transportation services, bond elections to authorize pledges for sales and use tax revenues are provided for. The act further clarifies the investment powers of authorities and specifies the types of investment programs in which they may participate.

SENATE BILL 212
EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

Senate Bill 212 relates to confirmation elections for subregional transportation authorities in contiguous cities and changes provisions concerning population requirements.

SENATE BILL 647
EFFECTIVE: 6-19-87

Senate Bill 647 requires voter approval before certain transportation authorities may issue obligations payable from sales tax revenues and having a maturity longer than five years. Certain exceptions are provided.

SENATE BILL 1478
EFFECTIVE: 6-1-87

State law requires that, unless a governing board of a metropolitan rapid transit authority calls a confirmation and tax election within three years of the effective date of the ordinance creating the authority, the authority ceases to exist at the end of the three-year period. Senate Bill 1478 provides that, with the consent of the board, a rapid transit authority may be abolished by the principal city that created it prior to the expiration date or the confirmation and tax election.

SENATE BILL 79 (2nd C.S.)
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

Current law permits a change in the local sales and use tax rate through action of a transit authority’s board or by an election forced by the petition of qualified voters. Senate Bill 79 delineates the requirements for such petitions and elections. The act also provides for the review of certain metropolitan transit authorities confirmed by tax election.

Driver’s Licenses, Vehicle Titles, Registration, and Inspection

HOUSE BILL 1190
EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87

House Bill 1190 establishes a new designation to be printed on driver’s licenses and personal identification certificates to indicate clearly that the licensee or certificate holder is under the age of 21. The special designation identifies persons between the ages of 18 and 21 years old, and makes the illegal reproduction of licenses more difficult.
HOUSE BILL 1610

EFFECTIVE: 6-18-87

HOUSE AUTHOR: Schlueter
SENATE SPONSOR: Barrientos

For the purpose of defraying certain administrative costs, state law requires that a specified portion of the fees charged to motor vehicle owners for safety inspections must be paid by inspection stations to the Department of Public Safety for each inspection certificate furnished to the department. Current department regulations require that advance payment for certificates be made by inspection stations.

House Bill 1610 provides that if such prepayment has been made, inspection stations may waive the safety inspection fee that would otherwise be charged to motor vehicle owners, thus allowing stations to provide free inspections for elderly and disabled customers.

SENATE BILL 161

EFFECTIVE: 8-31-87

SENATE AUTHOR: Caperton
HOUSE SPONSOR: T. Smith

Senate Bill 161 prohibits the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation from releasing information contained in vehicle registration records in response to telephone inquiries by license number, except if the request is from certain officials and is for official purposes. The department is authorized to sell magnetic tapes of information contained in the basic driver's license record file. The information is limited to name, address, and date of birth, and purchasers are required to delete names of persons so requesting. The department is specifically prohibited from providing class-type listings, except for official governmental purposes.

SENATE BILL 939

EFFECTIVE: 1-1-88

SENATE AUTHOR: Edwards
HOUSE SPONSOR: McWilliams

Senate Bill 939 provides for the registration and regulation of all-terrain vehicles. It directs the governor to designate a division of his staff or a state agency to establish an all-terrain vehicle operator education and certification program, with the program to be financed through safety fees paid at the time of off-highway registration. Persons operating the vehicles on public property must be taking a safety course, under the direct supervision of an adult who has a safety certificate, or hold a safety certificate. The act includes rules for crossing highways, for operating the vehicles, and requiring specific equipment. An offense for violating the registration and operating provisions of the act is a Class C misdemeanor.

The act requires the suspension of driver’s licenses and motor vehicle registrations following a second or subsequent conviction for failure to have mandatory coverage, rather than the first; lowers the period of time for which proof of financial responsibility must be maintained; and increases the fees for reinstatement of licenses and registrations.

House Bill 1294 further increases the amount of property damage that must be sustained in certain accidents before accident reports are required to be submitted to the Department of Public Safety. Another new provision relates to the authority granted to the department to release accident reports for insurance purposes.

