DIGEST

Currently, the use of consumer reporting agencies is expanding quickly as consumer credit transactions become the rule rather than the exception in consumer purchasing. Consumer credit reports by consumer reporting agencies include certain credit information used to establish a consumer's eligibility for credit, insurance, or employment. There are concerns that there is a need to ensure that consumer reporting agencies exercise their responsibilities with impartiality, fairness, and consideration. This bill set forth regulations for consumer reporting agencies and provides civil penalties.

PURPOSE

As proposed, S.B. 27 sets forth regulations for consumer reporting agencies and provides civil penalties.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
