AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

When foreign students enrolled in Texas universities, and who are in the United States on a student visa, drop out or withdraw from institutions of higher education, those institutions are not required to immediately notify the federal Student Exchange and Visitor Information System (SEVIS).

Federal law and regulations require institutions to report to SEVIS a change in a student's personal information or academic status within 21 days.

S.B. 1009 requires public institutions of higher education to notify SEVIS immediately if a student attending on a student visa withdraws from the institution or withdraws from all courses in which the student is enrolled. More timely reporting will help ensure that the SEVIS reporting system is more accurate and complete.

As proposed, S.B. 1009 amends current law relating to requiring public institutions of higher education to notify the federal Student Exchange and Visitor Information System regarding the withdrawal or nonattendance of certain foreign students.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
