AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The 77th Texas Legislature, Regular Session, 2001, passed S.B. 1074 to outlaw the controversial practice of racial profiling by law enforcement officers. Under that legislation, an annual report is issued by law enforcement agencies. Since the bill's passage, racial profiling continues to be a topic of discussion. Racial profiling is a national issue.

Subsequent meetings with law enforcement and advocacy groups have identified areas of existing law that needs to be addressed. Annual reports have not made it possible to determine whether racial profiling exists, but those reports indicate that there are disproportionate statistics associated with stops and searches of minorities when compared to other drivers. There has also been a failure by some law enforcement agencies to make the annual report required by current statute available to the public.

The goal of S.B. 1120 is to address those concerns and to refine the system of data gathering and analysis to be used in determining possible incidences of racial profiling.

Presently there is no centralized repository for the collection of reports required by state law.

As proposed, S.B. 1120 creates a statewide repository for the annual reports submitted by law enforcement agencies and collects a fee on court procedures to fund the repository. The bill also requires the development of a standardized reporting format. S.B. 1120 requires data from the driver of a vehicle only to be reportable. S.B. 1120 requires data to be collected whether or not a citation is issued. S.B. 1120 has data reporting and collection requirements that differ from present law. The bill makes the chief administrator of a law enforcement agency, whether elected, employed, or appointed, responsible for submitting the annual report to the statewide repository in addition to local governing bodies.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