The notice provision is slightly altered by House Bill 135, 70th Legislature, 2nd Called Session.

This provision becomes effective on January 1, 1988.

Another provision of House Bill 135, which goes into effect on October 20, 1987, eliminates the 30-day deadline established for the Department of Public Safety to notify a person that his driver's license and motor vehicle registration are suspended. Courts may dismiss only one charge for each course completed and are authorized to require fees not exceeding $10 from defendants for administrative purposes.

The act directs the Department of Public Safety to establish standards for ignition interlock devices, and exempts from their required use certain persons with license restrictions who operate motor vehicles as part of their employment and who carry proof that the employer knows of the driving privilege restriction. House Bill 655 further creates the offense of tampering with such devices, and establishes penalties for conviction of the offense.

EFFECTIVE: 9-1-87
HOUSE AUTHOR: Barton

House Bill 915, which amends several areas of state law relating to the loss of driving privileges, clarifies existing law and adds new grounds for the revocation and suspension of driver’s licenses.

The act provides for an indefinite period for revocation of licenses, which may not be probated, and exempts automatic suspensions for cases such as driving while intoxicated from the time limit requirement established for other suspensions.
With regard to occupational licenses granted for essential need, House Bill 915 allows the use of the court order as a restricted license for a certain period and deletes language relating to the number of hours per day such licenses may be used. Convictions for offenses resulting in automatic license suspensions shall be final convictions even if probated or suspended.

The bill provides for appeals hearings to the courts, after cancellation, suspension, or revocation of a license in an administrative hearing. The filing of a petition of appeal abates the administrative order until final judgment. The act also allows the Department of Public Safety to appeal an administrative hearing decision to county court.

House Bill 1071 extends the authority of municipal and justice courts with regard to cases involving traffic violations committed by certain minors. The act allows such courts to hear cases concerning violations of law dealing with vehicle registration, license plates, driver's licenses, motorcycle helmets, financial responsibility requirements, and parking spaces designated for the handicapped.

HOUSE BILL 1300
HOUSE AUTHOR: T. Smith
SENATE SPONSOR: Caperton

House Bill 1300 amends existing state law relating to the suspension of driver's licenses and to educational programs for persons convicted of driving while intoxicated. Among its provisions, the bill directs the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse to provide training to providers and to administer the certification of approved educational programs.

A person may be ordered to attend an educational program on a second or subsequent offense. Courts who require program attendance a second time must automatically suspend the licenses of defendants who have previously been convicted and required to attend such courses as a condition of their probation. In certain cases and on notice that an educational program has been required of a person, the Department of Public Safety is authorized to suspend driving privileges, even if the courts have not done so.

HOUSE BILL 1646
HOUSE AUTHOR: Cooper
SENATE SPONSOR: Uribe

House Bill 1646 establishes penalties for persons, corporations, or receivers who do not comply with the restrictions placed on permits for overweight, overlong, or oversized trucks operated on state highways. Criminal penalties of fines or imprisonment are provided for first, second, and third convictions. In cases involving corporations that do not comply, provisions with regard to imprisonment do not apply, but double fines are imposed.

House Bill 1646 also grants to port-of-entry supervisors or inspectors employed by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission the authority to weigh motor vehicles that may be overloaded and to prohibit the entry of such trucks into the state, if found to be in excess of the allowable maximum gross weight.

HOUSE BILL 1989
HOUSE AUTHOR: J. Harris
SENATE SPONSOR: Brown

House Bill 1989 creates a new offense regarding the regulation of motor vehicle license plates by making the intentional alteration of numbers, letters, or other identifiable marks on license plates a Class B misdemeanor.
HOUSE BILL 2608

In counties in which court-approved teen court programs are operated, House Bill 2608 authorizes courts to dismiss charges against minors who have violated laws prohibiting driving while intoxicated if written evidence is presented showing the successful completion of a teen court program by defendants. Once dismissed, the charges may not be included on a person’s driving record.

