AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The Texas Legislative Council (TLC) is required by law (Section 323.007, Government Code) to carry out a complete nonsubstantive revision of the Texas statutes. The process involves reclassifying and rearranging the statutes in a more logical order, employing a numbering system and format that will accommodate future expansion of the law, eliminating repealed, invalid, duplicative, and other ineffective provisions, and improving the draftsmanship of the law if practicable--all toward promoting the stated purpose of making the statutes "more accessible, understandable, and usable" without altering the sense, meaning, or effect of the law.

As part of the duties relating to continuing statutory revision, TLC:

- (1) monitors the acts of each session and proposes nonsubstantive codifications of laws that should be included in previously enacted codes;
- (2) identifies duplicate official citations in enacted codes and proposes appropriate renumbering;
- (3) identifies organizational, reference, and terminology problems in enacted codes and nonsubstantively corrects those problems; and
- (4) makes necessary corrections to enacted codes to conform the codes to the source law from which they were derived.

Section 43, Article III, Texas Constitution, specifically recognized this type of bill as a "revision" for purposes of the legislature's obligation under that section to provide for the revising of laws. As such a revision, S.B. 1296 is not subject to the constitutional rule prohibiting more than one subject in a single bill or the rule prohibiting amendments by reference.

This bill has the purposes of:

- (1) codifying without substantive change various statutes that were omitted from enacted codes;
- (2) renumbering sections and articles of codes that duplicate section and article numbers;
- (3) correcting without substantive change organizational, reference, and terminology problems; and
- (4) making necessary corrections to enacted codes to conform the codes to the source law from which they were derived.

S.B. 1296 amends current law relating to nonsubstantive additions to and corrections in enacted codes, to the nonsubstantive codification or disposition of various laws omitted from enacted codes, and to conforming codifications enacted by the 83rd Legislature to other Acts of that legislature.

[Note: While the statutory reference in this bill is to the Texas Department of Health (TDH), the following amendments affect the Department of State Health Services, as the successor agency to TDH.]

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
