AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

This bill would ensure judges are informed of any civil protective order issued to protect a party or child in a divorce or any suit affecting the parent-child relationship.

Section 6.405, Family Code, currently requires divorce pleadings to include a copy of a current family violence protective order (PO).

Although current law requires the attachment of family violence POs, it excludes all other POs issued based on sexual assault or abuse, stalking, or human trafficking and magistrates' orders for emergency protection. As a result, judges may lack sufficient information about dangers to parties and their children. This puts survivors of childhood sexual abuse, sexual assault, domestic violence, and stalking at risk.

This bill requires all divorce or suits affecting the parent-child relationship pleadings to include copies of any PO currently in effect to protect a party or a party's child.

C.S.S.B. 454 exempts the Attorney General's Office as a party required to comply with the pleadings. The Attorney General's Office in many cases does not have access to copies of such orders and this requirement could burden the pleading process.

C.S.S.B. amends current law relating to certain protective orders in a suit for dissolution of marriage or a suit affecting the parent-child relationship, including a proceeding to adjudicate parentage.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