Minors must meet certain requirements to qualify for participation in this dismissal of charges program, and a 90-day time period is established for teen court program completion and the submission of evidence to the courts. The act also provides for fees for the administration of this dismissal of charges program.

SENATE BILL 440

Senate Bill 440 creates offenses for falsely swearing to or affirming information in a driver’s license or certificate application, and for intentionally or knowingly using a driver’s license or certificate containing false information. Offenses are classified as Class C, Class B, and Class A misdemeanors.

SENATE BILL 515

Senate Bill 515 adds provisions concerning the dismissal of certain misdemeanor traffic charges on completion of a driving safety course. It requires that defendants are to be advised of their right to complete such a course in order to have charges dismissed; it also requires defendants to plead no contest or guilty and to present specific information to the court concerning taking a driving safety course; and it provides for court administration fees.

Offenses for driving 25 miles per hour or more over the posted speed limit may not be dismissed by completion of a driving safety course.

The court may only dismiss one charge for completion of each course.

Statutes are prohibited from canceling or increasing premiums because of offenses that are dismissed after driving safety courses are completed.

The Department of Public Safety is directed to administer rules relating to driving safety courses, and advertising about the availability of courses is restricted near the courts with jurisdiction in such matters.

SENATE BILL 764

Under state law, an offense is committed by persons who operate aircraft equipped with illegal fuel tanks in violation of federal requirements. Senate Bill 764 expands the definition of “operate,” making it a third-degree felony to use, intend to use, or authorize the use of such illegally equipped aircraft.

Miscellaneous

HOUSE BILL 423

House Bill 423 grants authority to peace officers to remove parked vehicles from highways under certain specified circumstances.

HOUSE BILL 497

House Bill 497 amends state law that currently allows the Department of Public Safety to issue personal identification certificates by requiring the department now to issue personal identification cards. The act provides the same penalty for the felony of illegally reproducing and selling a personal identification card as for illegally reproducing and selling a driver’s license.

Unless used as proof of ability to operate a motor vehicle, the new cards must be accepted by individuals or businesses in the same manner as a driver’s license.
Under prior law, it was illegal for a person, firm, association, or corporation to remove or alter a serial number or other distinguishing identification mark from a tractor or farm implement and to offer such an item for sale.

House Bill 1939 amends prior law to add “special mobile equipment” to the list of equipment required to have distinguishing identification marks or serial numbers. The act also makes it a Class A misdemeanor offense to possess with intent to deliver to another an item valued at less than $750 and a felony of the third degree if the value of the property is $750 or more. Items found to be in violation of this act are now subject to seizure by peace officers. If the rightful owner of the item is located, he is required to place a serial number on the item within 30 days after reclaiming the property. If the owner is unknown, the item shall be forfeited to the state where it can be used for official purposes or sold at public auction after being affixed with a property inventory control number.

House Bill 117 clarifies language in existing law and adds new provisions relating to the authority of peace officers and members of the Department of Public Safety to remove or require the removal of illegally stopped vehicles from a highway, street, or road. The act requires that owners be liable for towing and storage fees, and provides for county licensing of towing and storage companies in certain unincorporated areas.

House Bill 117 also prohibits probation of the suspension or revocation of a motor vehicle license in appeal cases involving the refusal to submit to chemical tests for intoxication.

APPENDIX A

II. TEXT OF ITEM VETO PROCLAMATION,
GENERAL APPROPRIATIONS ACT

Senate Bill 1, the General Appropriations Bill, has reached my desk for action, having been duly certified by the Comptroller of Public Accounts pursuant to Article III, Section 49a of the Texas Constitution. It authorizes an expenditure of $38.3 billion in total funds and $24.04 billion in general revenue funds for fiscal 1988-89, after rider adjustments.

The Texas Legislature this year worked through a regular session and two special sessions in an historic effort to control government spending and attempt to set priorities. There is no question that much blood, sweat and tears were shed in this effort, and I wish to commend Lieutenant Governor Hobby and Speaker Lewis on their willingness to work with me. I would also like to recognize the members of the Senate Finance Committee and the House Appropriations Committee for their hard work over the last seven months, and the members of the Conference Committee who drafted the final product now before me in the form of Senate Bill 1. But most important of all I believe all Texans owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to those courageous members of the House of Representatives who fought tirelessly on the House floor to hold state spending to a fiscally responsible level.

