AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The Development Corporation Act, recently codified as Subtitle (C)(1), Local Government Code, is the organizing law used by hundreds of Texas municipalities to foster economic development. Currently, the term "inland port" is not included in the definition of a transportation facility under provisions governing development corporations. Since the passage of H.B. 3440, 80th Legislature, Regular Session, 2007, relating to development corporations and airport facilities, economic development professionals have learned that including this term in the definition of a transportation facility would help to retain and create additional economic development projects across Texas.

S.B. 2052 amends current law relating to projects that may be undertaken by development corporations for the development, retention, or expansion of certain transportation facilities.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
