AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Currently, digital transmission equipment used by television stations is exempt from sales tax. Similar equipment used by radio stations was also exempt from sales tax until 2010, when the comptroller of public accounts of the State of Texas issued a ruling that the statute did not apply to radio equipment. At that time, many radio groups in urban areas had already purchased this equipment and taken advantage of the sales tax exemption, but many rural and smaller radio stations had not.

H.B. 2507 clarifies that digital transmission equipment purchased for use by radio stations is exempt from sales tax.

H.B. 2507 amends current law relating to a sales and use tax exemption for certain equipment used for digital audio broadcasting.