For two and a half weeks I have reviewed this budget. It is the critical product of the Legislature’s seven-month effort. While I commend the Legislature and its leadership for their efforts, there are places that can stand additional scrutiny and additional economies. It is in that spirit that I exercise my constitutional prerogative of line item veto so that modest advances are made in pursuit of fiscal discipline and budgetary integrity.

My line item vetoes, totaling $167.4 million, will include the elimination of individual aircraft operations in specific agencies. The intent is to both save Texas taxpayers significant sums of money, while at the same time encouraging agencies to utilize the Aircraft Pooling Board.

In another line item veto, I am removing a mischievous measure aptly entitled the “Doomsday Amendment.” This measure is nothing but a crude attempt at legislative and political blackmail, unbecoming of our Texas legislative process. It is hoped that the thinking and the tactics that produced such an insidious measure will be exorcised prior to the 71st Legislative Session.

I have long believed that the systems offices throughout our college and university systems are not fully incorporated into their respective institutions. One veto reflects a recommendation originally made in the Policy Budget presented to the Texas Legislature in February. To directly quote from that report: “As an economy measure, I recommend individual institutions allocate funds from their budget as a substitute for direct revenue funding of the system offices. Beside saving money, I hope this system change will have the positive effect of making system offices more sensitive to the needs of their respective institutions.”

Additional veto items include reductions in administrative and bureaucratic costs in the Department of Human Services, while other savings are found in higher education and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. While a sharp eye was focused on savings, a constant sensitivity to services was maintained throughout the budget review process.

Our state government is in a period of dramatic transition. As never before, each agency, board and commission must review every expense, must prioritize every program and must ensure to the people of Texas that every dollar spent is done so with maximum efficiency and effectiveness. The efforts we have begun this year must continue at full speed into the next biennium and beyond.

The time has passed when state employees can enjoy the privilege of flying in almost empty agency-owned aircraft. However, some agencies still abuse this privilege by flying in state planes to cities served by commercial airlines and by flying at passenger levels far below plane capacity. In enacting stronger restrictions in Section 19, Article V of Senate Bill 1, the Legislature showed that it recognized the existing problems. However, the language is not strong enough to correct those problems.

Each agency affected by this veto is being requested to transfer its aircraft to the State Aircraft Pooling Board as soon as possible. In addition, agencies with aircraft authorization which do not have line item appropriations for aircraft use will be requested to take similar action. The Department of Public Safety, the Parks and Wildlife Department and the Department of Corrections, because of the unique needs of their law enforcement activities, continuation of funding for aircraft is necessary.
APPENDIX A

ARTICLE I - EXECUTIVE AND ADMINISTRATIVE DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES

Office of the Attorney General

Rider 22.
The Child Support Enforcement program received direct appropriations of $44,035,928. This appropriated amount is adequate for enforcement; additional appropriation to this program is unnecessary.

Office of the Governor

Rider 20.
The 69th Legislature, 3rd Called Session, eliminated the direct appropriation to the Governor’s Commission on Physical Fitness and directed the Governor to provide adequate funding to phase out operations of the agency from Deficiency and Emergency Grants. Since the 70th Legislature made no direct appropriation to the Governor’s Commission on Physical Fitness this rider is unnecessary.

State Department of Highways and Public Transportation

Item 6.
Construction of a new administrative office building is unnecessary at this time. The Greer Office Building which currently houses the central office staff has recently undergone major repair and rehabilitation and is adequate in these times of fiscal restraint.

Railroad Commission

Item 8.
The primary purpose of the Texas Petroleum Research Committee is to promote the development, utilization, and conservation of energy natural resources through research publications and presentations conducted by the University of Texas and Texas A&M University. These research funds duplicate other resources available through the Higher Education Coordinating Board and direct appropriations to the two institutions. Additional funds may also be available through grants awarded under the Oil Overcharge Restitutionary Act.

