AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Under current Texas law, a judge may order an offender convicted of family violence to pay up to $100 to a family violence shelter center as a condition of community supervision. Family violence centers are struggling to provide services as federal grants and charitable donations decline.

As proposed, S.B. 82 makes the current fee authorized to be imposed as a condition of community supervision for an offense involving family violence mandatory and allows non-residential family violence centers, in addition to family violence residential shelters, to receive funding generated by that fee. S.B. 82 also adjusts the amounts of other fees including fees for copies of driving records, pretrial intervention programs, teen court programs, a supervision fee, and adds a pretrial intervention administrative fee.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.

SECTION BY SECTION ANALYSIS

SECTION 1. Amends Section 11(h), Article 42.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, to require, rather than authorize, a judge, if the judge grants community supervision to a person convicted of an offense under Title 5 (Offenses Against the Person), Penal Code, that the court determines involves family violence, to require the person to pay $100 to a family violence center, rather than make one payment in an amount not to exceed $100 to a family violence shelter center, that receives state or federal funds and that serves the county in which the court is located. Defines "family violence center."