Public Utility Commission

Item 3.b.
The Consumer Information and Response activities include investigation, resolution, and reporting of consumer complaints and utility tariff compliance. Other functions include the distribution of consumer information and responses to telephone and written requests. The 68th Legislature established a separate Office of Public Utility Counsel to represent the residential and small commercial consumer. The activities of the Consumer Information and Response section duplicate functions which are performed by the Office of the Public Utility Counsel, and veto of this item eliminates unnecessary duplication in state services.

ARTICLE II - HEALTH, WELFARE AND REHABILITATION AGENCIES

Texas Department of Health

Item 13c.
In 1985, the Legislature established the Cancer Council as part of the effort to provide for cancer research, cancer prevention, and medical care for cancer victims. The Cancer Registry was established in the Health Department to maintain a central data bank of accurate, precise and current information regarding cancer in Texas. The Cancer Registry function should be transferred to the Texas Cancer Council.

Department of Human Services

Item 7.g. and Item 8.g.
I support these two programs wholeheartedly. The appropriation bill pattern adopted for this agency consolidated central administrative functions into one line item, making it impossible to veto selected administrative functions. However, there remains in the Department of Human Services budget sufficient funds to administer these programs, but attention must be given to an allocation of resources making administrative functions a lesser priority than the delivery of human services. For example, funding for these crucial programs can come from any of the following areas: computer acquisitions and computer maintenance, field management support administration, aircraft operations, or renovations and capital outlay.

Item 12.b.
This activity in the Vendor Drug program should be restructured and conducted more efficiently. Of the ten largest medicaid prescription drug programs in the United States, only California and New Jersey have pharmacists in the field in numbers close to that in Texas. Texas has one of the lowest average prescription drug expenditures per medicaid drug utilizer; a more centralized quality assurance and consultation function will continue that effort.

Item 15.b.
This item creates a separate appropriation for an already existing function in the Adult Protective Services program. There is sufficient funding available in line item 15.a. and a separate appropriation under this program is not required. This, in conjunction with the necessary policy of holding the expansion of programs to a minimum, is the reason for veto.

Item 19.
This line item appropriates additional funds to implement the department's sunset legislation. This appropriation is not necessary because the budget increased over 1986-1987 levels and can absorb this function.

Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation
Page II-52, Rider Provision (11)
This rider appropriates $3,058,000 to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for life safety construction improvements and other items from the sale of land and property. The Department has been authorized to issue bonds totaling $47,142,500 and received a general revenue appropriation of $8,671,802 for Capital Outlay and Construction. These two items include life safety code construction and repairs. Therefore, funds available are adequate to provide for the necessary construction and repairs to meet program needs for the 1988-89 biennium.

Texas Central Education Agency Programs -
Item I.i.(2) Loss to Section 16.252(e)
Under a funding provision in House Bill 72, the state subsidizes school districts experiencing a loss in property values greater than eight percent from the prior year. The statute allows the Commissioner to adjust for such losses in value. The majority of these property value losses have occurred in districts with greater than state average wealth. Conversely, there are no provisions whereby the state benefits when districts enjoy large property value increases. Eliminating this item will mean that all districts' local fund assignments will be based on their prior year property value, and the Commissioner will still be able to make adjustments for economic or natural disasters.

Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board -
Item 21.
The second largest item of expenditure for institutions of higher education is utilities. Recent studies verify potential savings in utility costs but note lack of effort and incentive by the institutions. One new incentive added by the 70th Legislature is a rider encouraging an outside professional energy management audit. This appropriation represents only a small percent of 1986 utility expenses, budgeted for utility cost overruns. It is inappropriate to budget for excessive expenditures where savings are possible; such a practice serves as a disincentive for real savings. The lump sum appropriations for higher education allows complete management flexibility on individual campuses, and allows each institution to set spending priorities. Given this new flexibility in addition to appropriation increases, institutions can adjust funding where needed and should not require additional general revenue to pay for inefficiency.

Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board -

Rider 20.
This rider enables institutions of higher education to carry forward unexpended balances from funds appropriated for shortfalls in 1986 educational and general income estimates. However, a report by the state auditor indicates that sufficient money was allocated in 1987 to institutions of higher education. In addition, these institutions were given the ability to carry forward 1986 unexpended balances for use in 1987. Furthermore, the 70th legislature made significant changes in financing of institutions of higher education. These changes include lump sum appropriations with component transferability and complete removal of educational and general estimates from the method of finance. Certain border schools may now allow foreign nationals to pay resident tuition. All of these changes allow institutions additional flexibility, designed to ensure sufficient financial resources during the 1988-89 biennium.

Rider 22.
The Select Committee on Higher Education recently finished a complete study of higher education in Texas. The committee heard many hours of testimony and is well aware of the special needs in South Texas. Should the Coordinating Board decide further study is needed, it may be financed with funds appropriated to the Coordinating Board and local funds.

Public/Junior Community Colleges -
Page III-35

Item 50.
Public/Junior Community Colleges in Texas currently receive more per capita funding than any other state in the nation. Additional increases in appropriations made to these schools exceed what is reasonable for good public policy in these difficult times. The intent of this veto is not to eliminate group insurance premiums for staff. Staff group insurance premiums for these colleges should be paid through funds allocated to each individual school.

Rider 21.
All public/junior community colleges are funded by formula; funds are distributed in a lump sum grant to each institution, and colleges are not allowed to bring forward unexpended balances from year to year. Any exception to this policy would be imprudent.

University of Texas System Administration -

Texas A&M University System Administrative and General Offices -
Page III-52

Lamar University System Office -
Page III-66

University of Houston System Administration -

Administrative offices are not a separate branch of a university’s system, but an integral part of each institution’s structure, supporting individual institutions and being supported by them in turn. It is necessary for administrations to be responsive to the needs of individual institutions, and separate funding for these offices is contrary to that policy. The University of Houston System Office receives the largest general revenue appropriation in this category; a veto of the second year only will allow time to implement this needed change.
Rider 2.
Article 7, Section 18 of the Texas Constitution provides that institutions within the Texas A&M University System may receive funding for repair and rehabilitation of buildings from bonds issued using the Texas A&M University share of the Permanent University Fund. The use of general revenue funds for this purpose is unnecessary.

Texas Tech University Museum

Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum
Page III-81

Sam Houston Memorial Museum
Page III-84

Elimination of funding of these three museums in the second year will allow their institutions of higher education to establish priorities for their funding and to involve the communities in which they are located to share in the responsibilities for their existence. A more efficient method of funding these items is user fees, contributions, and grants.

ARTICLE VII - Page VII - 12

Rarely has any action more justly deserved condemnation than the type of rank intimidation attempted in this insidious provision. The reasons for the veto of this particular item are more fully stated in the introduction. Senate Bill 1 was received by the Governor’s Office less than ten days prior to adjournment of the Second Called Session of the Seventieth Legislature. I have signed Senate Bill 1, which shall be filed with the Secretary of State, together with this Proclamation stating my objections to individual items of appropriation therein. In accordance with Article IV, Section 14 of the Texas Constitution, individual items of appropriation objected to shall be of no force or effect. The remaining portion of the bill shall be effective according to its terms.

The Secretary of State shall take notice of this action and notify the Legislature.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the seal of the State to be affixed hereto at Austin, this 6th day of August, 1987.

In the Texas Legislature, the terms author and sponsor have distinctive meanings. The author is the legislator who introduces a legislative measure in the house of origin. The sponsor is the legislator who carries or is responsible for the passage of the measure in the other chamber after the measure has been passed in the house of origin.

The following is a list of state senators and representatives with the bills that they authored and sponsored and that were passed and sent to the governor during the regular and two called sessions. An asterisk (*) indicates a bill vetoed by the governor.
